Stacey Evans got a job ..and we're honored.

Around the time Stacey got her job, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation, manufacturer of KOOL cigarettes and other fine tobacco products was honored with a CEBA Award.* What these two seemingly unrelated events have in common is the "KOOL Hotline On Jobs" Program.

Naturally, it was a great honor to receive the coveted and highly prestigious CEBA Award–especially since it was the first time in history that a company has won it four years in a row for the same program.

Yet, as great an honor as the CEBA is, we think it's an even greater honor to hear from people like Stacey telling us that our KOOL Hotline program has helped them get a job.

When we hear from them, it tells us that our Hotline program is not just working, but it's working extremely well. In fact, the Hotline has been officially credited with helping several thousand people get jobs.

So far, we have expanded the program to five cities and it's continuing to help people like Stacey. It's continuing to receive proclamations from the mayors of those cities. And it's continuing to make us proud.

Congratulations, Stacey. Thanks for allowing us to help.

Bears' plights looms darker at Tenn. State

No one enjoys the prospect of having to accentuate the negative, but that seems to be the realistic way of evaluating Morgan State's chances Saturday.

The Bears in a continuation of the darkest era in their football history, travel to Nashville, Tenn., for a weekend visit to Tennessee State's homecoming scene.

Morgan has won no games this year, as all must know. The Tigers have lost only once, that to undefeated Grambling.

• • •

Obviously, the plight of first-year coach Jesse Thomas and his charges is not lessened by the knowledge that the Nashville school boasts a tradition of being a perennial contender for national honors.

With a sports-conscious administration and the generous support of the state government, the Tennessee State program has flourished while Morgan's has diminished.

• • •

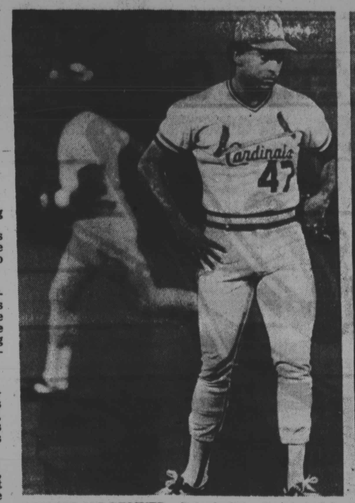
Currently 0-6 for the year, Morgan also is 0-18 in the past two-and-a-half campaigns. The Bears have not won since achieving a one-point 15-14 decision over Howard University in Nov. 1983.

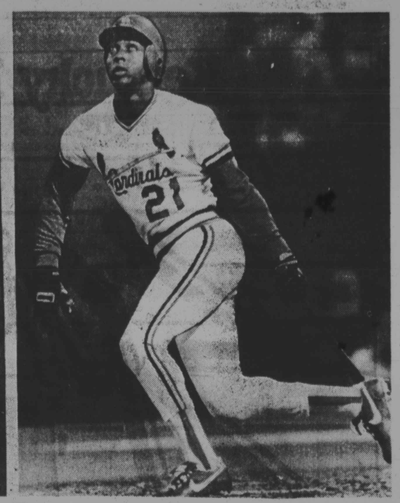
Over that same period Tennessee has compiled a record of 16 wins against 5 losses....SAM LACY.

7 black college elevens ranked

With unbeaten Grambling leading the way, seven teams from black schools are ranked this week by the NCAA Football Committee.

They are Grambling No. 2 (behind Richmond), Delaware State No. 7, and Mississippi Valley No. 12, in Division 1-AA; Central (Ohio) State No. 2, Fort Valley (Ga) State No. 3, Norfolk State No. 5, and Winston-Salem (NC) No. 13, in Division II.





RAVAGED AND RESCUED — St. Louis pitcher Joaquin Andujar (47) angered and distraught, stands but can't watch as Kansas City's Frank White (background) circles bases on homerun that ravaged Andujar's effort to win third game of the World Series. But some solace was forthcoming in fourth contest when Tito Landrum (21) joined teammate Willie McGee in slamming homers that propelled the Cardinals to a 3-0 victory and a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven set for the championship and the champagne.

CBA schedules tryouts for young cage hopefuls

The Continental Basketball Association will conduct a free-agent tryout camp for its 1985-86 season, November 1-3 at Montgomery College in Rockville.

The tryouts, also being held around the country, will supply the 14-team league with 140 players. The CBA, the nation's only AAA pro basketball league, continually serves as a springboard to the NBA. Thirty-nine former CBA players were signed by NBA teams by the end of the 1984-85 season.

The league is designed to serve as a training ground for not only players, but coaches and referees as well. Under the NBA-CBA Player Development Program, any NBA team can sign a CBA player at anytime.

The CBA, now in its 38th season, was formed in 1946. In 1978, Jim Drucker was appointed commissioner of the league and increased the value of each franchise from $8,000 to $500,000.

Applications for the free-agent tryout camp can be obtained by contacting Chuck Bollweg at 301-774-2758, or writing to the CBA, P.O. Box 236, Sandy Springs, Maryland 20860.

Shotgun shower disrupts high school football game

DETROIT (UPI) -- A gunman stepped out of a car and sprayed shotgun pellets into a high school football stadium Friday, wounding six people attending a homecoming game, police said.

The victims, ranging in age from 14 to 20 years old, were shot after a car carrying up to four people approached the grandstands during the game between Detroit Murray Wright and Detroit Northwestern high schools.

A spokesman for the Detroit police said one person from the car fired the pellets into the crowd, contradicting a witness at the game who said he saw three people fire the shots.

"Three guys in a car shot into the stands and everybody ran," James Carter said. "When everybody cleared away, there was a girl laying down on the stands. Everybody surrounded her, trying to protect her."

Police identified three victims as Rodrick Jackson, 17, a Murray Wright student, shot in both legs; Lakisa Boone, 14, a ninth-grader at Murray Wright, shot in the ear; and Prentis Delaney, 13, of Northwestern High School, shot in the back.

The other names were not immediately released.

Medic says athletes regard steroids part of training

Steroids have replaced stimulants as the "premier drug" in world - class athletics, and future drug testing may focus on a relaxant commonly used by archers and sharpshooters, a leading sports physician said.

Dr. Carleton Nordschow, director of drug testing for the 1987 Pan American Games, said Friday many athletes continue to use steroids "because they honestly believe it should be part of their train ing program.

"They really don't even question it," he said.

Nordschow also said although steroids have replaced stimulants as the "premier" drug in athletics, anti - hypertensive chemicals may become the drugs of the future, especially in archery and shshooting sports which require a steady heart beat.

He said the anti - hypertensive drugs, called beta blocker," are used to lower blood pressure and smooth out heart rates. He said the drugs are "commonly" used by Olympians "who have fine skills like shooting pistols or the bow and arrow — people who need to steady their nerves. They are used a lot."

He said he expects the International Olympic Committee to ban the anti - hypertensive drugs for the 1988 Olympics in South Korea.
