The Best and Worst in TV

About TV

It is that time of year again when television critics around the (CBS) — In one word, BORING! country give their opinions on the best and worst television pro- "Colbys" (ABC) and "Dallas, gramming for 1986, and I am no "Knots Landing" (CBS) — These exception. You may not agree people spend more money and with all of my selections, but at love more times in one hour than least hear me out.

The 10 Worst Television Programs In 1986

. "Jack and Mike" (ABC) Definitely a blatant rip-off of the successful "Moonlight" and not even a good rip-off.

2 "Perfect Strangers" (ABC) — It would have been best if these two relatives had never met each

3. "Scarecrow And Mrs. King" 4. "Dynasty," "Falcon Crest,"

I will do in a lifetime. 5. "Growing Pains" (ABC) -This program is silly beyond belief. If I had given my parents some of the smart aleck remarks given to the parents on this show, I would not be here to write this column. 6. "The Love Boat" (ABC) took a cruise once. Some of the

"hired help." He should have been fired two seasons ago. 8. "MacGyver" (ABC) — I have seen the star of this one in some pretty tight spots and cannot believe that something such as a new co-star, Marsha Warfield, 9. "Wizard" (CBS) — The little have made me get off at the first

. "Who's The Boss" (ABC)

people of the world should revolt and take CBS hostage! This is a definite insult.

10. "Twilight Zone" (CBS) know Rod Serling is turning overin his grave. If you can, watch the old black and white series.

The 10 Best Television

Programs In 1986 1. "The Cosby Show" (NBC) What more can be said about this one. When I am not home, I turn passengers one sees here would on the VCR.

2. "Golden Girls" (NBC) — It is a joy to see middle-aged women in a program full of laughs and entertainment. My favorite character is the mother, who lets

3. "Night Court" (NBC) — This is definitely funny. The series' who plays "Roz," one of the court's bailiff's, delivers that out those lines like a comedic deadpan humor with a zing. 4. "Matlock" (CBS) — As an old "Perry Mason" fan, it is a pleasure to see the skill this lawyer uses to solve his cases.

5. "Murder, She Wrote" (CBS) - A good mystery series, which that the "thing" between "Sam" makes one think. How fast do you solve them?

6. "Amen" (NBC) - Even though this one has won awards idea of the members of a black sky!

church. There are just too many stereotypes for me.

7. "Hill Street Blues" (NBC) -Very realistic. This program lets everyone know that the police are not always right, do not always get their man, and most of all, are human.

8. "L.A. Law" (NBC) — Since its debut, it has steadily gained a following. I like its fast pace and how the story lines are

9. "227" (NBC) — This program sometimes makes me feel Hollywood is trying to make me watch a black "I Love Lucy," with more crazy, meddling neighbors.

10. "Cheers" (NBC) — This is a bar that could be in anyone's neighborhood. Its only fault is and "Diane" is being stretched out too long. Give it a break!

Well, those are my choices. Some offer hope and entertain-. and been given a full season, I ment for television viewers, cannot place it higher on this list while some should have gone to because it portrays Hollywood's that television graveyard in the
