Dorothy S. Stone, and Elaine Alexander.

One soror's spouse, Richard Mitchell, traveled with the organization. Twelve of his family members were guests at the Awards Banquet which culminated the weekend activities.

Delegates to the conference were M's Sandra Wilmer, Sheila Jessup and Elaine Alexander.

Mrs. Ovella D. Queen is the Northeastern Regional Director and M's Elaine Alexander is Basileus of the Iota Chapter, Baltimore.

BCAP HOSTS

The Balto. County Political Action Coalition is well on its way toward establishing itself as a viable and valuably important organization among blacks in Baltimore County, particularly in the Northwest section of the County.

On Sunday, October 26, its officers and organization members hosted a social/political activity in the spacious home of Matthew and Valerie Frailing. Its purpose was to apprise the then political hopefuls of the issues and concerns of many Black Baltimore Countians.

Among those concerns and issues were such things as crime and drugs, care for the indigent, job opportunities, programs and legislation to benefit the elderly in Balto. County, child abuse, the need for more foster homes, and the ambivalence of the Grahmm-Rudman Law.

Speaking to these issues were Paula Hollinger, who also represented Barbara Mikulski and Kweisi Mfume. Mrs. Hollinger was the political hopeful for State Senate. And, Mfume the hopeful for the House of Representatives, 7th District.

Other guests at the activity included: Carl Swann, Lenwood Johnson, Alan "Dicky" Burke, Ronald Gordon, Joan Powell, Sheilah Davenport, Eugene Easter, Delores and Rod Hart, George and Barbara Musgrove, Attorney Gerald Smith, and wife Gwen, Wilbert and Barbara Latny, Rita and Edward Cooper, Charles Pettus, Sr., Betty Knight, Howard Dixon, Joan Brown, Clestie Myers, I. Margaret Bass, Ethel Gordon, Mildred Stephens, Glenda Carter, Walter Dean, Faye Burnett, Alvin Wilson, Harriet Howard, and Margaret Campbell, President of the Orchard St. Museum.

The guest politicians made a point of saying that groups such as the BCPAC were needed. BCPAC is about the task of enlightening the public about the concerns of all, especially those of blacks. It is indeed a public service.

Its members share a common interest in expanding the political involvement of blacks in the Balto. County area. The expanding group is composed of some of the County's leading Black citizens.

Norman Ross is the group's President. The Vice President is Lenore Johnson; Louise Littlejohn, Secretary - Treasurer; Gloria Marrow, Public Relations Office; Marie Henderson, Political Analyst and Liason; Dr. Matthew Frailing, Chaplain; and Valerie Frailing, Membership Chair.

Other members include Ruth Ross, Sedonia Williamson, Cynthia Nelson, Shela Bennett, Carolyn Tutman, Richard Andrews. Lillie Thaniel, and Julia Woodland. Mrs. Woodland served as the spokeswoman - hostess for the activity held on October 26.

PI OMEGA FOUNDERS' DAY

Pi Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity will celebrate its Founders' Day and Achievement Week with a programs and dinner at The Forum, 4210 Primrose Ave. on November 23, from 5-9 p.m.

Scheduled speakers are Moses C. Norman, Grand Basileus and Chief Executive Officer of the Omegas, and Kweisi Mfume, candidate for Congress from the 7th Congressional district.

Omega Psi Phi, one of the oldest of the Greek letter fraternities was founded on the campus of Howard University in 1911 by Ernest E. Just, renowned biologist and three of his outstanding students, Edgar A. Love, Frank Coleman and Oscar J. Cooper, and was based on the four cardinal principles of manhood, uplift, scholarship and perseverance. Since that time it has grown to over 100,000 members and some 600 graduate and under-graduate chapters world wide.

Pi Omega, the local chapter, was chartered in 1920. Its recently elected officers are: Basileus, George K. McKinney; Vice Basileus, Arthur W. Lambert; Keeper of Records and seals, Walter E. Riddick; Keeper of Finance, Roderick E. Richardson; Keeper of Peace, Osborne B. Dixon, Jr.; Keeper of Property, Melvin L. Fossett; Parliamentarian, Joseph R. Walker, Jr.; Chaplain, Donald Atlinson; Editor, Ronald Spencer; Asst. Keeper of Records and Seal, William L. Reaves; Asst. Keeper of Finance, Lewis E. Logan; Asst. Keeper of Property, Steve O. Smith; Member at Large, Roosevelt L. Hobbs; Member at Large, Lester Buster; Member at Large, James Griffin and Immediate Past Basileus, Judson B. Wood.

The chapter took possession of its own Frat House at 2002 Presbury two years ago and it has become a focal point for all types of community activities. As part of its increased involvement in civic and community work, each of the 120 active and financial brothers is a registered voter. The chapter is a supporter of the NAACP, The Urban League, and the Mrs. Santa Program. It makes an annual contribution of $4000 to the United Negro College Fund, and raised a total of $15,000 via its annual Mardi Gras for scholarships. Four $1000 scholarships were awarded this year to college students and a total of $4100 in scholarship aid went to seven students in four local high schools.

