

Father, and Testamentary Guardian aforesaid is a wealthy man. That actuated by an anxious desire for the welfare of her daughter, especially in reference to her Education, she some time in the month of August last, proposed to her said Testamentary Guardian, that if he would send her ^{some approved} to school for the space of four or five years, either in Baltimore, or the District of Columbia, and impose no restrictions on those of her relations who might wish to see her, spending her vacations alternately up the Eastern, and Western Shores, so as to avoid as far as possible the unhealthiness of the former, she would acquiesce in ^{the} present state of things until ~~her daughter's~~ the termination of the minority of her daughter should make her mistress of her own actions. And your Oratrix further states, that this proposition was rejected, and that consequently, her said daughter continued to be denied those benefits of Education and improvement to which her situation and prospects in life entitle her. and she further states, that if her present application is successful, and her said daughter, is placed in her custody, and keeping, she is prepared
