Bette Ann Brown Thanksgiving bride

with Lula Jones Garrett

Bette Ann Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brown Sr. became Mrs. Golden Anthony Roche on Thanksgiving morning.

Their wedding took place at a 9 a.m. mass in St. Pius Catholic Church.

Fr. Barnett performed the marriage rites and Father Pahlon Lennahan said the Mass.

Vernon Press, soloist, sang the "Ava Maria", with Sopnia Williams at the console.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a vision in lace over taffeta. Her veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls.

Her bouquet of bridal roses she laid on the altar of the Blessed Virgin, and the one she retained was of orchids on a white prayer book.

Augustine Brown, lovely in blue chiffon and blue accessories, including a halo hat and satin slippers, carried a bouquet of fall flowers. She was the sole attendant.

Harold Richardson was best man for Mr. Roche, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Goldman Roche.

Ushers were brothers of the bride, Harold and Earl Brown.

For the wedding, Mrs. Brown wore cocoa lace over taffeta, and a corsage of pale pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Roche, who wore a similar corsage, was gowned in gras lace over pink taffeta.

Following the ceremony, some 60 members of the family and close friends were guests at a wedding luncheon at the home of the bride's parents.

Cutest note: Clarice Richardson, the bride's sister, opining that no one ever showers the bridegroom, did something about it.

She gave a shower for Mr. Roche and all the fellows fetched under gear . . including the wildest shorts you've ever seen.

Lovely shower for Miss Brown was given by Shirley Brown.

The bride, who was a "first" IBM instructor here, returned last year for study at Coppin State Teachers College. She is a graduate of St. Frances Academy and made her debut in 1957 at the Me-De-So Cotillion.

Mr. Roche is a student at Morgan.

THE NICEST thing about this town is the persistent family theme that settles down over the hearths on holidays.

And so, it was no wonder that on the past one the heads of the clans, all over town, drew about them their kith and kin for the sharing of their festive bird.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Washington at their Madison Avenue home, had their relatives for the day.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shelton, Mrs. Phoebe Stubbs, John and Clement Stubbs, Mrs. Marie Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. John Goldman came from the Quaker City. Essex Stubbs and Mrs. Joeanna Kertley were here from Gloucester County, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burnett, who celebrated their 34th wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving Day, marked that event with a dinner party.

With them were Mr. and Mrs. William Neely Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Purnett, Miss Odessa Mason, and Miss Carolyn Cromwell of Brooklyn, N.Y.

There were other cosy gatherings. The Medford Reynolds went to join their family in Washington.

The Charles Hickes had a number of friends at their Frederick, Md. place, including the Hiram Butlers, the Jim Murphys, the Rudy Wheelers, of this town; and the Harold Jordans of Washington.

Beverly Trott, Morgan sophomore, and incidentally, attendant to "Miss Pershing Rifles," was busy entertaining another charming coed, Henrietta purnell from Bowie State College.

Also in town was Mrs. Viola Chandler Norris of New York City, who spent a delightful weekend with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Chandler, Mrs. Doris Lyles, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wade were also her hosts.

But other of the townites were in other localities for other than holiday fun. Flossie Dedmond went to Denver, Colo. for a meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English . . . along with some 5,000 other instructors of the language.

Mr. and Mrs Sinclair Swan flew to Bermuda for the mar riage of a niece.

IT WAS a real get together when the family of Bobby Young entertained in his honor on Thanksgiving.

Bobby, who is a junior at Morgan State College was playing in his last Turkey Day Classic at home. Next year, his senior year, the game will be at Virginia State. . .hence the celebration.

The day started with a breakfast at the home of Bobby's aunts, Ivora Evans and Mildred King.

There the long buffet table was divided as a football field . . of course in the orange and blue.

Tall white tapers made goal posts and miniature footballs were placed strategically as for place kicks.

After the delicious breakfast meal of the young folk journeyed to the game. . .returning to Bobby's uncle and aunt, George and Juanita Kelson, for dinner. . .and what a dinner it was!

Another uncle and aunt, Charles and Helen King, hosted the guests at cocktails . . . those who could take them.

About were:

Alyce and Robert Young; Robert and Phyllis Diggs; Doreta King, Charlotte Brent, Arnita and Milburn Woodlon (Arnita, by the way, is Bobby's godmother);

Also Juanita King and two roommates from Howard University, Goldie Battle and Claudette Smith, Barbara King, Carolyn King, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones (he's the new ophthamologist in town . . . she's Helen King's niece) and their four children, Daryl, Michel, Danny and Wendell Jones;

Also Dr. and Mrs. Emmett Campbell and son, Michael of New York, Sylvia Kelson of New York, Jerome Thomas and Ray Lawson of Washington.

When the Rev. J. R. Butler, pastor of Mt. Sinai Baptist Church, and Mrs. Martin Turner celebrated birthdays, the whole Parsonage clan (from the two and a half week-old son of the Bobby Hawkinses, up), gathered for a celebration, Sunday.

The party was in the home of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Butler.

Soror Moore represented IOTA CHAPTER at this meeting in Annapolis Maryland recently and used her hobby to delight the sorors, rather than bore them with a lengthy written report.

The regular business was suspended temporarily and Basileus Naomi D. Johnson introduced Mrs. Shirley Murphy who spoke on the activities and needs of the Girl Scouts and made an appeal in their interest.

The singing of "Bless This House" set the tone for the Thanksgiving program, prepared by Soror Betty Shelton. Mrs. Alice Matthews gave the Thanksgiving message. Miss Marjorie Shelton, a student of Morgan College, was soloist and Soror Lucy J. Bond, accompanist.

"Happiness is like a kiss . . . you cannot enjoy it unless you give it away," said the sorors of Iota Chapter who sought their happiness by giving baskets to the needy. Sgt. Violet H. White supplied the names of families to receive the baskets.

Guardsmen vie in fashion with chic feminine guests

Guests who attended each of the Guardsmen's Saturday night supper dance, as their hosts had asked, found them selves viewing a fashion show at which the gentlemen held forth in their continental attire.

Their continental attire including Italian silk dinner jackets in striking colors and of such flash as to put a Broadway gambler's glamour turn to the festivities that equalled the impressive array of feminine garments.