In addition the chapter has adopted as its special project the Matthew Henson School, adjacent to the Frat House. The chapter has also provided 50 food baskets of 30 pounds each for needy families during the Christmas holidays.

These activities are only a part of the parcel of Omegas commitment as college trained men to the betterment and enrichment of our city and community.

Annette R. March weds Arthur D. Grier

NEW BRIDE Mrs. Arthur Donald Grier shakes hands with a well wisher following her Oct. 18 marriage at St. Ann's Catholic Church. She is the former Annette Roberta March, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William March, proprietors of the March Funeral Homes.

Annette Roberta March, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. March, Baltimore, (proprietors of the March Funeral Homes) was united in matrimony to Arthur Donald Grier, son of Doris Gilliam, also of Baltimore.

The single - ring nuptials were officiated by Father Joseph Muth, Jr. at St. Ann's Catholic Church, Saturday, Oct. 18 at 7 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory white fitted gown, designed by Eva Forsyth, with overlays of Florentine lace, a mandarin neckline and an angel-winged capelet-bodice which also had overlays of lace. Her headband repeated the theme of the lovely gown and ended in a cathedral - length train. She carried a bouquet of silk flowers by Crip's Florist.

Maid - of - honor Sharon Haskins, Baltimore, wore a gown of black, gold and bronze, and carried silk flowers around candle-lit hurricane lamps.

The bridesmaids, who wore the tulip-shaped T-length dresses in the same colors as the maid-of-honor's, were Alva Smith, Kathy Crosby and Michelle Grier, Baltimore, Barbara Bailey, Rhode Island and Cynthia March Malloy, Virginia.

Flower Girls Carmalita and Melissa March, Baltimore, wore emerald green and gold T-length dresses.

Best Man was Edward Watkins, Baltimore. ushers were Gregory Matthews, Charles Preston, Jonathan Garvin and Randolph Darkins, Baltimore, and Frank Mayo, Aberdeen, MD.

Musical Program's Organist was William "Bill" Cummings. Soloist was Lora Hargrove.

A reception was hosted for the couple at the Power Plant, Inner Harbor which was decorated with Gold and Black helium balloons and ribbons stating "Annette and Arthur." The theme of the Reception, which featured entertainment by Bill Cummings and orchestra, and delectables catered by Jonathan Edges, was "A Beautiful Day Touched by Love."

The bride is a graduate of Notre Dame Prep School, Towson, and the University of Delaware. She is the Director of Public Relations, for March's Funeral Homes.

The groom is a graduate of Polytechnic High School and Catonsville Community College. He is the Director of the Greater Baltimore Record Pool and Director of Marketing for Paramount Limousines. The new Mr. and Mrs. Grier honeymooned in Hawaii, and are at home in Baltimore.

How To Win A Mate In The Laundry Room

DEAR INEZ: My boyfriend does his own laundry, but his shirts always seem to have a ring-around-the-collar. How can I get him to use a different detergent without being told to mind my own business? —RINGLESS GIRLFRIEND

DEAR RINGLESS: You are one lucky gal! Just think, if the two of you do get together for good, you'll get a real prize—a man who does his own laundry can certainly be a big help with other household chores.

This man is worth fighting for! Let him know that you think he's a special kind of guy because he does his own wash. You may even want to share your own laundry secrets with him.

Ask him what detergent he uses and then ask him if he has ever used WISK, America's No. 1 liquid laundry detergent for over 25 years. Then explain to him how WISK gets ring-around-the-collar and your whole wash clean.

Tell him that to get the best results for pretreating and removing those rings, he should moisten the collar or stained area and rub in a little WISK. Then wash the shirt or garment with the rest of the laundry.

Tell your boyfriend that WISK will outclean any spray or powder on his ring-around-the-collar and will also work well in any water temperature—cold, warm and hot.

With all of this good advice, it's my guess that if he's a man who knows a good thing when he sees it, he'll put a ring around your finger soon enough.

NEW BODY SPRAY GETS YOU NOTICED

DID YOU KNOW THAT "Impulse" has added a brand-new fragrance to its body spray collection? It's called ELATION and many of the young women I know are very enthused and excited about it.

ELATION's fresh, tingling fragrance is sure to catch the attention of any man. This all-over perfumed body spray provides the assurance of a gentle, effective deodorant that you can spray on your arms, legs, back, stomach and underarms.

You'll love the fact that ELATION's adventurous scent lingers on your body. "Impulse" was America's first body spray and it has been No. 1 in the U.S. ever since.

ELATION, like other "Impulse" fragrances, comes in a small, spill-proof size that you can carry almost anywhere—your purse, glove compartment, briefcase or gym bag.

There are seven delightfully feminine "Impulse" fragrances, but you can easily spot ELATION's distinctive silver and red container.

Feel its excitement in the air, especially when a man you've never met suddenly presents you with flowers.

HOW TO WARM UP WINTER MORNINGS

WINTER IS THE SEASON that brings cold, snowy mornings. This is the time of year that we all wake up and want a hot, hearty breakfast—like pancakes, waffles, French toast and other hot breads.

My family loves these foods topped with MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S syrup. It is thick 'n rich and made with Grade A butter.

