Life saving classes at YWCA

Fun and healthful development are offered in "Super Saturday" and a week long life saving class, in spring programs for the young at the YWCA, 128 West Franklin St. Both programs are co-ed.

The Super Saturday program, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for boys and girls, 6 to 16 years of age, includes arts and crafts, fencing, golf, karate, modern dance, sewing, trampoline, tumbling and swimming.

In addition, special classes are offered in kindergym for children 3 to6 years of age, pre-ballet for 4 to 6 years olds, and mother and daughter slimnastics, as well as budget cooking for mothers. Three classes cost $25; two classes, $18, one class, $10.

Special family rates are available. Every participant must be a YWCA member — $2 for juniors, $5 for adults.

The week long life saving class, Monday through Friday, March 31 to April 4, 8 a.m. to 12 noon, permit participants to earn their Red Cross life saving certificate. Students must have mask, fin and snorkel and must purchase the life saving book in advance at the YWCA. Cost is $20.

Information about the above classes may be obtained by calling the YWCA, 685-1460.

Print hats and handbags have all the news. Quilted bags can be small or large "boxes" or soft shoulder totes. Some of the hats reverse to solid colors for an extra measure of fun. Representative of the collection now at larger Sears, Roebuck and Co. stores.
