

58x. How old are they?

A. The oldest girl is 9 years old.

59x. How old is the youngest?

A. He will be six years old in February.

60x. And the next one?

A. The boy will be eight years old in January.

61x. So then in 1911 and 1912 they were each two years younger of course?

A. Yes sir.

62x. Who helped you in your house?

A. No one, I did my own work, and when I didn't do it myself it went undone.

63x. You did all the cooking for the family?

A. yes sir.

64x. Is your husband employed on the railroad?

A. yes sir.

65x. Come home to his meals?

A. yes sir.

66x. You say now that during the two years you were helping him very often?

A. Yes sir.

67x. There every day?

A. yes sir, every day.

68x. But you are not certain whether you saw Charles Bond around?

A. No sir, I didn't see him to the best of my knowledge; I don't remember I ever saw him around there.

69x. You were very friendly with Mrs. Potts; aren't you?

A. Yes sir always been good friends so far as I know.

70x. While Toy was living did anyone else help around there?

A. Only Mr. Tucker.

71x. Where does he live?

A. I can't tell you, he came there, you might as well say as a tramp.

72x. He was there the entire period that you lived over the restaurant?

A. No sir.

73x. How long was he there?

A. I can't tell you that but I know he wasn't there all the time I was there.

74x. What time did he generally close his place of business at night?

A. Anywhere from eleven o'clock to twelve, I judge.

75x. You say you never went to bed until late?

A. Nor until late.

76x. what time did your husband come home?

A. Sometimes five o'clock and sometimes six.

77x. Who looked after the children while you were in the restaurant?

A. I looked after them myself, there wasn't anyone else to look after them but me.

78x. In other words you were trying to be at two places at the same time?

A. That is right exactly.

To the general interrogatory.

Nothing further.
