Ans

Yes Sir, It is.

9th Sub

State if that note has been paid so far as you know?

Ans

No Sir: It hasn't.

10th Sub

Did you at any time converse with Henry Eicholtz after John Wolf's death about that note?

Ans

Yes, I did.

11th Sub

State what that conversation was?:- (Excepted to)

Ans

In the first place after Wolf was dead, about a month, Mr. Miller sent this notice and opened Mr. Eicholtz came up with the notice that he had got and I said to him we would pay the interest on that note until I could get Wolf's share of it. (the note) and he wouldn't agree to it, and that he wrote to Miller about the note, but I don't know what he wrote, but from the letter Miller wrote back to me I thought Eicholtz had wrote that he thought I should pay the whole note, and he gave me no satisfaction except he said he guessed he would he would have to try to pay his share too, and he would come up to see me. He never came, and I went to him the third time and I didn't get any satisfaction then, and it was not long afterwards that he died. I had half of the money and wanted to pay it, and I telephoned in to Miller that I would pay it, I had Mr. Bently to telephone in I got the money of Mr. Bently: So he would not take the money, unless I paid the whole note as it was not mine to pay. The Mr. Miller, Speaker of is J. Marshall Miller the Secretary of the Fredericktown Sav. Inst.
