INTRODUCTORY

BY MR. E. C. WILLIAMS

Librarian, Howard University, Washington, D. C.

Formerly Librarian of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, and Principal, M Street High School, Washington, D. C.

One of the great differences between modern civilization and the ages that have gone before is to be noted in the use by many men of information compiled and published by one of their number. It is impossible to make even an approximate estimate of the time and energy saved to the human race by the application of such a process in modern life. Little by little men have learned the value of organization and co-operation, and have understood how to make use of the labors of their fellows, and today the extent to which this is done in any group or community is an accurate index of the state of advancement of that group.

For a long time after the Civil War the colored people in this country were "hewers of wood and drawers of water," and their business and industrial life was of the simplest kind. As the years passed slight changes were noted, and in very recent years the change has been most rapid, especially in the great urban centers. One of the recognized accompaniments of modern commercial and professional life and organization is the directory. In 1820 Bradstreet first published his famous commercial directory in New York. In 1913 the publisher of this work thought he saw the need of a directory for the colored business, professional and educational world of Baltimore, and later included other cities. That his thought was a good one is evidenced by the fact that in the years intervening since 1913 this work has been published each year and similar works have been compiled for other cities with large colored populations, in imitation of Mr. Coleman's idea.

One of the very interesting things about this directory is its compiler, himself well known in the cities which figure in its pages. Mr. Robert W. Coleman comes of good stock, being the son of A. B. Coleman, who, associated with the younger Frederick Douglass, helped to organize the colored Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth and Fifty-fifth regiments in Massachusetts during the dark days of the Civil War, and for this service received the thanks of the legislature of Boston. Mr. Coleman was born November 3rd, 1876, at 708 D Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. He is a brother to Mr. John H. Coleman, a prominent business man of Chicago, Ill., Dr. A. B. Coleman and Mrs. Daisy Coleman Arnold, of Washington, D. C., a cousin of Mrs. Laura Jones, of Tuskege Institute, and of the late Judge Robert H. Terrell, Wm. Terrell, Mrs. Phyllis Terrell Gaines, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Mary Terrell Tancil, of Chicago, Ill., and a relative of Dr. Frank Allen and Douglas Henry, of Pittsburgh, Pa., an uncle of Mrs. James A. Mitchell, wife of Detective James A. Mitchell, of St. Paul, Minn., and great uncle of Florence Harrold and James Mitchell. He married Miss Mary A. Mason, of Baltimore, who has been an indispensable figure in the life and activities of Mr. Coleman. Mr. Coleman has six children, all girls, Daisy G., Dorothy May, Louise F., Catherine M., Harriett E. and Roberta A. Misses Daisy and Dorothy are teachers in the public schools of Baltimore and Louise a student at Howard University.

Stricken after he reached adult manhood, with almost complete blindness, Mr. Coleman, though weighed down by the responsibility for the care of a large family, showed the stuff that was in him by learning a new trade, that of piano-tuning, and in his odd hours, at certain seasons of the year, collecting the advertising and other material for his directory in the cities concerned. His energy, courage and perseverance, under such a handicap, have been little short of marvelous. Mr. Coleman is a graduate of the Business Department of M Street High School, Washington. In his later years, under the administration of Rev. Williams' secretary, he was a member of the board of directors of the Baltimore branch of the Y. M. C. A. He organized the Maryland Association for Colored Blind, October 15th, 1913, which was reorganized May 3rd, 1925, as the Association of the Handicapped, Inc., which includes the blind, mute and crippled. April 13th, 1927, with the assistance of Mr. Marvin Eckford and others, he organized the South Baltimore Y Club at John Wesley A. M. E. Church for the purpose of erecting a Y. M. C. A.

The directory idea, in this new age of progress and expansion among the colored people, is capable of almost indefinite extension, and its possibilities are unlimited. It is our hope that the originator of the idea may some day realize his most ambitious dreams concerning it. With the assistance of and co-operation of the communities involved, not only in the way of advertising, but also in the furnishing of complete and accurate information, there is no reason why he should not do this, for the enterprise is certainly deserving of the most hearty and generous support of the public.

DEATH OF MRS. JAMES M. GREGORY

The death of Mrs. James M. Gregory in Baltimore on May 20 closed the active career of a remarkable life, one rare in its combination of qualities. She was a woman passionately devoted to her family and her home, yet just as devoted and vigilant in all those matters and interests that affected the race.

