Religious Progress of the Race to Be Special Feature at Coming Meeting of the National Baptist Convention In September-Busy Life of Dr Charles Stewart.

Helena, Ark .- This is the year of celebration among the members of the race, and great are the efforts being put forth in the various departments of racial agencies. The churches of the country are calling upon the people to show appreciation in some way to God for directing the hand which wrote the emancipation proclamation fifty years ago. Educational institutions are asking for endowments, and some are calling upon the race to come together in thanksgiving services.

Perhaps the most elaborate planned celebration by any religious body is that of the national Baptist convention, in shape of an exposition to be conducted during the session of the convention Sept. 17 to 22 in Nashville, Tenn. Arrangements are being made by the Nashville people to entertain 10,000 visitors, and the various boards of the convention are at work on details for the celebration. Rev. Elias C. Morris, D. D., of Helena, Ark., has been at the head of the convention for almost a quarter of a century and has the confidence of the Baptists throughout the country. For a number of years Dr. Morris has been a recognized leader among his people throughout the country and has been foremost in every movement that meant racial development. He has been the paster of one church thirty years, having celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of his pastorate in July. which was a great event, and brought together 2,000 people from all parts of Arkansas and visitors from other states. The anniversary sermon was preached by Dr. Charles Stewart of Chicago, the veteran newspaper correspondent.

ris recommended that the 2.500,000 Baptists show to the world the progress made by the race in the past fifty years and recommended that an exposition be held in connection with the convention. This was unanimously adopted, and already fifty commissioners are at work collecting data, charts and inventions made by members of the race. Encouraging reports are being received by the president from all parts of the country. President Morris is among those benefited by the emancipation proclamation, and he is labering night and day to make the exposition feature a success. The Baptists of the country are rallying to his support. A program which will cover every feature of the convention's work and the progress of the race has been made by the board, and some of the ablest men of both races will deliver addresses. It is expected that 25,000 people will attend this meeting of the convention and that it will be the greatest gathering of Baptists ever assembled at any one time. One of the marvels of the age is the wonderful advancement made by the Negroes in the last fifty years, and wet there are many people in our own country who do not know of this wonderful advancement, and it is proposed | to show in a limited way, by means of a celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the emancipation of the race. that the race has "made good" in these difty years. Especially is it true in a religious sense. "Blessed is that race (nation) whose God is the Lord." In giving reasons for such a celebration the first and perhaps the greatest one is the fact God has been with the race in all the days of its freedom and has raised up friends in the stronger and more advanced race, who have been constant in their efforts to belp the Negro rise, and for this reason the principal religious organizations among the people of our race to them in these fifty years. A second reason is that the harder the persecution heaped upon the race in some sections of the country by those who would prevent its growth e the greater has been its progress ma- t terially, intellectually and religiously. Third, to convince the world that the jimcrow legislation and other proscriptive and unjust laws enacted in many of the states with a view to dis courage, humiliate and retard the prog ress of the race have failed of their i purpose and that the race can show by correct statistics that no race in any time has made greater advancement under similar circumstances. Fourth, the celebration will be a i
