MONUMENTAL

Music Hall

by Connie E. Brown

PEABODY

A pleasant way for music lovers to spend a lunch hour is listening to free concerts at the Peabody Wednesday Noon Concert Series which is designed to entertain as well as inform young audiences.

This past Wednesday noon, Dr. C. Edouard Ward conducted a concert with commentary featuring the works of "Twentieth Century Black Classical Composers," such as Hall Johnson, Willis L. James and William L. Dawson.

Next Wednesday John Welsh, formerly a director of the U.S. Air Force Ceremonial Band in Washington, D.C., will conduct the Peabody Chamber Orchestra in the Wednesday Noon Concert on November 7 in the Concert Hall. Admission is free.

Ruben Gonzalez, Argentinian violinist, will give a concert in the Peabody Concert Hall for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund on Tuesday, November 6 at 8 p.m. He will be accompanied by the young American pianist, Kenneth Ziegenfuss.

NORTHEAST BALTO. SYMPHONY SOCIETY

The Northeast Baltimore Symphony Society will have a gala kick-off affair Saturday evening, November 3, as they gather at special benefit performance of the Arena Players at the Community College of Baltimore.

The performance will be "Tambourines to Glory," Langston Hughes' well-known play, for which the Arena Players are known for excellent portrayal of the story.

Members of the Society and their friends, some of whom are looking forward to seeing the play a second time, will gather at 7:30 p.m., just before the performance.

Although many tickets have been purchased, there will also be tickets at the door. Co-chairpersons for the affair are Mrs. Alice Parham and Mr. Herbert Duberry.

SOUL TRAIN

The Jackson 5 will perform on Soul Train, the nationally popular teen dance show this coming weekend. Even though Tito is married and Jermaine is engaged, the popularity of the Jackson 5 has not declined in the least.

They'll entertain the Soul Train gang with such songs as He's The Father" and "Get It Together." Jermaine will be featured singing "You're In Good Hands Now" and Michael will solo "With a Child's Heart."

ART MUSEUM

An exciting Festival of Films and appearances by major sports personalities has been announced by the Women's Committee of the Maryland Ballet Company in cooperation with the Baltimore Museum of Art. The Film Festival series consists of four presenaations, all to be held Saturday mornings at 11:00 a.m. in the museum's auditorium.

STREETCAR MUSEUM

The tenth anniversary of the termination of streetcar service in Baltimore will be observed at the Baltimore Streetcar Museum on November 3 and 4 with the opening of a new portion of track and a special commemorative run by the car which made the last commercial trip in 1963.

Trackage at the museum will be increased by 40 per cent with the official opening of the new section on Sunday, November 4 at 2 p.m. This will make a total distance of one-half mil for a one-way ride on the museum's right-of-way located at 1901 Falls Road, one block north of Lafayette Avenue.

A delegation of city and Mass Transit Administration officials have been invited to take part in the ceremonies opening the new line. The public is cordially invited to attend this event. Streetcar rides will be available from 1 to 5 p.m. regardless of weather.

TOWSON STATE

A major photographic exhibition entitled "American Edge: Photographs by Steve Rose" will be on display in the Towson State College Fine Arts Building gallery from November 3 to December 16.

LADIES' NIGHT

The Women's Center of Essex Community College will sponsor an "Evening of Women's Films" on Wednesday, November 7. The movies to be shown will be by and about women, and the changing "images" of women being brought about by the Women's Movement. The featured film for the evening will be "Minnie and Moskowitz." The presentation will begin at 8 p.m., in the Essex Community College Lecture Hall. "An Evening of Women's Films" is free and open to the public.

UMBC

An all-student production of the play "Gabriel" will be presented at the University of Maryland College Park Campus, November 12 and 13 at 8 p.m., under the sponsorship of the Nyumburu Community Center.

AFRO talks to O'Jays

The Philadelphia Sound will hit D.C. this Friday through Nov. 8th when the O'Jays and the Intruders open at Teddy Powell's new club, T.P. Warner Club on 13th Street N.W.

This week-end the O'Jays will be singing hits from their new album "Ship Ahoy" and "Put Your Hands Together And Let Us Pray".

You also will be treated to their hits you heard in the movie "Save Tha Children" and on Soul Train . . . such as "Time To Get Down", "992 Arguments", "Back Stabbers" "Love Train", they will also be singing another new release, "For The Love of Money."

The O'Jays make their home in Cleveland where I caught them this past week-end. Between engagements they rest up, rehearse and write . . . then get in some pool at lead bass and tenor . . . Walter Williams' home.

Walter is married to the former Nancy Richburg of Brooklyn, N.Y. and they have a little girl, Dwan, 3. He says he's looking forward to the D.C. engagement as Teddy Powell is an old friend and he has so many friends among the disc jockeys. He's a Virgo . . . 5'9" and weighs in at 160 pounds.

Missed talking with William Powell . . . the tenor and lead baritone bit Eddie Lavert was around to rap with me awhile.

Eddie is 5' 8", weighs in at 165 pounds. He is married to his hometown (Canton, Ohio) high school sweetheart . . . the former Martha Byrd and they have two children Sean, 4 and Gerald, 7. He's the son of Tommy Lavert Sr. of Canton and Mrs. Blanche McCloudy of Detroit. (He says his Mom is proud to read about him.)