That's why the Kaisers love MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S.

And even if you're counting calories, you don't have to worry about those calories adding up and around. MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S LITE has 45% less calories and sugar than regular MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S.

What's more, because it is the only "lite" syrup made with Grade A butter, you won't miss out on that great buttery taste.

Both the regular and "lite" versions of MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S syrup will make those cold mornings so much warmer and enjoyable for your entire family.

GUEST SPEAKERS Boyce Mosley, principal of Northwestern Senior High School and Ms. Jan Dates, Administrator, Coppin State College "square off" amicably during the annual Breakfast Program hosted by the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc. at the Forum, Primrose Ave. Friday, Nov. 7.

CLAIRE DORSEY (L) Chairperson for the event, interfaces with Ms. Hilda Ford, Personnel Director, Civil Service Commission of Baltimore City.

BEATRICE AVERY, Chairperson, gets pinned by Delores B. Dorsey, Breakfast committee member.

Phi Delta Kappa holds annual Breakfast Program

The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc., Gamma Chapter, held its annual Breakfast Program, which is hosted in conjunction with the Maryland State Teachers' Convention, Friday, Nov. 7 at the Forum, Primrose Ave.

A capacity crowd turned out at 10 a.m. to enjoy a delicious breakfast and an inspirational program.

The theme for this year's affair was "Pursuit of Excellence — A Challenge to Fulfill."

Soror Claire Dorsey, co-chair, presided. The welcome was extended by Soror Angie McCullum and the invocation/grace by Soror Cecelia King.

Special highlights were musical selections by Bill Cummings and the Bethel Christian School Students, accompanied by Ms. Carol Hammond and Ms. Darlene Thurmond.

Soror Lanita Brown introduced the dais guests. Greetings were forthcoming from Soror Ardena Dixon, Eastern Regional Director, Phi Delta Kappa; Ms. Hilda Ford, Personnel Director, Civil Service Commission, Baltimore, who, representing the mayor, brought not only greetings, but two silver plates with the City's seal which she presented to the group.

Others bringing greetings were Joseph Smith, member, Board of School Commissioners, Baltimore City Public Schools; and Dr. Charlene Cooper-Boston, Executive Director, Elementary Education, Baltimore City Public Schools.

Soror Vera Bethune introduced the guest panelists Ms. Jan Dates, Administrator, Coppin State College and Boyce Mosley, principal, Northwestern Senior High School. Both were inspiring.

Ms. Dates did Maya Angelou's poem, 'Still I Rise' with dramatic flair, and tied it in with how we, as educators, must be about the business of getting our children to rise to their potentials and expectations, in spite of the obstacles and evils facing them.

DR. CHARLENE COOPER BOSTON (L) Executive Director, Elementary Education, compares notes with Soror Cecelia L. King, Reading and Language Support Teacher and Breakfast committee member.

Mosley cited the failure of the family, church and school system in meeting the needs of young people, particularly young men, and stated that unless we overcome this, we will never achieve excellence.

He further stated that in order to achieve excellence, schools must have structure, discipline and a strong instructional program, and establish priorities based on the needs of youngsters.

Both Ms. Dates and Mosley were enthusiastically received. They were presented plaques from the sorority.

Mosley entertained questions from the audience after his remarks. It was a highly interesting and informative morning.

Chairperson for the Breakfast was Soror Beatrice W. Avery. Co-chair for the Breakfast was Claire Dorsey. Ticket chairperson was Catherine Thomas. Other committee members were Vera Bethune, Lanita Brown, Delores Dorsey, Barbara Johnson, Cecelia King and Angie McCullum.

Leanna Ferrell, Chapter basileus, gave closing announcements and remarks.

Other Gamma Chapter officers are: Elaine M. Davis, First Anti-Basileus; Lanita Brown, Second Anti-Basileus; Lila Makle, Third Anti-Basileus; Angie McCullum, Grammateus; Charlotte Wheeler, Epistoleus; Nellie Brown, Tamiouchas; Ruth Fauntleroy, Tamias; Thelma Rice, Journalist; Geraldine Shephard, Public Relations and Rose Gallup, Executive Advisor.

STUDENTS PLAN PEN PALS VISIT

A second grade class in the Eutaw Marshburn Elementary Model School Number 11 is the recipient of a $500 award from the "Fund For Educational Excellence program." Teacher Darlene Stewart wrote the proposal requesting funds to finance a pen pal project for her class.

The youngsters have been exchanging letters and pictures with students at the Alexander Wilson school in Philadelphia where Mrs. Stewart formerly taught.

The money, received from a program sponsored with funds raised by local business communities, will pay train fares for approximately 35 local students to travel to Philadelphia where they will meet their pen pals and accompany them on a visit to the Franklin Institute. According to Mrs. Stewart, the trip and visit to the Philadelphia Science Museum will greatly enhance the schools educational enrichment program.

The Baltimore students have already shared their experiences from trips to the downtown aquarium and science center with their new found friends. Both groups are looking forward to the meeting which will take place early next spring. Ms. Louise Smith is principal at the Eutaw Marshburn Elementary School.
