Family, friend honor Leone Felton

In December, Leone Felton hung up her hat after 27 years of government service. Ever since, relatives have been plotting a retirement party in her honor. . . . first it was to be a surprise, but that didn't work.

But this past Saturday evening, February 23, husband, Joe and daughter, Beverley Williams and her husband, Woody, put it all together.

They invited Leone's club members — the Just Users and the Bon Coeurs— as well as neighbors, friends and relatives. They were wall-to-wall at the Williamses' swank Stony Ridge Drive Place.

Of course, husband, Joe, fixed all the delicious dishes, assisted by daughters, Beverley, Burnetta Brown, and Anita Malone and her hubby, Alex.

Leone Felton

Grandchildren, Marsha Burnett and Lanaya Williams, delighted guests as they enthusiastically helped the honoree open the dozens of gifts.

Mrs. Felton was a Social Security employee for the last 14 years of her government service, and held the post of social insurance examiner when she retired on December 28, 1979.

Well - wishers about included: Earl and Paly Anderson, Leon and Evelyn White, Calvin and Helen Royster, William and Emma Morris, Billy and Mary Bevans, Alphonso and Drunell Cottman, Harold and Ethel Carter, Paul and Bettye Moss, Edward and Margaret Peck, Billy and Marguerite Carroll;

American Businesswomen's Freedom Chapter meets

By Pattie Hodges, AFRO Staff Writer

The Freedom Chapter of the American Businesswomen's Association held its monthly meeting on Monday, Feb. 18 at the Holiday Inn, Belmont. 50 members came out for an informative and enjoyable evening. The social hours was from 6 until 6:30 p.m.

Following this members enjoyed a delicious sit - down dinner.

Special guest speaker of the evening was Oprah Winfrey (of Channel 13) who spoke on the topic "Women in Broadcasting."

She told the assembled members that getting into broadcasting is largely a matter of luck, of being in the right place at the right time.

She also favored the assemblage with some biographical information about herself and with some poetry readings.

Vocational speaker for the evening was Mrs. Pamela F. Woods, public relations committee member of the group and a compliance officer with the U.S. Depat. of Labor, Wage and Hour division.

Mrs. Woods told of the qualifications necessary to acquire a job in her field.

The purpose of the American Business Women's Association is to promote the professional, educationa, cultural and social advancement of the businesswomen.

The Freedom Chapter of Baltimore is a part of the National American Businesswomen's Association. There are 1800 chapters across the country. There are six chapters in Baltimore.

Officers of the Freedom Chapter are: Mrs. Donna Sikora, president; Mrs. Ruth Bozeman, vice president; Ms. Mildred Erek, recording secretary; Ms. Carolyn Catra, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Sarah Jones, treasurer.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is March 17. A special enrollment event is planned for March 15 at the Woodlawn branch of the Baltimore County Library.

SSA retirees enjoy lives of ease

Any hour of any day one is certain to meet one or more Social Security retirees in one of the local shopping centers.

That's the way it was on Saturday morning when we met Mrs. Deellear M. Royster trying to evade the crowd at a Security Boulevard shopping center.

Mrs. Royster retired last June after completing thirty - seven years of Federal Service and we were curious to know just what she has been doing with her free time.

She didn't hesitate to tell me that she is still actively engaged in booking vacation trips for a travel agency. The travel agency employed her on a part - time basis for several years prior to her retiring from SSA.

The best thing about retirement according to Mrs. Royster is being able to do the things you want to do, when you want to do them. Mrs. Royster began her Social Security career in the Numerical Register section in March, 1943.

Before coming to SSA she worked for HEW (Health, Education & Welfare) in Washington an Edgewood, Md., and.

At the time of her retirement she was working in the Disability Claims processing operation.

A member of the Mt. Winans United Methodist Church, Deellear is the Lay Delegate to the Methodist Convention and Vice President of the United Methodist Women. Reverend Joseph Mack is her minister.

She is also an Eastern Star and a member of the Clan Social Club.

Mrs. Royster states that her husband, Elijah is enjoying her retirement just as much as her because she has been preparing his breakfast each morning before he leaves the house for work. "I can always go back to bed after he has gone." states the retiree.

The Roysters live in the Woodlawn area. They are the parents of one daughter who heads up the counseling department at Clifton Park Junior high school. Their granddaughter Kimberly Karen Brown attends the John Paul II Catholic School.

Mrs. Martha Holland retired three years ago with over thirty - four years of Federal Service and according to her she still hasn't caught up with her housework.

Her days are very quiet and restful and although she misses her former co - workers, she hasn't once thought about her former correspondence scouting days. She keeps informed by actively participating with the Social Security Alumnai group.

Martha started as a Key Punch Operator in the downtown Candler Building. She is a member of Macedonia Baptist Church where the Reverend Willard Clayton serves as minister.

The first place winner of the recent Woodlawn Toastmistress speech was Mrs. Betty Brown, supervisor at the new Metro West Social Security Building.

The title of Mrs. Browns speech was "Accomplishment of Your Mind."
