Moby Dick

By Moby Dick

If you are going to take a vacation in June, I would suggest the week from the seventh thru the twelfth when absolutely nothing is going on. Whatever happens this week is determined by individual horoscope of the people involved.

There are some bad chemical spills and environmental pollution-poisoning incidents all through the last half of the month, most likely peaking on the twentysecond.

The fifteenth and sixteenth bring attacks on the President, which we shall hope are only verbal and political. The attacks will not be fatal or seriously harmful, and will only confirm the President in the rightness of his own approach.

There will be some sports records, especially in attendance at new sports.

JUNE 13: People are talking money, but that's probably all they are doing.

JUNE 14: Romantic surprises, surprising romances and doing things you thought you never would. JUNE 15: Today they are talking love, and it is still all

Why not wear a metal chain, or one of beets or chives as a long necklace?

Old plastic knitting needles make first rate stakes for your potted plants.

Quite a few young sports car owners are planting flowers and plants in the console area between the bucket seats.

If you have access to nolonger-needed blueprints about to be discarded by a design or architectural firm, pick them up and store them well. They make unique giftwrapping paper.

JUNE 20: A day for hate and losing friends. Don't get involved in confrontations.

JUNE 22: The investigative reporters strike gold in political secrets and JUNE 24: A busy day, with wild arguments. Some acts of charity and love keep it from being all bad.

JUNE 28: All kinds of news busting out like popcorn. A nice peaceful lull, and then scientific triumphs and new ideas and inventions and winning and a new world's record!

JUNE 29: Everybody is very bright and talky today, optimistic, nervous, running around to very little pur-

JUNE 30: Bad news, nasty lies, a period of confusion when the less you believe the better you will feel.

It looks like a very bad Fourth of July. Why don' you plan now to stay close to home?
