Hughes and key legislative leaders, but said he is unsure of the level of political support the recommendations will get among state legislators.

"My sense is if the leadership supports the recommendations and the governor supports them they have a good chance for passage in the 1984 legislative session," Civiletti said.

Baltimore school superintendant Alice Pinderhughes, who attended the GBC luncheon, said she hopes city officials will push for acceptance of the task force's findings in Annapolis.

"I am very encouraged by the recommendations and think they could make a significant difference in the quality of education if the recommendations are adopted," Pinderhughes said.

Also unclear is how the additional school spending, which could cost $180 million to $244 statewide over the next five years would be funded. Civiletti suggested increases in state personal, corporate or other taxes, or cuts to other programs as ways to avoid a hike in property taxes.

Civiletti closed his remarks by saying strong educational programs benefit business, and that companies across the nation are finding ways to support education.

"They are doing it because it makes good business sense, good community sense and good human sense. You in the Baltimore business community are doing it, and for that I thank you," Civiletti said.

'ROUND THE WORLD ADVENTURE SERIES

Around the world in 80 days! Every year 1,500 lucky travelers recreate Jules Verne's fantasy aboard the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth 2—and Baltimore audiences can share the excitement when "The World Cruise of the QE2" is shown in the 'Round the World Adventures series sponsored by the Maryland Academy of Sciences.

The film-lecture, which will be narrated in person by its producer, Doug Jones, will be presented at the Lyric Opera House on Thursday, December 1, at 6 p.m. and Friday, December 2, at 5:30 and 8 p.m.

The QE2's world cruise begins and ends in New York. Its ports of call include Martinique, Rio de Janeiro, Cape Town Sri Lanka, Madras, Singapore, Bangkok, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Waikiki, and Acapulco. Mr. Jones's film also includes scenes of life aboard the ocean liner, which resembles a small and very luxurious city.

Season tickets for the 'Round the World Adventures series are still available. Season subscriptions are offered at a discount which enables patrons to see the remaining six programs for less than the cost of single-admission tickets.
