

NO 8313 Equity.

#2 filed with Examiner as evidence.
 I have no personal knowledge of the $\frac{1}{2}$ interest in this 10 acres that is the land itself but from the best information I have of it, it is worth about \$1000. She left the following adult children surviving her as heirs at Law, whom I know personally, Marcie L. Eckard, whose husband's name is Clinton A. Eckard, and Harry M. Geiselman a son by her former marriage all of whom adults, and live in Waverville, this County, than I know Frank M. Palmer and Leland Palmer whose home is also in Waverville this County, these last named two children are by her marriage with James W. Palmer, who also survives Laura V. Palmer, deceased and who is a resident of Tucker's County, Md. and who is about 47 years of age. This property, none of it, is susceptible of division among the parties of interest without loss and injury to the parties therein interested and it would be to the interest and advantage of all the parties to this suit and especially to the interest and advantage of the two infant children that this property be sold under a decree of the Court, and the proceeds arising therefrom be divided among them all according to their respective interests. - I say this for the reason that the house upon the property in Exhibit #1 is vacant and unoccupied and in its present state it is yielding no rent nor income to any of the parties an interest in it, and this condition it will rapidly depreciate in value & also know that there are two other children of Laura V. Palmer living are named Emma Saylor the other Charles C. Geiselman but I do not know them personally, have Examination waived to General Interrogatory