She was born at Braddock Heights near Frederick, Md.; a member of the Mohammitt family, well known in that section and in Baltimore. She attended school at Howard University where she met and later married Prof. Gregory, an instructor in Latin. After 25 years at Howard they went to Bordentown, N. J., where for 18 years they labored in laying the foundation and building up of the State Manual Training and Industrial School. Here they helped shape the lives of hundreds of young people just as they had in former years at Howard.

Shortly after Prof. Gregory's death in 1915, Mrs. Gregory took the training in Y. W. C. A. work and was placed during the World War in charge of the hostess house at Camp Alexander in Virginia and later at Camps Hill and Stewart.

Following the end of the war, Mrs. Gregory, despite advancing years, was active in the welfare of her race. She spent most of the winters at the home of her daughter in Baltimore, and thus it was that she again took up her residence in the State where she was born and became very closely associated with a large group of friends.

REV. LAWRENCE JAMES VALENTINE

On February 18, 1928, the life of the Rev. Lawrence James Valentine came to a close. Those who were privileged to know this great and good man during his eighty-seven years of life, shared with his family the saddened sense of a personal and irreparable loss while at the same time rejoicing in the thought that the far-reaching influence of Rev. Valentine, as a true minister of the gospel has made the world a much better place in which to live.

An outstanding characteristic of this far seeing man, was his love of the beautiful things of life and the full life he lived was crowded with efforts which resulted in good that will bring pleasure and benefit to a great many people through years to come.

He has had charge of many pastorates in the Methodist Episcopal Church, two being in Baltimore, St. Paul and Centennial. He was also at one time Presiding Elder of the Alexandria, now Richmond, District. Always truly giving of himself, he felt it not only a duty, but a privilege to be of help to his fellow man. Gentle, courteous, kind, considerate and above all modest of self, he fulfilled his sense of obligation to God even regardless of financial gain for himself.

He was twice married, having survived the whole of his first family, excepting grandchildren. His radiant personality and his spirit of making others happy, inspired in every person, young and old, man or woman, high or low, a mingled reverence and affection that made them feel their loss of a true friend.

The passing of Rev. Valentine was closely followed by that of one of his sons, Lawrence James, Jr., on March 23, 1928, but his widow, Mrs. Phenola Singleton Valentine, and nine children survive.

The oldest son, Singleton Valentine, is married and is a teacher in the city schools of Baltimore. The other children are Thaddeus, Harry, Marjorie, Amy, Phenola, Alvin, Wilbur and Naomi.

The above appreciation is presented by one who esteems it a happy honor to be privileged by the family to sign himself,

A friend,

GEORGE LEO FERGUSON.

FRANCIS MARION WOOD

Director of Colored Schools of Baltimore

Mr. Wood came to Baltimore just three years ago, but during his short stay phenomenal changes have been wrought in the colored division of the public school system. The completion of the Douglass High School and the Samuel C. Taylor School, both of which were already under construction, constitute the building program which he has helped to engineer. The following schools, formerly occupied by white pupils have been turned over to the colored group: 119, 120, 121, 130, formerly the Western High School which now houses the Coppin Normal School and Junior High School 130. New principals have been appointed as follows: M. W. Connor, Coppin Normal School, Charles W. Jones, 120, R. G. Addison, 121, Wm. D. Johnson, 122, Samuel Owens, 126, Clarence J. Roberts, 123, James L. Thomas, 124, Wm. H. Proctor, 125, John N. Cotton, Booker T. Washington Junior High, Harry T. Pratt, Dunbar Junior High, Wm. A. Anderson, Junior High 130. The supervisory staff of which there was none when Mr. Wood took charge now consists of five supervisors of elementary grades, four of Junior High School grades, one assistant in research, two special teachers in speech correction and one in lip reading.

One of the great accomplishments of Mr. Wood, looking to the professional growth of his teachers has been the organization of the Baltimore City Teachers Association, and the stimulation of the extension courses for principals and supervisors under the auspices of Columbia University and the courses for teachers given by Morgan College and the University of Maryland.

Director Wood enjoys the confidence of all groups of Baltimore's leading citizens. The two race papers are in hearty accord with his efforts and their editors frequently consult him on the status of the schools.

In the midst of his busy life in the educational field, Mr. Wood finds time for church and community activities. He is Superintendent of Union Baptist Sunday School, a member of the executive board of the Y. M. C. A., Association for the Handicapped and the Urban League. He is also a Mason, K. of P., Kappa Alpha Psi and an Elk.

