

ON THE BEACH — The Copacobana's beach is world famous, and this wear - dated tennis outfit by Monsanto, is ideal for just getting your tootsies

Who really knows how to travel? Who knows what pitfalls to avoid so that a vacation is memorable instead of a horror story?

DAWN decided to ask a professional traveler, someone who spends his working time assisting tourists and his own time traveling to exotic spots throughout the world.

Antonio Gooding, a purser for Pan Am filled the bill. He is in charge of operations and assigned flights and makes sure that his passengers enjoy every moment aboard.

Besides English, Antonio speaks German, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese.

DAWN caught up with the world traveler while he was in charge of a luxurious 747 flight to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. When he had a free moment, the purser outlined some traveling tips for DAWN readers.

First of all, wear comfortable clothes, preferably layered, and travel lightly.

Most international flights allow two pieces of luggage per passenger and a carry on bag which must fit under the passenger's seat.

Remember, there may not be anyone available to carry luggage at your destination. It may be you.

When packing use every

By J. Wilfrid Gagen

inch of space such as stuffing socks and stockings into shoes. Pack clothing flat. Even better, roll shirts and pants together, separates that will be worn at the same

Another important reminder from the world traveler: pack cosmetic articles in a waterproof bag and make sure that deodorant and shaving cream cans are not completely full.

As for what to pack, start by thinking in terms of one basic color. Perhaps a man's jacket could be selected that will work with several pairs of pants or a woman's blazer sweater to wear in the cool Rio evening.

CARNIVAL - In Rio, Carnival time is THE time when celebrations go on for five days. These specially designed costumes are for some of Brazil's famous Samba dancers.

It can also be used to stretch a mini wardrobe of pants, skirts and dresses. Think in terms of easy care polyester or fabrics that come to life after a few moments near the steam of a hotel shower.

For added color, select an interesting scarf, a print blouse, a versatile tie.