The O'Jays have been together for 15 years and Eddie sings lead second tenor . . . says they got their start when he and Walter along with his two brothers sang on a Sunday radio show every week. They have no formal musical training except in church work . . . first in the Church of God In Christ and later in the Baptist Church. Eddie says he is a member of Jehovah's Witness now.

More Philadelphia Sound in the form of The Intruders will also be in D.C. at the T.P. Warner Club. They'll be singing "I'll Always Love My Mama" and "I Wanna Know Your Name".

Kidded the O'Jays about the space outfit costumes they wore in the movie, "Save The Children" . . . and Walter says for the D.C. outing they'll be wearing Tuxedos or open shirts.

He said people became very hostile . . . and nobody liked their space suits in Chicago . . . so they are not going to wear them anymore. When you see . . . "Save The Children". You'll see why their costumes got them a lot of attention and comments.

When the O'Jays leave D.C. they will produce their own show at the Apollo Theatre in N.Y. Columbia Records will give a big bash for them . . . actually a Bon Voyage Party.

They are part of the "Sound of Philadelphia Tour" which also includes Billy Paul and the Intruders. Which will tour Europe for twenty days . . . England, Germany, France and Holland . . . from November 29 to December 19th.

"Niger" flows to D.C.

The Negro Esemble Company's production of "The River Niger" by Joseph A. Walker which is now playing in Philadelphia through November 4th will open at the National Theatre in Washington, D.C on November 6.

However, it will not be reviewed by the press until the evening of November 8 due to conflicts with election night and another theatre opening.

Founded by Douglas Turner Ward, Robert Hooks and Gerald Krone in 1967, the Negro Ensemble Company is the world's foremost black theatre troup, but the current production of "The River Niger" marks its first extensive national tour.

The play is directed by Douglas Turner Ward who also plays the leading role of the Harlem housepainter-poet, Johnny Williams. Set in the present, the play deals with the inner conflicts of a black family.

Generally hailed by critics it has won sixteen awards. It is also the first black ensemble company to tour in over thirty years since the American Negro Tehatre produced "Anna Lucasta."

The Negro Ensemble Company is located in New York at the St. Marks Playhouse. There it trains blacks in all the theatrical trades . . . free. Union trainees are paid, from stagehands to press agents. Naturally the need for grants is essential having long ago exhausted the original three-year Ford Grant of one and one-quarter million dollars. It is a practice for every opening night in each city of the tour to be a benefit for NEC. The one exception to this will be Washington, D.C. when the opening night will benefit the D.C. Black Repertory Company which was also founded by Mr. Hooks.

Featured in the cast are Hilda Haynes as the sharp-tongued Grandma of the household, Robin Braxten as the wife, Albert F. Laveau as the family doctor-friend, Dean Irby from the New York company and Amandina Lihamba as the girl friend from South Africa.

The Esqueda Troupe, returning this year by popular request, presents the fastest and most unusual unicycle-teeterboard performances in the world, during the 30th annual Shrine at Baltimore's 5th Regiment Armory thru November 3.

Albert F. Laveau, Amandina Lihambs, Douglas Turner Ward, Charles Brown, Charles Greene and Carl Goron in "The River Niger".

100,000 NAACP Star-Studded Spectacular Benefit

Your Baltimore Branch of the NAACP is still on the case working to improve the quality of life for all Baltimoreans.

The climax of this year's Annual Fall Freedom Festival and Membership Drive will be one of the most exciting cultural experiences ever to take place in this city. The NAACP's $100,000 Bicentennial Benefit featuring the gala premiere of the film "Save the Children" at the Lyric Theatre, on November 30, 1973 at 7:30 p.m.

Our goal is to raise $100,000 from the City's Business Community to support this Branch's community oriented Positive Action Program. This Program which deals with issues and problems vitally important to all of us, was explained on the Afro's editorial page last Friday, October 26, 1973. One quarter of whatever sum is raised (Hopefully, $25,000) will be presented in the name of the city of Baltimore as grants — Directly to the Baltimore Community.

The remaining money will be used to develop this Branch's Bicentennial Activities and meet other essential operational obligations. The Bicentennial of this country, beginning officially in 1976, will mean additional training and jobs in our community if an imaginative program can be developed and properly presented.

BALTIMORE CARES AND SHARES

made available to our schools. Each half-page message will cost a mere $1 a day for one year $365.00. In addition to the good public relations generated by appearing in the publication, each participating Company will receive 5 tickets to the benefit along with 10, one-year memberships to the NAACP which includes a year's subscription to the Crisis magazine.

Each company is being asked to response by Friday, November 9, to give sufficient time for the printing of the publication.

The 300 companies listed below, represent a cross-section of the major employers of this city who form its economic back bone. Each is being asked to place an "Inspirational Message to the Children" in the Benefit's Souvenir Publication which will be

Special Bicentennial Cultural Awards will be presented to the stars who donated their talents to make this one of the most exciting and wholesome movies about the black cultural experience ever produced.

Many of the films 30 or more stars will attend this gala premiere as well as other nationally known personalities. Space will be provided for dancing during "Save the Children" which is 80% good soul music from Gospel to Rock.

We feel confident that those companies listed care enough to share such a modest sum of money to support this effort. If you want to attend the Benefit or be a member of the NAACP but cannot afford the $16.00 ticket or $6 membership, and you work for or are in some way connected with one of the companies listed, call up the President's office and ask if your company is participating. If so, ask if a ticket or a membership is still available for one of his employees.
