

Subscribe today!

yourfavorite teams. players and coaches. along with feature articles on the winners and the losers in CIAA. SIAC, SWAC and MEAC sports. You'll only find one publication dedicated solely to black college sports... we're the one.

BLACK COLLEGE SPORT REVIEW

PLEASE ENTER MY SUBSCRIPTION TO BLACK COLLEGE	PLEASE ENTER MY SUBSCRIPTION TO BLACK COLLEGE
SPORTS REVIEW. I HAVE ENCLOSED CHECK M.O. FOR THE AMOUNT OF $15.00 WHICH ENTITLES ME TO	SPORTS REVIEW. I HAVE ENCLOSED CHECK M.O. FOR THE AMOUNT OF $15.00 WHICH ENTITLES ME TO
RECEIVE TWELVE ISSUES OF THIS PUBLICATION.	RECEIVE TWELVE ISSUES OF THIS PUBLICATION.
NAME	NAME
ADDRESS	ADDRESS
ITY STATE	CITY STATE
ZIP	ZIP

BLACK COLLEGE REPORT

From Page 11

Black College Sports Review

Holland, an offensive guard who cluding Sheridan all-America honors. hopes to be drafted by an NFL team in May, was named the CIAA Offensiv Player of the Year by the club.

McCormick Surprised

When Steve McCormick was senior at Durham Hillside High School, he wondered if he would even play college football.

The college scouts only took a token interest in McCormick despite an outstanding senior season as a tight end under Coach Sam Jones. An assistant at North Carolina A&T nearly trashed McCormick's vita sheet before rescuing it and placing a call.

"No one knew me at A&T when I was a senior in high school," McCormick recalled. "I was told that member of the coaching staff was cleaning off his desk and was going name on a crumpled letter."

Although the Aggie assistant did not offer McCormick a scholarship, he did encourage the Durham native to enroll at A&T and try out as a walk-on.

McCormick experienced a winning weren't going too well. The second campaign as a senior. His final season year they put me on defense and I also had its personal rewards, in- began to the see the light."

"I have no regrets," the 6-foot-2, 240-pound offensive lineman said. "It has been an enjoyable playing career at

"If I get drafted, I'll go and give it my best shot. But I'm not putting everything on a professional contract My degree means a lot to me."

Super Dent

The Super Bowl teams were well represented by black college alumni and Tennessee State's Richard Dent turned in the most satisfying effort.

Dent was named the game's Most Valuable Player, leading a Chicago having been in the NFL for 14 years. defense that held New England to 123 total yards.

The 6-foot-5, 263-pound star of the Bears' 46 alignment has always been confident he could play pro football through his trash when he saw my although his career took some interesting turns.

"When I was growing up in high school, I got the feeling I could play NFL football," Dent said. "At Tennessee State, they had me in the offen-Three losing seasons went by before sive line for the first year and things Teammate Walter Payton, rapidly gaining the reputation as the greatest player in NFL history, may not have played a dominant role in the Bears' 46-10 rout of the Patriots. But the Bears would not have been in the title game without the Jackson State alumnus, who led Chicago in rushing (1,551 yards) and receiving (49 catches for 483

Other black college players in the Super Bowl included Chicago cornerback Leslie Frazier (Alcorn State), New England defensive end Julius Adams (Texas Southern) and Patriot offensive tackle Steve Moore (Tennessee State). Adams was the most experienced player in the Super Bowl,

Springs Wins

Andre Springs, golf coach at Livingstone, captured the East-West Classic in Scottsdale, Ariz., recently.

Springs shot a three-round total of 220 and won by seven shots over other way. Ashley Smith of Oakland. Smith was a three-time defending champion.

The tournament was sponsored by the National Minority Junior Golf Association. Springs is a Fayetteville

Virginia State-alumnus Al Bumbry has been named the minor-league batting instructor of the Boston Red Sox.

The 14-year big-league veteran retired after spending last season with the San Diego Padres. He had a career average of .281 and stole 254 bases. The Fredricksburg, Va., native spent 13 of his seasons with the Baltimore Bumbry replaces the popular Tommy Harper, who was fired in December. Harper had played and worked for the Red Sox for 14 seasons. twice winning American League stolen-

Harper hurt his standing with the club when he took a stance on an offthe-field situation last spring. Only white members of the organization were given free guest cards to the Elks Club of Winter Haven, Fla., site of the Bosox training facility. Harper openly criticized the Red Sox for looking the

The firing of Harper, whose salary was reported to be $40,000, was not a surprise. The Red Sox have a poor record in developing of black and Latin players.

MEAC REPORT

move, many had called the tournament "The Aggie Invitational" because the games were played at the Greensboro Coliseum, in the Aggies' back yard. But "Aggie Pride" obviously travels

After trailing Howard by seven points with about four minutes left in last year's championship game, the Aggies' Jimmy Brown scored on a threepoint play after Eric Boyd stole the ball from Howard's Robert Jones. That put A&T up 66-63 and sealed another Aggie title with 1:43 left.

in the MEAC until it defeats the Aggies bett.

in the tournament finals.

After all, that's the game that really

"We (A&T) can hold our home Given A&T's penchant for finding a court in the MEAC, and if we can split way to win, no matter what, many our road games, maybe by tournament won't accept Howard as the new power time we'll be competitive," said Cor-

Anyone who has followed MEAC basketball knows the Aggies will be ready to play when tournament time rolls around. But the person who knows that best is A.B. Williamson.

Jim Trotter is a freelance writer in Washington, D.C., who attends Howard University.

PROFILE

From Page 7

the footsteps of her sister. Annette played countless one-on-one games, was the CIAA's academic Athlete of the Year in 1985.

schools. So I had to learn my role."

It seems no role is too big for

"I had to get away from home," Huntley, who also ranks fifth in the play, she may very well be headed for Huntley, who was an athletic and Carolyn said. "I was good when I was conference in blocked shots. She's had the 1988 Olympics in Seoul, South academic standout at WSSU. In fact, in high school, but when I got to col- a handful of triple doubles (double Korea. Annette, with whom Carolyn has lege there were five girls on the floor figures in three statistical categories) who had been the stars at their high this season and has flirted with quadruple doubles several times.

If Huntley continues her outstanding

"I started thinking about it in '84," she admitted. "It would be nice to get the opportunity."

From Page 12

stay with the perimeter game a little bit

Russell Ellington welcomes the stay. When I stop learning, then it's to be pretty tough." more, we'd be much more pleased. challenge of leading a team that com- time for me to move on to some other Sometimes she gets in there and does a bines excellent hoop skills with a flair things. That's the way I feel about life. Craig T. Greenlee is executive editor of can learn coaching," he says, "I'll when you stop learning, then it's going Atlanta.

good job, but other times she'll get hit for making people laugh. "As long as I It should be a learning process because, American Illustrated Magazine in