Baltimore chapter of Girl Friends, Saturday, at her fabulous place on Cold Spring Lane.

Anne Davis was, or was to have been, co-hostess ... but the G.F.s had planned a surprise for Anne. Margaret went right on letting her propose a program, etc. But came the day and that was another story.

The Girls sipped cocktails, talked business including plans for a dinner dance in May. Sat down to a luscious dinner, and then unveiled a batch of gifts for the honoree, which ran the gamut from diapers to sterling services, from garments to toys, and even included a baby bag and a carrier for the baby.

Anne, who is expecting as she says, "any day," was most attractive in a red wool frock, gaily bordered at the bottom. But then, the majority of the members were terribly attractive, they being ones who do the big thing about clothes.

At the meeting were Bernice Chatman, Georgeanna Chester, Margaret Driver (who had made the session a regular "Love In," pinning tiny Valentines on each arrival and wearing one at the neck of her pert shirt, worn with a classic skirt).

Also Laura Jones, Gwendolyn Lynch, Olga Parker, Mae Parrott, Lula Mackay, Agnes Patterson, Maizie O. Rea, Eliza Robinson, Gwendolyn Roper, Irma Roy, Gaynell Spaulding, Doris Wheeler and Vera Williams.

The recent board meeting of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs, under the leadership of Mrs. Emma Dudley, president, was a planning session for the League's Annual One Day Conference.

Under the theme, "Mobilizing Womanpower Toward Economic Development," the group plans explorations in housing, consumer development, business opportunities and family health and economics.

An added feature for this year's meeting will be a youth workshop featuring youth action, youth motivation and youth projects.

The conference is scheduled for March 29 at the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel Mrs. Margaret Jackson is conference chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Fannie Polston.

Dining on Sunday at the Chesapeake will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward King of Edgecomb Circle, South. ...... the occasion being their 12th wedding anniversary. Mrs. King is the former Shirley Milburn. Mr. and Mrs. King have one daughter, Robin, 11.

There was great joy in the Brown, Lockwood and Brooks families, this week. On Sunday, Mrs. Howard (Eva) Brown became a great grandmother. Dr. and Mrs. W. Vernell Lockwood became grandparents, and Mrs. Ella Brooks of Glenburnie became a step-grandmother.

The baby, a five pound, six-and-a-half ounce son, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rolard T. Brooks. Mrs. Brooks is the former LaVerne Lockwood.

Mardel's West Wing was the scene of a "Big Time Casino" set by the members of the Sequoias Club when they held their "Afternoon In La Vagas" there.

Games of all sorts were played! Dice, Pinochle, Black Jack, Bingo, Pokeno, In-Between and Roulette Wheel by the guests with "Play Money" which was provided by the Sequoias.

The guests were entertained by a "Hat Show." The hats were styled by Mrs. Sadie Givens and modeling them were Myrna Cohn, Beverly Taylor, Beverly Prim and Sandra Counts.

The liquid refreshments were bartendered by Robert Bradshaw, James Dorsey and James Barnet.

The afternoon was climaxed with an "Auction Sale." There the guests "Bid" on the different items with their "Play Money." Auctioning the gifts were Washington Green and Cleveland Washington.

The Committee on the affair was Mrs. Bernice Bradshaw; chairman; Beverly Tucker, Doris Staton and Pearline Carter. The other club members serving as hostesses were: Mrs. Mary Buster, Mrs. Lorraine Dorsey, Mrs. Ertie Delaney, Mrs. Christine Fiterald, Mrs. Ardella Flitcher, Mrs. Margerea Green, Mrs. Kathleen Janie, Mrs. Vera Merritt, Miss Ellaweise Minser and Doris Pollard.

The club's next affair will be a Mardi Gras on May 29 at the North Point Gardens. On August 23 the club will take a second trip abroad to Jamaica! Members and their guests will be staying at the "Playboy Club Hotel in the Gland.

