Jesse Hughes named driver of the month

Jesse L. Hughes, full time carrier, assigned to the Parcel Post Unit of the Baltimore Post Office, has been cited for his continuing outstanding driving abilities, vehicle care and performance of duty and recognized by the Baltimore Post Office as its "Driver of the Month — January, 1975."

During the ceremony Warren M. Bloomberg, Chesapeake District manager, Eastern Region, commended Mr. Hughes for his professionalism in the performance of his assignment.

It was also noted that Parcel Post Carrier Hughes is the recipient of a 24-year Safe Driver Award and Certificate from the National Safety Council. In addition, Carrier Hughes has been the subject of many commendatory letters, citing his courteous and friendly attitude when providing his customers with the best of service.

The district manager congratulated Jesse L. Hughes, expressing confidence that his dedication and performance of duty had gained the respect and admiration of Baltimore's Postal People.

JESSE HUGHES

In attaining this achievement, Mr. Hughes — "A Credit to the Postal Service" is most deserving of his well-earned award as January's "Driver of the Month."

Dog owners urged to buy licenses

Dr. David R. Berzon, acting director of the City Health Department's Bureau of Animal Control, has warned dog owners to purchase dog licenses before March 1.

The city's Animal Control Ordinance 708 requires that dog licenses be issued on a fiscal year basis (July 1 to June 30). To facilitate the change from calendar year to fiscal year, licenses sold from now to March 1 will be good to June 30, 1976.

Each license will cost $7.50 to make it valid for 18 months. Those owners failing to get licenses for their animals by March 1, however, will be subject to a $1 penalty.

Enforcement personnel of the City Health Department will make investigations throughout the city to be sure all dogs are properly licensed. Persons who refuse to license their dogs can be summoned to court and fined up to $500 for each offense. In addition, they must buy the required license.

Licenses can be obtained from the License Division of the Bureau of Collections on the first floor of the Municipal Building at Lexington and Holliday Sts. either by mail or by coming in person. Dog license application forms may be obtained at the Municipal Building, from Health Department Sanitary Enforcement officers, or by phoning 396-3994.

Under the new ordinance, all dogs must wear license tags when outdoors and must be kept under restraint. In addition, each dog owner will be responsible for the removal of any excreta deposited by his dog on walks, recreation areas or private property. Persons wishing more information about the animal control ordinance are asked to call 396-4442.

Businessmen tax-forum slated for Jan. 30

The first all-day tax forum jointly conducted by the Internal Revenue Service and the Maryland State Comptroller's Office will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan Baltimore on Thursday, Jan. 30, at a Dogwood Rd., locale.

The program begins at 9 a.m. and ends at 4:30 p.m.

Planned to assist business owners, executives and professionals in their tax problems, including business, travel and entertainment expenses and pension trust problems and benefits, key tax officials from both the IRS and the State of Maryland will be speakers at the morning and afternoon workshops and answer questions from the audience.

Gerald G. Portney, district director of Internal Revenue Service, will be the keynote speaker on "Tax Problems of Business, Executives and Professionals," as an introduction to the forum.

Maryland comptroller, Louis L. Goldstein, will be the luncheon speaker on "Maryland Business Outlook — 1975."

The cost is $12 per person, including a luncheon and all sessions. Reservations must be made in advance through Alan Anders at the Chamber of Commerce, 22 Light St. or call 539-7600.

Business establishment planned by Pen inmates

Inmates Consolidated Funds, a newly formed organization in the Maryland Penitentiary at Forrest St. has just named Irvin J. Conway, director of Urban Service Council "E", as its outside coordinator and representative.

He will help carry out new found plans to cut down on recidivism in the Maryland penal institution. They plan to accomplish this through a self help type program through which they will create jobs for persons who are being released from penal institutions.

There'll be some changes made

New MTA Schedules in effect January 26, 1975. Be ready for the change. Check your bus line now.

NOBODY LIKES SURPRISES. We'll have new timetables for individual lines ready by January 12th. But we want you to have ample time to "have your changes" ready. That's why we've prepared this ad. It contains all MTA bus service changes starting January 26, 1975. Please study it carefully, to see how the changes might affect you, and to plan how you can adjust.

NEW, EASY-READING FORMAT. The information has been arranged so you can quickly and clearly spot the bus line, destination, day or time that is of interest to you.

If you've tried your very best, and still don't quite understand a change, please visit one of our MTA Information Centers. One is in the lobby of the Federal Office Building, Hopkins Plaza. The other is in the lobby of One Charles Center. They have information about all MTA routes, those that are changing, and those that remain the same. Hours are 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. January 20th through 29th at the Federal Office Building, and January 22nd through 29th at One Charles Center. Or, write MTA, 1515 Washington Boulevard, Baltimore, Md., 21230. Or call MTA Information at 539-5000. But please be patient when you do, because others will be calling, too, and we want to take good care of everyone.

THERE'S GOOD REASON BEHIND EVERY CHANGE. Our job is to provide service. Where and when people think it's needed is not as important as when and where it's used . . . by the greatest number of people. This makes good sense in the best of times. But in today's economic situation, with limited manpower, vehicles and energy, it is a must.

HOW TO KEEP WHAT YOU'VE GOT. If you're now enjoying bus service that's convenient to you, the one best way to keep it that way is to use it, and to encourage friends and neighbors to join you.