Mr. Wood refuses to accept credit for the progress that has come under his administration. He feels that this progress would have come anyway, but he says that whatever he has been able to do has been made possible only through the co-operative efforts of the large enthusiastic group of teachers, principals and supervisors and the generous Board of Superintendents and School Commissioners.

What Reverend J. J. Baker has Accomplished

Among the achievements along educational lines in Maryland was the success of Rev. Jas. J. Baker, an A. M. E. Minister, in securing the approval of a recommendation presented by him to the Baltimore County School Board. The results are as follows.

Each child graduating from the graded schools of Baltimore County and creditably passing a prescribed examination by the school board has his or her tuition paid in the High Schools of Baltimore. One hundred and fifty dollars Senior and ninety dollars Junior. Heretofore, no provision was made for higher training for the children of Baltimore County. Every colored person and race loving white should in some way show their appreciation to Rev. Baker for his advanced steps. There is no limit to the accomplishment. Other counties should fall in line.

ECHOES OF YESTERYEAR AT MISS BLAY'S RECEPTION

Few social affairs in recent years have combined distinction and pleasure with a graceful gesture of deference to an older generation in as delightful a manner as characterized the dance given by Miss Irene Blay on Friday, April 27th at the New Elks Hall, at the corner of Madison Avenue and McMechen Street.

The affair was more than a mere social function; it was a big family reunion, a re-union of the preceding generation of Baltimore's "first families." It was reminiscent of the golden days of yesterday when the Monday and Tuesday Assemblies were the outstanding features of the social world, and when Eubbie Blake and his inimitable orchestra were in great demand.

For this occasion, however, Irvin Hughes and his "Southern Players" produced the strains which set the feet of two generations gliding over the floor in tune to the graceful waltz measures which are once again in vogue. To have watched Ellsworth Toomey, Solomon DeCoursey, Robert W. Coleman and other masters of the terpsichorean art on the floor that night was to turn back the pages of "Father Time's" big book and see Baltimore society in its earlier days. Then there were others who added the distinction of yesterday. Miss Bell Price, Miss Bertha Winsey, and of course, Irene's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Blay.

The reception room was charmingly decorated; uniformed waiters from the well known caterer, Waters & Co., served the 130 guests deftly from beautifully arranged tables set with cut flowers and silver candelabra to heart shaped individual ices, select fruits, fancy cakes, mints and punch. Every item bespoke the exquisite taste for which Miss Blay is noted.

This same taste was reflected in her dress which was of sheer georgette, colored a rich pink, made in a draped effect and beautifully designed in rhinestones. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Blay, was distinguished in gray satin trimmed with old lace which has been in the family for years.

Miss Blay is a representative of the fourth generation of one of the oldest families in Maryland. In 1810 her great grandparents, Frederick and Henrietta Jakes, who were married 1807, bought the first piece of property owned by colored people on Park Avenue. It was just below 852 Park Avenue, where Miss Blay was born and is now residing with her parents.

Miss Blay is a graduate of the Colored High and Training School, has taken courses at Morgan College and Columbia University, and is now Demonstration Teacher at School 103. She is rather quiet and reserved in manner but has a personality which has won for her many friends.

Those who attended this unique affair despite the downpour of rain were:

Out of town guests—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mayers, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Chatman, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hall, all of Phoenix, Maryland; Mrs. Alice Gittens, Miss Anna Mead, York, Pa.; Jessie Lewis, Prof. J. Williams, of Howard University, Washington, D. C.

Efficiency —

Plus Human Qualities

The quality of efficiency permeates the atmosphere of our modern institutions. It has become almost synonymous with large enterprises and their proper functioning. There is a tendency to associate it with strict adherence, to rules and regulations.

In the funeral directing profession, however, efficiency demands more than proper facilities, modern equipment, well trained personnel and a scrupulous attention to detail. There must be a sympathetic willingness to serve, to cheerfully assume the burdens of the bereaved, and above all, to be human.

The Homemaker's Building and Loan Association

There are few things in this world which give one a more comfortable feeling than knowing that you don't owe any one anything, and have some money ahead for time of need.

As a Saving or Investment Proposition this Association offers a most attractive opportunity.

A high degree of safety, a rate of interest above that which banks can afford to pay, and the consciousness that every dollar entrusted to The Homemakers Building and Loan Association will be put to work at once in helping people of limited means to secure suitable homes, are factors which should appeal to many.

