My Dear Sir

Permit me to draw your attention, to the situation of Secretaries to admirals: when unemployed, no matter what may be their merit & length of service, they are not allowed any remuneration; The various and confidential duties, which they have to perform, can only be appreciated by those, who are witness to this labour; and by you, to whom some part of this voluminous writings are transmitted; I think that this case, as well worthy the attention of the Admiralty & as
