FOREWORD

One would not imagine the work entailed in the compiling a book of this character, especially for me, as my time is so divided in various lines of business, in order to satisfy my current demands. I have tried to establish a method of a real effective medium of advertisement, and at the same time to collect a Directory of the colored professional, clerical, skilled and business people. I aim to uplift men and to give them credit for what they do. I am certain I have not reached all of them, but owing to the fact that such an undertaking is so broad in its scope, that it would entail a great expense and a number of clerical assistants to make it complete, therefore I ask that the public will be charitable in their criticisms.

I wish to thank my many friends both white and colored for their kind favors in assisting me in the compiling of this book.

Very respectfully,

ROBT. W. COLEMAN.

You are deserving of all praise for the enterprise you have shown in getting out each year a full and comprehensive directory of the Colored Professional, Clerical, Skilled and Business Men and Women of your City. A like publication ought to be gotten out in all of the large business centers of the country. It would be largely to the advantage of the race in the commercial world.

A FRIEND OF THE RACE

PRESIDENT J. O. SPENCER, PH. D.

In an article which appeared in many of our papers, the Dean of Morgan College gives the following estimate of President Spencer's work for colored people:

"Fortunately for President Spencer and for the work at Baltimore, he had large experience in education and in working among colored races before he came to Morgan. He served in Japan and in some of the best institutions of America. Fifteen years of hard and painstaking work at Morgan College have given him thorough knowledge of conditions and a firm grasp on the situation. He knows the people of the four Conferences, two white and two colored, and he knows Morgan College and its needs."

Dr. Spencer has also done much to improve the education of colored people in Maryland outside of Morgan College.

PRINCIPAL MASON A. HAWKINS.

The test of individual worth is measured not only by distinguished achievements of one particular period; indeed not only by evidences of sound scholarship and high technical or professional skill that secure recognition, but also by a progressive, constructive program that yields fruit consistently through a number of years.

Such has been the history of the administration of the present Principal of the High School. Since the time Prof. Hawkins assumed the office the school has shown a consistent development in those essentials that have put it into the ranks of the most progressive and efficient secondary schools in the country, and will keep it there. The course of study has been modified and greatly enriched so that it needs now only the physical adjunct of a new, commodious and adequate building in order to meet in a large degree the needs of the community which it serves. The responsibility for any failure of the present courses of study to meet in a large way the demands of the situation rests not with the Principal and his faculty, but with those powers that provide new school buildings. The organization of those auxiliary forces that do so much toward developing a healthy professional and academic atmosphere has been effected under his direction. Educational faculty meetings, in which the obligations of the teacher to the parents of the school, the need of broad vision and sympathy and the requirement of high professional skill are emphasized, are one of these important adjuncts.

It must be evident to any careful observer, too, that the interests of one with the deep insight and broad vision of Prof. Hawkins cannot be confined within school doors. So we find him president of the Colored Health Association of Maryland; a member of the Board of Provident Hospital; treasurer of the Association for Helping the Blind, and connected with a number of other institutions or activities of a charitable or philanthropic character.

And so one might go on indefinitely pointing out how the interest and influence of the present Principal of the High School touch almost every phase of the life of those people among whom and for whom he is working, and of whose race he is a distinguished member. However, enough has been said to show that Prof. Hawkins is a sound scholar, progressive educator and excellent administrator.

MR. ROBERT W. COLEMAN,
22 West Chase Street,
Baltimore, Md.

DEAR SIR—

In reply to your request for matter for publication in your Directory, I am sending the following matter:

This school is devoted to the preparation of teachers for the public schools of Baltimore City. Since its establishment in 1900, it has prepared nearly 400 teachers for the public schools of Baltimore.

The course is two years in length, and is based upon an approved High School Course of four years.

The required subjects include Psychology, History of Education, Theory of Teaching and the special methods appropriate to instruction in Mathematics, History, Geography, Nature Study, Language and Grammar, Reading, Literature, Hygiene, Manual Training, Physical Training and Drawing.

One-fourth of the course, one-half year, is devoted to practice teaching under criticism. During this time the pupil teacher receives compensation at the rate of one dollar per day.

The Board of Public School Commissioners awards a diploma to those students who complete the course in a satisfactory manner.

Graduates of this school are exempt from the academic examination prescribed by the Department of Education for untrained candidates. All candidates for positions in the elementary schools of Baltimore must take the professional examination in the first ten of the subjects named above.

Tuition is free to residents of Baltimore. Other students are required to pay an annual tuition fee of about $42.00. No charge is made for books or other material required in the course.

