THE NEGRO IN OUR HISTORY

By
Dr. CARTER GODWIN WOODSON

$2.15 by mail

Published in June, this book has already been adopted as a textbook for schools conducting courses in History and Sociology. The following desirable features make it the most useful book on the Negro:

It contains 20 chapters, 126 illustrations, references for future study and important documents in the appendix.

It is well-thought-out, logically developed, tersely written and beautifully illustrated.

It has a logical arrangement, accurate citations, a vigorous style and positive statements to avoid ambiguity and inspire clear thinking.

It shows an admirable balance between the economic and the political, between the purely narrative and the material.

It analyzes and discusses every phase of Negro life and history without the bias of many writers on social problems.

It is the only textbook on the Negro written from the point of view of the student and in conformity with the requirements of the schoolroom.

There is no better volume to recommend either to the man in the street or to the serious student.

A LETTER

Which May Offer a Suggestion To You, Dear Reader

Indianapolis, Ind.

Enclosed please find P. C. Order for Three Dollars for which send THE CRISIS for one year, beginning with the March number, if possible, to me (and also to the enclosed name and address).

I have been buying THE CRISIS at the news stands, but I have concluded it might be better all round to subscribe direct. There should be two thousand copies of THE CRISIS sold in this city each month. The Negro needs THE CRISIS worse than THE CRISIS needs the subscription of the Negro. It is just as necessary to think straight as it is to walk straight. The Negro is in need of training for this sort of thinking and I am sure THE CRISIS is the right sort of a publication to aid him in doing it.

Yours,
 GEORGE W. CABLE.
