EYES IN SEEING. IT IS, OF COURSE, NECESSARY THAT BOTH EYES BE DIRECTED EX-ACTLY TOWARD THE OBJECT VIEWED. THIS CALLS FOR A CERTAIN TENSION OF THE MUSCLES THAT MOVE THE EYEBALLS.

If for any reason these muscles are lacking in strength, vision will be painful and cross-eyes, even, may result. Special lenses are required to relieve weak muscles, and and the reader will readily appreciate that finding the form of lenses to cerrect the various errors of vision should be intrusted only to those who make a specialty of eyestrain
