

The image shows an open ledger book with two blank, lined pages. The pages are ruled with a header section at the top and several vertical columns below. The left page has 10 columns and the right page has 8 columns. The paper is off-white and shows signs of age, including some faint smudges and a small mark in the center of the left page. The binding of the book is visible on the left side.