BUSINESS MEN OF BALTIMORE

CLARENCE THOMAS

Clarence Thomas is one of the younger business men of the city. Fifteen years ago he was employed as a bootblack on the corner of Howard and Franklin streets. Two years later, he bought two chairs and began business for himself on Franklin street near Eutaw. He was successful until told to vacate in 1913. Since then he has made good at his present location, 400-402 Druid Hill Avenue, where he conducts a Pressing Club, Shoe Shining and Hat Cleaning Parlor.
