

Q. Up until the time Mr. Bond went on the police force was he at Mr. Ridenbaugh's place continuously? (Objection).

A. Yes sir, he was.

Q. Day and night?

A. Yes sir he was.

Q. Where did Mr. Bond live?

A. I could not tell you that.

Q. About how many years was it that he was there continuously? (Objection)

A. I could not just tell you that he has been there a good many years.

Q. Was there any one else there helping him while Mr. Bond was there?

A. No sir.

Q. Who did the cooking there?

A. Mr. Bond.

Q. Washing the dishes? (Objection)

A. Mr. Bond.

Q. Who scrubbed the floor? (Objection)

A. Mr. Bond.

Q. Who swept the floor in the house? (Objection)

A. Mr. Bond.

Q. Who waited on the table? (Objection)

A. Mr. Bond.

Q. What did Mr. Ridenbaugh do, if anything? (Objection as leading and immaterial.

A. Mr. Ridenbaugh sat there on a chair and supervised it.

Q. He supervised the work?

A. Yes sir when he was not drunk.

Q. Was he able to do this work himself? (Objection)

A. Sometimes he could get around right well.

Q. During this week that Mr. Ridenbaugh was sick just before he was taken to Mrs. Bear's house did you see any of his relations call around there? (Objection)

A. No sir I did not,

Q. Did he have relations in Brunswick? (Objection)

A. Yes sir.

Q. Who were they?

A. Mrs. Potts, I do not know if the Haws are any relation or not.

Q. Where does the Potts live with reference to the restaurant?

A. They live out in the west end of the town.

Q. Who cooked Mr. Ridenbaugh's meals? (Objection)

A. Mr. Bond when he was there.

Q. Was Mr. Ridenbaugh able to dress himself? (Objection)

A. Yes sir, but Mr. Bond assisted him when he was sick.

Q. Was Mr. Ridenbaugh a large or small man?

A. He was not very tall but right heavy.

Q. Do you know what he weighed?

A. No sir.

Q. Was he a middle aged man?

A. I do not know how old he was.

Q. He was not very young?

A. No sir he did not look so very young.