Colonial ladies stage junior golf tournament

The ladies' division of the Colonial Golf Club sponsored a 2-hole junior tournament at Carroll Park Saturday afternoon, and director Marie Murphy was highly pleased with the results.

Winner was young William Pitts, son of Mrs. Annie Pitts. John Combs, finishing with a well-executed over-bunker shot, was runner-up in the boys' competition.

Linda Taliaferro, daughter of former pro football star George Taliaferro, captured the girls' title. Second in this group was Arlene Bell, daughter of Archie Bell.

• • •

COMMANDING attention also was little Karen Bowie, who displayed one of the smoothest swings in the meet, and young Delores Queen, who exhibited some forceful strokes.

The youngsters showed considerable finesse, attesting to the patience and effectiveness of pro Walter (Chink) Stewart's teaching.

FOLLOWING play, Colonial president Audrey Hopkins awarded trophies and pins, the latter going to each of the contestants.

Assisting Mrs. Murphy in the conducting of the tourney were Morphelia Winston, Lillian Bell, Annie Pitts, Florence Queen, Nellie Brown, Sylvine Thompson and Miss Hopkins.

Mrs. Murphy and Miss Hopkins made movies of the action.

C. International at Laurel Race Course on November 11.

The Board will reconvene in a few days to choose at least one more horse to represent the United States in this great global turf classic.

Carver coach awaits outcome of experiment

For one coach in the Maryland Scholastic Association, today's (Friday) practice football game means an awful lot.

The coach is Charley Robinson, whose Carver High eleven takes on Douglass in a pre - season contest at Carver this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Robinson has been compelled to experiment with a quarterback shift that no coach likes to undertake. Ron Epps, the starting QB last season, has been moved to halfback to take advantage of his tremendous speed.

• • •

THE SIGNAL reigns have been entrusted to Veldon Parham, whom Robinson is sure can do the job provided he can get the kind of help he needs to make the Cub attack go.

Parham is an adequate passer, and he'll have capable assistance in the Persons of Epps and fullback Dave Bennett — as well as some fair targets at end.

But a line which shows mostly youngsters up from junior varsity ranks, could be the big source of worry for the Carver tutor.

German, Italian share bill with Brazil, Dixon

Hans (The Great) Mortier will fill the challenger's role at the Civic Center tomorrow (Saturday) night.

Mortier, who hails from Munich, Germany, specializes in the "guillotine" hold, so named because of its "sudden death" aspect. In practice, however, it appears quite similar to the familiar "bear hug" used effectively by his opponent, Bruno Sammartino, the heavyweight champion, recognized by the World - wide Wrestling Federation.

• • •

CO - FEATURED in a tag team title stint, champions Skull Murphy and Brute Bernard will face Bobo Brazil and Lucas Pestano.

Four lady midgets mix in a novelty tag team affair, and Fran Gravette will appear as guest referee for this event. She is a top girl grappler, with a Physical Education Major, and is an exponent of the more scientific style of wrestling.

Dorry Dixon faces Magnificent Maurice, Cowboy Ron Reed meets The Shadow, and Edouard Carpentier squares off against Prince Nero, to complete the card.

HORNETS TRAIN

DOVER, Del. — Twenty-one grid veterans are in training at Delaware State College as the Hornets prepare for the coming season. Yet, with several key losses at certain positions, Coach Roy D. Moore is working hard to fill the gaps.

Ducks' coach says picture looks brighter

"The picture has brightened a little."

Coach Ray Cragway sounded relieved when he ventured the opposion late this week that his Douglass High School eleven may not be as weak as he feared at the beginning of fall drills.

"For one thing," the Duck tutor told the AFRO, "we'll be stronger at quarterback than we were a year ago. And that may help some.

• • •

IN ALL probability, we'll divide the job between Xavier Quarles and Bernest Thompson. Both are pretty good throwers and that figures to help the team over all.

"Frank Barnett, who is the MSA sprint champion, will be at one halfback. And Herb Jolley, a kid up from the JV team, will take care of the other side. Johnson ran for two touchdowns against Carver last week in a practice drill — one for 45 yards and another for 50 yards. He can really go, and should make a good threat along with Barnett.

• • •

"DEFENSE, THOUGH, is where we're hurting," added Cragway. "We're very thin on experience, particulary in the backfield.

"We'll feel it too in the backfield. Not in numbers, in experience.

"We have plenty of boys and they're all working hard. But only three of them have had any experience — two having played junior varsity ball and only one having any varsity play.

"And they're all 10th and 11th graders," lamented the Douglass mentor ~ LACY

Ex D.C. stars set ACFL pace

NEW YORK — With one-third of the Atlantic Coast Football League season completed, Harrisburg halfback Don Jonas has taken over the individual scoring leadership with 61 points.

A former Penn Stater, Jonas has caught five touchdown passes, locked 13 extra points in 15 attempts and split the uprights for six field goals.

Closest to Jonas is Newark fullback Reggie Lee with 48 points, all on touchdown receptions.

• • •

IN THE RUSHING department, Newark rallback Mike Hagler, former D.C. schoolboy star, heads the pack with 426 yards on 54 attempts giving him a 7.9 yards per rush average.

In second place is Westchester halfback Bill Strumke with 330 yards also on 54 attempts, giving him a 6.1 yards per rush average.
