J. Finley Wilson, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World. The most dynamic fraternal leader the world has ever known, has completed his 11th year as the Grand Exalted Ruler of the I. B. P. O. E. of W., and it would have been hard to have found a leader who could have carried the Order through the rough shoals of the depression of the past several years, as the "Little Napoleon" as he is fondly called by his friends, has done. It is felt by all, that his experience is needed for the successful continuance of a larger Elk's program. It is hoped that he will continue his work for the love of God and the good of Humanity.

J. FINLEY WILSON

WILLIAM N. JONES

Managing Editor, Baltimore Afro-American

Mr. Jones, who is regarded as an able journalist, is equally well known for his passionate interest in civic and welfare problems. Although many regard him as a radical, he is found working shoulder to shoulder with all groups in Baltimore. He is vice-president of the Baltimore Urban League and is looked upon as a general big brother by most of the young people of the Monumental City.

EDWARD S. LEWIS

Executive Secretary, Baltimore Urban League

Mr. Lewis, who succeeded Dr. Thomas I. Brown as Executive Secretary, is regarded as one of the ablest officials of the organization, which has branches in nearly half a hundred cities. Before coming to Baltimore he served as executive secretary of the Kansas City Urban League, and his work there was distinguished by the success he achieved in making opportunities for our group. Mr. Lewis is a graduate of the University of Chicago. In Baltimore he is becoming one of the ablest factors in the development of the community.

Our Profession

o o o

- o o o We who are engaged in Funeral Directing like to consider our calling a profession as well as a business. We feel that the amount of technical training required for this service, as well as our ethical responsibility to our patrons, entitles us to professional standing.
- o o o This feeling is reflected in our attitude towards those we serve. Our relation with our patrons calls for sympathetic understanding of their needs and desires, and a reverent regard for their comfort and welfare.
- o o o The funeral director should be selected with the same care as is shown in choosing a physician or lawyer. Training, experience and moral integrity are of paramount importance.
