6th Int. State whether or not the said real estate is susceptible of partition among the parties without loss and injury thereto and whether it would be to the interest of all that the said real estate should be sold and the proceeds divided among them? State your reasons for your answer?
Ans. Said real estate is not susceptible of such division at all because it is town property and in its nature can not be divided without loss or injury. I think it would be to the interest of all to have the same sold and the proceeds divided because there is nobody to look after the property and keep it up.

To the Gen. Int. by the Exams.

Ans. I know of nothing further.