March is close, so Spring can't be too far away. It wasn't for the ladies who assembled at the home of Hat Designer Mrs. Evelena Carr for a sneak preview of what's in for spring.

On the patriotic scene of red and white was a high crown iced with red melting over white straw and falling to a medium width red brim modeled by Mrs. Alberta Lofton.

A wide and I mean very wide tucked black satin hat modeled by Mrs. Kathryn Brown seemed to be made especially for her. As she strutted in a black crepe high yoke dress with pearl accessories, the wide brim dipped and the flabergasted onlookers seemed to dip right into Spring.

Perched in a yellow crown of woven straw concluding in a navy brim was Miss Wanda Queen. As she moved across the floor the oohs and ahs moved too. The design of the hat along with Wanda's self-made knit dress with two kick pleats in the front and a low belted back really put navy on the scene for Spring.

Mrs. Leah Lewis who served as narrator of the affair greeted the guests in a bright spring green net turnban with lots of height and no brim. Toning down to a little darker shade of green, Miss Helen Wells stepped in the slight derby figure that had an alternating green satin band around the crown that was cocked to one side with a rather stingy brim.

Bright lemon yellow forced its way into the show three times in different materials. The first being straw followed by satin and last of all and a real shocker was nylon petals. Modeled by Mrs. Juanita Barry was a crown completely covered with a cluster of hand-made flowers each looking like they were fresh from the garden.

Most bubbles don't last long, but the pink straw bubble hat modeled by Mrs. Celia Carr seemed to hold its own.

Put the right color beige straw with the right color orange and add a touch of net that reminds you of the veil, and you can imagine how attractive Mrs. Shirlene Snowden looked in the hat and a two piece orange dress.

Many styles and colors in various materials were on display for every occasion. White straw with a pinch of white nylon for a band and traditional purple was a welcome accepted change from winter apparel.

The event took place at Nortonia Road, home of Mrs. Wanda Queen beginning at 2:00 p.m. with refreshments being attractively served following the show.

The Pre-empt Bridge Club gave its annual card party and luncheon last Saturday afternoon at the Warren House. The ladies spent a relaxing afternoon chatting, sipping cocktails and playing bridge. A buffet luncheon preceded the game.

The beautiful array of outfits added to the zest of the atmosphere. Merita Stokes earned numerous comments on her red knit belted suit, with a matching red, white and blue hat. Kay Carter was quite chic in her soft yellow three piece knit suit. In fact, beautiful knits seemed to rule the afternoon, though not tot the exclusion of other outfits of beauty, such as Edith Hare's black velvet.

First prizes were won by Phyllis Diggs, Bernardine Harrison and Toni Perkins. Second prize winners were Mary Clayborn, Ada Woodland and Lucretia Whitten.

Guests included:

Gloria Barnes, Blanche Beckham, Miriam Brown, Kathleen Carter, Doris Cole, Vashti Christmas, Mary Clayborn, Jean Cummings, Gladys Daniels, Phyllis Diggs, Evelyn Green, Thelma Greene, Edith Hare, Bernardine Harrison, Bernice McDaniels, Toni Perkins, Audrey Pinderhughes, Anabel Rawlings, Bernice Robinson, Carolyn Robinson, June Ross, Jane Shelton, Minnie Smoot, Merita Stokes, Mildred Taylor, Doris Wallace Lucretia Whitten and Ada Woodland.

Members of the Pre-empts are Gloria Basfield, Gloria Carpenter, Elva Edwards, Sadie Jenkins, Joan Phillips, Mentora Thompson, Mary Walker, Eleanor Woods and Bettye Morton. Bettye was ill and unable to attend the affair.

Les Pierette Bridge Club had a gala time when they met for their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Elmira Collins, recently.

Mrs. Charlotte Shockley, with an unusually high score, won the first prize.

Other members present were:

Mrs. Ann Obey, Mrs. Sadie Roberts, Mrs. Gilda Brown, Mrs. Georgia Howard, Mrs. Mildred Williams, Mrs. Leana Ferrell and Mrs. Mary Bacote.