THE BALTIMORE URBAN LEAGUE

521 McMechen Street

Madison 8478

William N. Jones, Acting President

R. Maurice Moss, Executive Secretary

The Urban League has for its mission the improvement of conditions among the Negroes of Baltimore and the creation of a better understanding between the white and the colored races. Its officers, who include both whites and negroes, are occupied with the problems of life in the colored neighborhoods.

The Urban League is especially active in seeking to improve the economic status of the Negro and to aid an increasing number of them to find their way to better paid jobs. This is done in the belief that better pay leads to better housing, better training, better recreation, better health—to better citizenship.

DUNBAR THEATRE

CENTRAL AVENUE, NEAR MONUMENT STREET

The Dunbar Theatre, operated by the Dunbar Amusement Corporation, with Mr. Josiah Diggs, President; Dr. James Hilburn, Secretary and Treasurer, and Mr. Walter W. Carr, Manager and Vice-President, is a monument to the industry, untiring energy, and faith in the people of Baltimore manifest by its president and founder.

Mr. Diggs opened his house, which was then a much smaller building, with a capacity of 350 people, back in 1917, and by the dint of continual effort and persistency "carried on" until in November, 1923, he was compelled to rebuild on the original site when he enlarged his theatre to a magnificent building, 75x100 feet, with a capacity of 1,000 people, making it the largest movie house for our people in Maryland.

Besides pictures from such famous studios as Paramount, Fox, Metro Goldwyn, Warner Bros., and First National, the Dunbar has an unexcelled orchestra led by Carlos Daugherty.

Visitors in the City should make it a special point to visit the Dunbar Theatre.

Josiah Diggs, Pres.

A SOCIAL REVIEW

Mr. Geo. Leo Ferguson gave a Ye Old English Dish of Tee, ec., Friday, September 14, 1928, in honor of Miss Edith Ann Moore, at his home, 1428 Druid Hill Avenue. Over fifty young friends of Miss Moore indulged in the cards, dancing, repast and other regal features of a smartly arranged send-off party amidst the prettily decorated settings. Miss Moore departed a few days later to commence her career as a teacher and some of the most delightful fun of the party was had during the period spent in giving Miss Moore a little example of teaching in a country school. Jokes were read by each of the guests in the roles of scholars having their reading lessons, until ceased from the sheer volleys of their laughter. Then music lessons were tried until the shrieks and howls sent the whole party into hectic convulsions. Favors were distributed as the revelry continued and before the guests finished their delectable repast a grand Ye Old English Shower was staged until somebody raised a big white handkerchief as a flag of truce.

A variety of cake and also cheese dainties, salted nuts, tiny mints and punch composed the menu, the punch being served in dishes, in accordance with the invitation. The guests were seated around a table in the form of a large E.

Lawson Vessels played the piano so superbly that after dancing up to 1.00 A. M., the guests still hated for him to stop. Mr. and Mrs. Moore, the parents of Miss Edith Moore, Mrs. Oscar Johnson and her granddaughter, Cridilla, Irvin Morris, Clarence Thornton and William Fax helped Mr. Ferguson to throw his unique and original party.

Among those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. John Lightfoot; Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Mrs. Ella Lynch and Mrs. Annie Johnson; The Misses Edith Moore, Louise Moore, Fannie Hayes, Phoebe Jackson, Gertrude Saunders, Marian Kinney, Alice Kinney, Cridilla Johnson, Pearl Diggs, Katherine Dent, Dorothy Bobbit, Elsie Nophlin, Naomi Stewart, Edith Thomas, Lillian Jones, Ethel Brown, Leona Butler and Gladys Johnson; The Messrs. Robert W. Coleman, Clarence Thornton, Ernest Soden, Westley Payne, Irvin Morris, James Soden, Mason Bevans, John Muse, Lawson Vessels, Hyson Diggs, Stanley Smith, Norman Bowers, Wilbert Tyree, William Coles, William Henry, Jesse Brooks, Morris Diggs, Vernon Soden, Edward West, Steadmond Fields, Benjamin Brooks, Weidfel Fields, Harrison Ennolds, Wilbert Rice, Harry Greene, Paul Madison, Milburn Williams, Louie Welder, Lewis Mathews, George Thomas, Charles Tarter, William Fax, Mr. Hill, The Rosebud Pleasure Club, Wilbert Tyree, President, and The Comrade S. and L. Club, Nathaniel Felton, President.
