DOING THINGS Maryland decided the other day that are times for doing things rather than talking about them, so branch of the American Red Cross. They held a meeting, had a prominent Red Cross worker to speak for them, and following the talk they elected officers, and planned to receive instructions in first aid to the injured. It is up to every one of us to do his or her part to make life worth while, as the old saying runs "It's no difference whether you or I. It's big pig, little pig, root hog or die." Not very elegant is it? But nevertheless true. The fact of the matter is that each one of us must have a heart for something if we hope to be something worth while. These women have no doubt concluded that if our men nave to fight then they should prepare to do their part by learning how to care for them in their hour of need, and that now is the time to prepare. Now-a-days drones are not wanted, leisure are labelled not wanted. of talking being done in these stirring has lived in Baltimore about seven times but it is encouraging to discover vears. that it is not all talk, and that some one is getting results.