Before landing, Gooding filled in DAWN on Rio. The

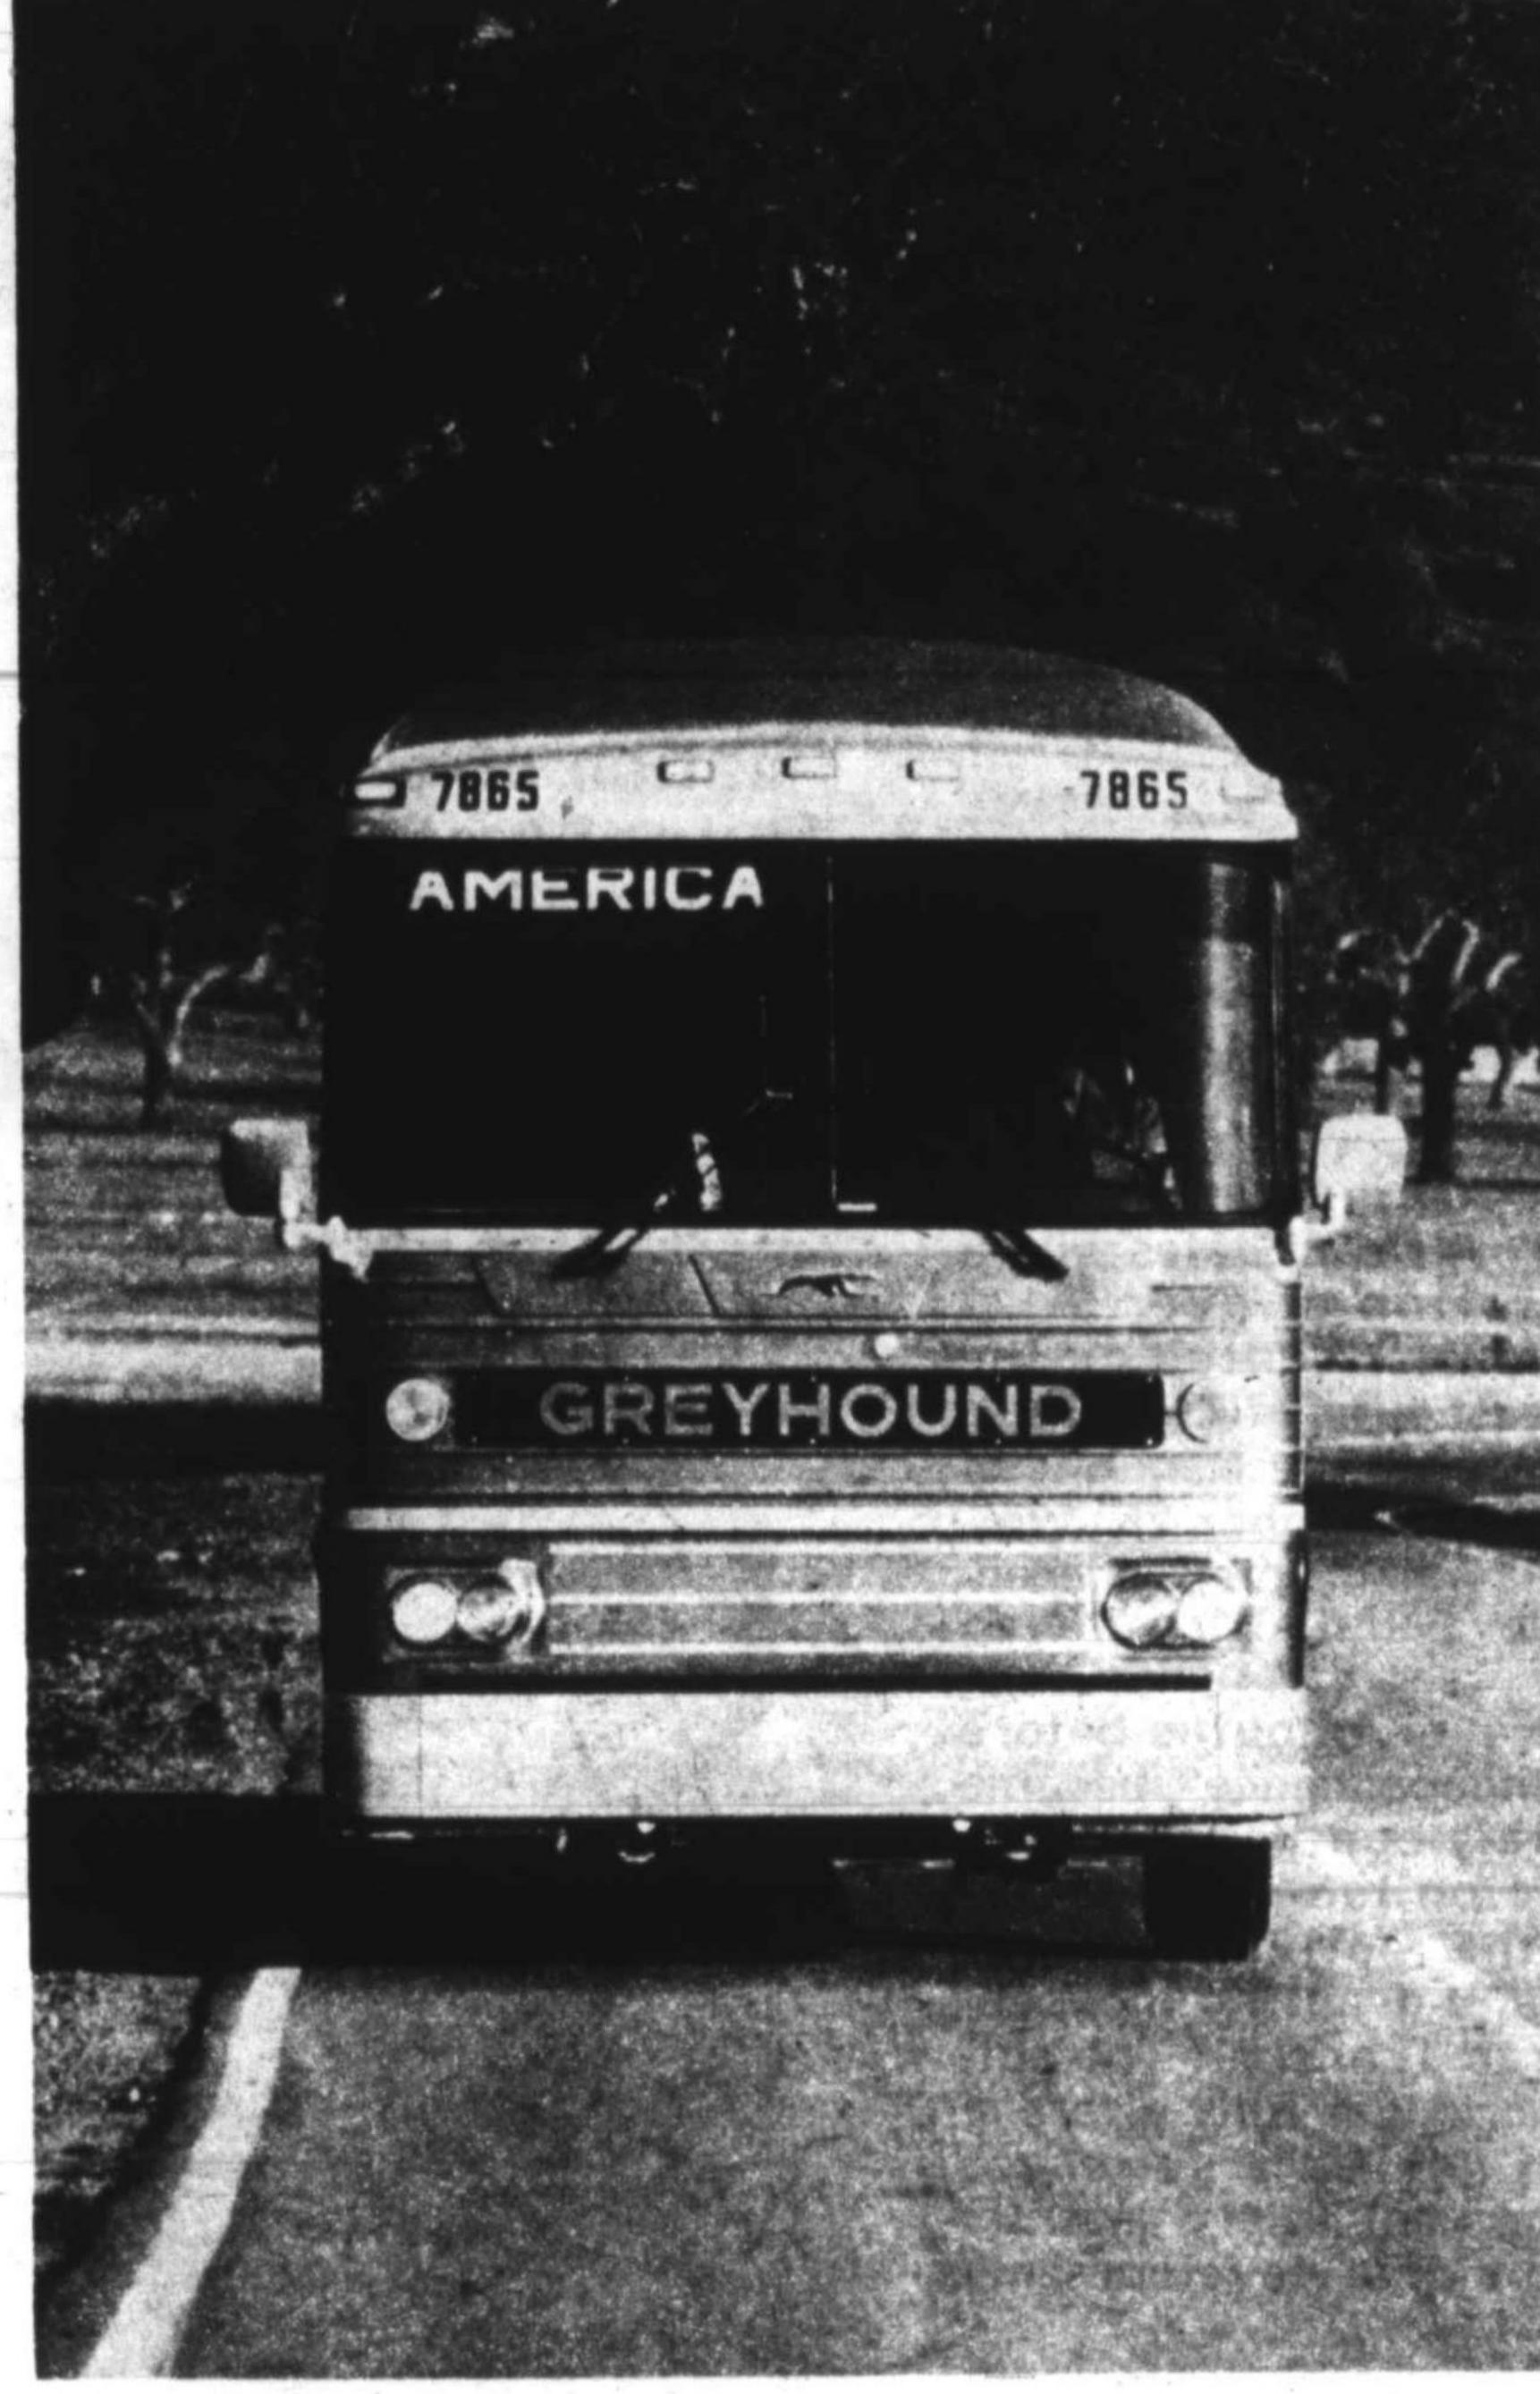

(Continued on Page 23)

PANORAMA — Antonio and friend relax atop the Hotel Othon Palace while enjoying the Rio scene. For the fashion conscious, she is wearing a peasant inspired top and flounce skirt in polyester. It's Wear - dated by Monsanto and designed by June Francis.

You can spend your money saving time.

Or you can spend your time saving money.

When you're in a hurry, take the next jet out. But when you're not, relax and take Greyhound. The savings are usually significant—in many cases, the money you save over an airline ticket is enough to cover a lot of nice things when you get there.

Plus, we'll show you America up close, in the comfort of our luxurious Americruisers.

So you have a choice when you travel.

A jet can get you there with time to spare. A Greyhound can get