LESSONS IN PIANO-FORTE PLAYING, ORGAN,

ELEMENTARY THEORY AND HARMONY

1832 McCULLOH STREET, BALTIMORE, MD.

ARE YOU TALENTED IN MUSIC

Have you wanted to impart your soul feeling on the Violin and given up in despair

More than half of the people who have wanted to play the Violin have given it up as something impossible. Do you know the chief difficulty is a physical one, which according to history existed in the early days of all great artists. Do you know that I can tell you just what your difficulties are, and means of correcting errors physical or otherwise.

You should be taught to hold your Violin correctly, to finger accurately and bow properly. Unless you are taught these things in the beginning you will never play even to the satisfaction of your self.

Diagrams and self tutors will only add to your burden. Diagrams by a competent instructor will aid you. I studied and also teach the most satisfactory course, which is based on Psycho-Physiological Principles. Used in America's foremost college of music. Indorsed by the late S. Coleridge Taylor.

G. SYLVESTER MASON—Violinist, Teacher of Practical Violin Playing.

Father Uncles is a native of Baltimore and at one time taught school in Baltimore County. He decided to become a Catholic priest, and entered St. Hyacinth's College, Canada. He was educated for the priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary, this city. He is at present an instructor in Epiphany Apostolic College, Baltimore.

BISHOP JOHN HURST

Rt. Rev. John Hurst, presiding bishop of the Florida Conference, African Methodist Episcopal Church, and resident bishop of Baltimore District.

Probably no man in Baltimore has the confidence of the public in general more than has Bishop Hurst. In conjunction with his arduous duties as presiding officer of the Florida Conference of his denomination, he takes a keen interest in the civic affairs and is always in the forefront of any movement that has for its object the betterment of mankind. In a recent address before one of the conferences, the Bishop took occasion to forcefully criticize the conditions affecting the Negro in the South. The address was generally regarded as one of the most fearless expositions of conditions ever expressed by a colored man south of the Mason and Dixon Line.

Bishop John Hurst is one of the best known churchmen in the country. He is a member of a number of bodies, including the American Political and Social Science Association and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. In the last named body he is a member of the Executive Committee, as well as serving as a member of the Spingarn Medal Committee.

Bishop Hurst owes much of his success to his charming wife, Mrs. K. Bertha Hurst. Their only son, Benoni Price Hurst is an intern at Howard University. Bishop and Mrs. Hurst reside at 1808 McCulloh Street.

PROFESSOR KELLY MILLER.

Professor Kelly Miller is Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences of Howard University, and is thus placed in charge of nearly four hundred college men. This gives him a unique and conspicuous position in the educational world.

He is native of South Carolina, a graduate of Howard University, a sometime graduate student of Johns Hopkins University. As writer for newspapers and magazines, he has made substantial contributions to discussions of the race problem. He is author of "Race Adjustment," "Out of the House of Bondage" and joint author of "From Servitude to Service." Professor Kelly Miller contributed an important chapter on negro education for the Bureau of Education, and has published over one hundred thousand pamphlets bearing upon racial discussions. The most famous of these was "As to the Leopard Spots." Professor Miller is in great demand on the lecture platform before both white and colored audiences and his works are cited as authority both in Europe and America.

PROFESSOR GEORGE WILLIAM COOK of Howard University.

Professor Cook was born January 7, 1855, at Winchester, Va., and remained there until "Banks and Shields' Retreat" from the Shenandoah Valley, at which time his father took the family to Pennsylvania. Professor Cook spent nine years in the City of Harrisburg; then went to New York, and after three years residence came to Howard University, which he entered October 7, 1874. He has been connected with the university continuously since that time as a student, teacher and officer. This connection afforded him a rare opportunity of molding the characters of a large number of the aspiring and picked youth of this country at a most critical period in its history. And so well has he grasped this opportunity that he is universally loved and respected by several generations of Howardites scattered in all parts of the country.

He graduated from the preparatory department in 1877 and entered college, from which he graduated with the degree of A. B. in 1881, and was appointed instructor in the normal department and college department the same year. In 1886 he received the degree of A. M. from Howard. He graduated from the law department of the university with the degree of LL. B. in 1897 and LL. M. in 1898.

Professor Cook became principal of the normal department upon the death of Miss Martha Briggs in 1889, which position he held until 1900, when he was made Dean of the Commercial College. This position he holds at the present time.

In his present position as Secretary and Business Manager, to which he was elected in 1908, he has distinguished himself in a difficult and delicate situation. Much of the physical development and improvement which the grounds and buildings have undergone during the last decade are due to his energy, judgment and acquaintance with the needs of the university and the expenditure of its funds. On several occasions he has been designated as acting president by the president in his absence.

