Subject: Jesus Anointed in Bethany, Matt. xxvi., 6-16-Golden Text, Matt. xxvi., 10-Memory Verses, 12, 13—Commentary.

Mary anoints Jesus (vs. 6, 7). "In Bethany." Bethany means 'House of Dates," or "House of Comfort." This was a village beautifully situated about two miles southeast of Jerusalem on the eastern slope of the Mount of Olives. was often visited by Christ, and it was here that Hespent several nights of the memorable passion week. "Simon the leper." This man had evidently been a leper and had probably been cured by Jesus. This will account for his making a feast in honor of Christ. According to a tradition Simon was the father of Lazarus; according to others he was the husband of Martha, or Martha was his widow. John tells us that Martha served and that Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table with Him. This shows that Lazarus' resurrection was no illusion. Martha seems to have had the entire supervision of the feast, and the risen Lazurus was almost as much an object of curiosity as Jesus Himself.

baster box." The perfume was in, an alabaster bottle, or flask, which was made with a long, narrow neck. "Very precious ointment." By the ointment we are to understand rather a liquid perfume. The ointment was worth between $45 and $50, equivalent to about eight or ten times that amount at the present time. "Poured it on His head." John says she anointed the feet of Jesus. There is manifestly neither contradiction nor divergence here between the evangelists. Mary poured the ointment over His head and then over His feet. John notices the anointing of the feet, not only as the act of greatest humility and the mark of deepest veneration, but from

John tells us that Judas was the leader in criticising Mary, and he urged his opposition until some of the disciples assented to his ideas. But he was a hypocrite and Jesus reouked him. "To what purpose." There is no benefit in such a lavish expenditure. "This waste." Judas Complained that the ointment was PUTNAM wasted because the money was not put in the treasury where he could steal it. The other disciples were evidently sincere, "but had too narrow or distorted a vision as to what were real values." There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California

Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a lexative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the