Mrs. Bacote is counselor for the group.

On Monday the Baptist Ministers Wives of Baltimore and vicinity held a meeting at the Baptist Center.

Mrs. Louise Graves presided.

Those present were Mesdames Louise Graves, Chestine Nance, Paulene Logan, Mamie Butler Amanda Marcus, Minnie Washington, Helen Brackett, Estella Dobson,

Mesdames Florence Queen, Earnestine Hill, Anna Jordan, Bertie Lemon, Portia Yerby, Elizabeth Matthews, Roberta Williams, Mary Harrington, Bessie Wood, Geraldine Chambers,

SOLID CITIZENS

The Golden Rule is motto of life

The three-story brick dwelling at 1433 Laurens St. has been in the possession of Mrs. Pauline Fauntleroy for over 35 years.

For over 27 years it housed the Fauntleroy Furniture Store, and now for the past two years it has housed Fauntleroy's Dress shop with prices ranging from $3.50 to $50 and up.

Mrs. Fauntleroy is the AFRO's "Solid Citizen" for this week.

Mrs. Fauntleroy has been an active member of Shiloh Baptist Church for 45 years, she is the president of the Northwest Baltimore Improvement Association, a member of the Baltimore Community Action Agency, affiliated with the Baltimore Building and Loan Association.

She is also affiliated with the model Cities program. During World War II she organized the "Draftlettes," in Northwest Baltimore, a social club which traveled to various camps to entertain the soldiers.

The Draftettes put up the first pair of curtains to hang from the recreation room at aberdeen Proving Grounds, and they also donated the first record player there.

Mrs. Fauntleroy is married to Abraham Fauntleroy and they became the parents of four children, three of whom survive They are Mrs. Agnes Williams, Stanley and Rudolph Fauntleroy, all of Baltimore.

Mrs. Fauntleroy lead the fund raising drive to honor the late Dr. Frank Saunders (1029 N. Stricker St.) at a testimonial banquet, and also a dinner for Father Francis Tody, director of the Halfway House.

Mrs. Fauntleroy was born in Virginia where she was reared and received her formal education.

She moved to Baltimore with her family when she was 15 years old.

Her son, "Ruddy," explained, "My mother is a doer . . . she loves to help people, and you might say she lives for them."

SOLID CITIZEN — Mrs. Pauline Fauntleroy is well known among the residents in the 1400 block of Laurens St. She has been a businesswoman in the block for over 35 years.

to which her veil was attached.

She carried carnations and poms, both for the altar offering, a nosegay; and the cascade which she carried after the ritual.

Miss Vanessa Brown was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Betty Jeffries, Michelle Brown, also a sister of the bride; Lois Ann Phillips and Rose Horton.

The attendants wore gowns of Nile green moire skirts with Kelly green velvet tops. Their tulle veils were attached to Dior bows, and they carried nosegays of yellow carnations.

The flower girl, Carmella Brown, another sister of the bride, carried a basket of petals which she scattered in the path of the bride.

Mr. Murphy had as best man, a cousin, Geoge Lottier.

Ushers were Erwin Phillips, Benjamin Brown, Crumpton Anderson and Conway Wilson.

The double-ring ceremony and the Mass were said by Fr. Herbert Jordan. Joseph Neal was organist and Jimmy Merritt was soloist.

For the wedding and reception, Mrs. Brown wore a dress of hot pink, with a hat in a deeper shade of rose, and shoes and bag to match the dress.

Mrs. Murphy selected a dinner suit in soft green. Both mothers wore corsages of orchids.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Brown entertained 200 guests at a reception in honor of the couple. The reception was in the Cade Armory.

The newlyweds will be at home in Woodlawn Village.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Miss Marlene Elizabeth McCoy, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy A. McCoy, and Jimmy Sharpe has been announced by the bride-elect's mother. The wedding is scheduled for March 22.