PROF. LEWIS B. MOORE, Ph. D.

PROF. LEWIS B. MOORE, Ph. D.

Professor Lewis B. Moore, Ph. D., the Founder and Dean of the Teachers College, also Professor of Philosophy and Education, Howard University, Washington, D. C., is a man of conspicuous position and high rank in the field of education and religion. He was born near Huntsville, Ala., studied in the schools of his native town and at Fisk University, where he received the A. B. degree in 1889.

His first choice was the legal profession, but while in college his attention was turned to the Gospel ministry and teaching. He established a church at Goodlettsville, Tenn., while in college. On graduation he was called to Philadelphia to organize a Young Men's Christian Association for colored men in that city. Thus he became the second regularly employed colored secretary in the world, Mr. W. A. Hunton having been appointed the year before. Here he laid the foundation for the now flourishing Y. M. C. A., operating in its newly-erected building at a cost of over $100,000.

During his secretaryship at Philadelphia he matriculated at the University of Pennsylvania, won from that ancient seat of learning the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, and thus became one of the small body of colored men possessing that degree. In 1895, just before receiving his degree, he was called to Howard University as a tutor. Here, because of his training and experience gained through work as a Y. M. C. A. secretary, his promotion was rapid. Two years after his appointment as tutor he was made assistant professor of Latin and Pedagogy. The following year he was promoted to full professorship, and in 1899 was made Dean and authorized to establish a college for the higher education of teachers.

He organized a summer school for teachers at Howard in 1904 which was attended by 204 teachers. The school was discontinued owing to administrative infelicities, resulting in the resignation of the President.

Dr. Moore visited Europe in 1906 to study educational methods in England, France, Germany and Denmark, thus enriching his knowledge in his own field of labor.

Though an eloquent minister, having served with success in the pulpit of the People's Congregational Church, and preached in many churches of our larger cities, he is, however, a teacher of teachers and a trainer of men. He brings to his work enthusiasm and careful, scholarly preparation which have been the basis of his large success. He has trained over three hundred teachers who occupy positions of usefulness and influence in many States of the Union. He is at present engaged in writing a psychology and history of philosophy. As educator, clergyman and lecturer, Dr. Moore is regarded by all who know him as an able scholar, careful administrative officer and a forceful and convincing speaker.

Rev. A. L. Gaines, D. D., pastor Waters A. M. E. Church; secretary of the Trustee Board of the Baltimore A. M. E. Conference, and business manager of the Baltimore Commonwealth.

Dr. Gaines was born in Georgia, received his grammar school training at Knox Institute, Athens, Ga.; his collegiate education at Atlanta (Ga.) University, and his theological training at Gammon School of Theology. He took post-graduate studies at Syracuse (N. Y.) University. He was ordained deacon in 1888 and elder in 1890. He has pastored churches in Atlanta, Ga.; Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va. He served as presiding elder in the Virginia Conference and before his assignment to his present charge pastored Bethel and Trinity, Baltimore. He was a member of the General Conferences of 1896-1900-1904-1908, and was elected to lead the Baltimore delegation at the Centennial General Conference, which convened in Philadelphia last May. He is at present a member of the General Board of Education of the A. M. E. Church.

Mr. H. M. Burkett, whose advertisement appears on page 20, is Baltimore's pioneer Real Estate Man of color. He is a Marylander by birth, a product of the Public Schools of Baltimore City, a graduate of Lincoln University, Pa., and of Howard University Law School, Washington, D. C. At the early age of 24, Mr. Burkett had finished both his college and law courses, and was a member of the Bar of the State of Indiana, where he practised for a year. About seventeen years ago he returned to Baltimore, where he saw the need of a colored man devoting his energies to real estate or the task of providing better homes for colored people. Up to this time the work of housing colored people had been largely in the hands of white brokers.

This new field of endeavor has been attended with much success, so much so, that it inspired a number of other colored men to enter this same field until now 25 or 30 colored men are engaged in the work. Mr. Burkett's chief endeavor has not only been to provide better housing conditions for colored people, but also to provide employment for some of the young men and women of the city, whose opportunities in the commercial world are limited. He is a Presbyterian in religion, an Independent in politics, a Mason by fraternity; untiring in effort, a financier by experience, fearless in speech, and honest by nature. He has organized two building and loan associations, and in March, 1916, headed a campaign for Provident Hospital which netted this institution nearly Five Thousand Dollars, of which institution he is now Treasurer.
