15 professional tips from I.W. Harper
The Prized Kentucky Bourbon

1. Stir when it says stir, and shake when it says shake. Shaking a clear drink, like a Martini, makes it cloud up.
2. When shaking or stirring, be thorough. Shake means shake!
3. For stirring, use ice cubes; for shaking, cracked ice. But ice only; not ice and water.
4. Pour liquor over ice, rather than dropping ice into liquor ... the liquor will chill better.
5. If you're caught short without pre-chilled glasses in the refrigerator, fill your glasses with crushed ice while you're mixing the drinks. Then dump the ice and pour.
6. Remember that one ice cube makes 2 to 2½ ounces of water.
7. Use only fresh fruit, and make sure it's thoroughly squeezed.
8. When you're cutting peel for a drink, remove the white under part; it's bitter and useless.
9. Want to make a Daiquiri froth with professional flair? Add a drop of milk to your mix before shaking.
10. Soak lemons in cold water for fifteen minutes to get more juice from them. Then roll them on a hard surface.
11. Rub the edges of the bottle with waxed paper before pouring to prevent dripping. An occasional rub will do.
12. Rinse ice cubes with a few glasses of cold water to get rid of the snowy look.
13. Don't stir carbonated beverages vigorously.
14. Keep simple syrup—sugar and water, premixed—on hand for the most efficient way of sweetening drinks. It will dissolve; plain sugar will often present problems.
15. Use clean glasses—with clean ice—for seconds. Just a drop or two of a stale drink can ruin a fresh one.

Another good tip... mellow your next drink with

...it's always a pleasure!

Jenkins urges participation in the revolution for rights

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. — Morgan State College President Dr. Martin D. Jenkins last week urged colored Americans to have the courage to participate in the revolution for rights that is currently underway.

The educator delivered the Emancipation Centennial address at the Central Christian Church of Terre Haute, his birth-place.

Describing the "American Revolution of 1963" as an "Historical process which none of us can escape," Dr. Jenkins said both white and colored Americans must participate in the revolution to win the victory of "right, justice, and morality for America."

And he said that racial cooperation is vital to the success of the movement.

COLORED AMERICAN'S ROLE

Colored Americans, Dr. Jenkins said, "must understand what this revolution is about and be a part of it."

"You may or may not wish personally to participate actively in social demonstration movements, but you must have the perceptiveness and courage to protest," he added.

White Americans, the Morgan President said, "must get to know colored American and must support state and municipal legislation designed to enlarge citizenship rights.

He said that business and industrial leadership and religious leadership must take a firm, positive stand on rights matters.

VA To Send Out

A Morgan State College physics major, Charles Reaves will build a "diffraction camera" capable of photographing the internal structure of matter — thanks to a $1,500 grant from the Bendix Radio Division of the Bendix Corporation.

The grant was made through the Research Awards Committee of the corporation, which encourages student research in electronics by making grants for worthwhile projects.

The idea for the diffraction camera came from Dr. Julius H. Taylor, professor of physics at Morgan and head of the department.

The grant makes possible the purchase of materials needed to build a source of electrons and a detection screen for the camera, which Dr. Taylor described as "very like an ordinary camera except that it can take pictures of solid materials."

The Morgan diffraction camera will be about the size of an ordinary suitcase and will require about a "year's work to build."

The occasion marked Mr. Tunstall's 32nd years of service with the choir. This was a complete surprise to Mr. Tunstall, who thought he was accompanying the Rev. Leander Brown on a errand after they had at ended a recital together.

• • •

THE STAGE well set by members of the choir committee Mrs. Ella Morris, Mrs. Viola Gaines, Mrs. Geneva Lonesome, Mrs. DeLilly, Mrs Nellie Watts, and Mrs. Rebecca Wharton, who was chairman of the affair. The choir members and representatives from every organization of the Macedonia church were secreted in the lower clubroom and the second floor. The choir presented Mr. Tunstall with a bronze scroll plaque, embossed with his name and years of service. In addition the choir presented him a gold bound memory book which contained pages and pages of greenbacks of various denominations. Other organizations of the church presented him with gifts of money. The plaque was presented by the pastor, Rev. Willard L. Clayton. He lauded, Mr. Tunstall for his devoted, faithful and untiring service and for his fine spirit and good heartedness.

Following this ceremony a supper was served. A warm fellowship hour ensued. The candid and motion pictures shots captured the spirit and splendor of the occassion.