SCHEDULES ON ALL OTHER MTA LINES REMAIN THE SAME.

Over 5,000 mourn fire victims

Second African student found slain; body face-up in tub, 4 persons charged

Four persons have been charged in the death of a 21-year-old Morgan State College medical technology junior and the death of a bar customer shot in an early Wednesday downtown bar stickup.

Police said Alando Edwards, 24, 3100 block Barclay St., is charged with the death of Mr. Ogunrinde and Rosen; Mrs. Ruth Johnson, 34, 500 block E. Eager St., is charged with accessory after the fact.

Also charged with the death of Rosen and assult by shooting Mr. Avenll, a bartender are Flyod S. Johnson, 19, 2000 block Edmondson Ave., and Ralph Charles Lee, 27, 1700 block Darley Ave.

Godwin Akin Ogunrinde, 5600 block Lodestone Way, a Western Nigerian, was found in the bathtub of his northeast Baltimore apartment, his hands were tied behind his back and he was found faceup in the tub half-filled with water.

By Pam Widgeon

"Now is the time love is needed. God at this moment is telling us something. Get your house in order. Oh yes, these deaths have shaken the community, but when God speaks to us we go in many ways."

The above exhortations were made by Gillis Memorial Christian Community Church pastor, the Rev. Theodore Jackson, during Thursday funeral services for eight members of the Goins family killed in an early morning fire which swept through their three-story rowhouse last Saturday.

* * *

"Let not your heart be troubled . . . Ye believe in God . . . Ye also believe in me. . . Yes, you have lost sons and daughters, brothers and sisters. God moves in a mysterious way. God at this moment is telling us something," the pastor said, consoling the remaining members of the Goins family.

Estimated 5,000 people attended the services, while numerous people were turned away when the doors of the church were closed at 11 a.m.

Undaunted by the winter cold temperature hundreds of spectators stood in the streets through the 90 minute services.

The eight gray and white caskets were arranged in a semi-circle in front of the church with a floral design and cross on each casket.

Lt. Lewis heads Western District

Lt. Calvin Lewis, 41, with a master's degree and 17 years on the police force, was named this week as acting commander of Western Police District.

Col. Bishop Robinson, chief of Patrol, made the appointment at his headquarters offices Wednesday.

Thus Lt. Lewis, a former WD staff commander, becomes head of the inner city's largest area of 102,000 persons an area said to be the highest crime area due to the density of population.

Married 16 years to the former Miss Alma G. Ivey, of Baltimore, Lt. Lewis is father of two children, Linda Michele, 15, a Douglass High pupil and Calvin

Sen. Welcome hits Schaefer role in Senate business

Sen. Clarence W. Blount has been four times elected chairman of the Baltimore city 11-member state senate delegation.

The incident which came in Annapolis Wednesday has left bitter feelings on the part of the nationally known first woman senator, Mrs. Verda F. Welcome who was up for election.

The incident also exposes a rift between Sen. Welcome and Baltimore Mayor Schaefer and suspicions on her part that he and Gov. Mandel dictated the Blount election.

It happened this way:

Sen. Welcome said after Blount came to her in the hall to tell her he had no interest in the chairmanship, she sent out letters asking that the senators name her chairman.

She states, "I would not have tried for it if Blount had not come to me.

"Just five minutes before the vote, I had six votes.

"Sen. Clarence Mitchell told me I had his vote.

Pearl Bailey just might get Ford's place at White House

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Singer Pearl Bailey says the nation needs an enema.

Pearl is also "serious about running for President in 1976 as an Independent," a friend of hers said.

With the nation's women pushing more daringly for equal rights these days, Pearlie May just might make it to the White House next year.

Miss Bailey, contends it will take a woman to get the U.S. back on track again.

Miss Bailey, appearing at a nightclub near Cincinnati, said she watched President Ford give his State of the Union speech but she said he should have ad-libbed it.

"I kept hoping he would throw those papers up into the air and say, 'another thing, we're going to clean up these buildings, clean the streets and start progress," Miss Bailey said.

"What this country needs is a Godderned enema — not just a cleansing," she said. "Then we can start doing what President Ford said.

"Where we've really screwed up is that nobody believes in God anymore," Miss Bailey said, accord-

Supreme Court outlines rights of pupils suspended from class

By James A. Kidney

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 Wednesday that public high school students are entitled to present their case at an informal hearing before they can be suspended from school.

The court said nine Columbus, Ohio high school students were denied their rights to due process of law when they were suspended for up to 10 days without a hearing because of their alleged role in v read student unrest in 1971.

Justice Byron R. White, writing for the majority, said that 10-day suspension was "a serious event in the life of the suspended child."

* * *

As a result, minimum due process rules must be applied to make sure the suspension is warranted, White said.

In other action, the Supreme Court ruled 8-1 Tuesday that women as a class may not be excluded from jury lists.

The opinion by Justice White said that if excluding women or granting them an automatic exemption results in a jury pool that is almost all male, a criminal defendant would be denied the constitutional right to an impartial jury.

The decision in a Louisiana case reversed the kidnapping conviction of Billy J. Taylor, who was sentenced to life in prison.

Louisiana has now changed its procedure. But at the time of the Taylor
