

said furniture goods and chattels, reserved in my said wife's bequest, is the parlor furniture wall pictures Brick-a-brac and carpet, the whole contents of my daughter Florence R. Shriners sleeping room, My Iron safe and my high clock & desk & Bookcase all of which I give and bequeath to my said daughter Florence R. Shriner absolutely Except said Iron safe and said high clock which I hereby give and bequeath to my son Francis J. Shriner after my said wifes death and said book case I give and bequeath to my said daughter Mary R. Norris absolutely; after my said wifes death I, also give and bequeath to my said wife a promissory note that I now hold against William R. Koontz for the principlay sim of $1183.27 dated April 1st 1890 secured by a chattle Mortgage, or whatever portion thereafter remains unpaid at my decease absolutely-also my Phaeton and harness, also the interest on my bonds and stocks provided she remains my widow. The foregoing devise and bequeaths to my son Francis J. Shriner are in addition to the other property conveyed to him by me and my said wife by deed including spring wagon and harness, --Buggy and Harness Sleigh--Hearse, harness and equipage, if nembioned in said deed, if not, I, hereby give and bequeath the same to hom absolutely. My farm Situated on W.M. Rail Road which was conveyed to me by Mordecai C. McKinsstry. I, give to my two daughters viz: Florence R. Shriner and Mary E. Norris in equal shares on condition hereinafter named, during their or either of their natural lives.

But should either of my said daughters die leaving a child or children living then said child or children shall have their or its mothers interest in said lands when living. But should either of my said daughters, or both, die leaving no child or children living then I give and bequeath unto Dr. Norris, Mary E. Norris', my daughter's husband a life estate in one half of said farm-----

The condition referred to in the bequest of the life Estate bequeathed to my daughter Mary E. Norris in last said farm is that if the said Mary E. Norris, shall within 60 days from the day of my decease shall deliver to my executors hereinafter named, the promissory note she now holds against my for three thousand three husdred dollars, to be by said executors destroyed and of no effect-----

But should my said daughter Mary E. Norris refuse to have said note destroyed, then the said bequest of the half interest in said farm to her my said daughter Mary E. Norris as also that to her said husband shall be void, and of no effect, then in that case I give and devise the said farm to my said wife and my daughter Florence in equal shares, and the other condition referred to above is I reserve the growing crop of grain, and also the crops matured if on hand at my decease to be disposed of as follows--out of which I give and Bequeath to my daughter Florence R. Shriner the sum of one hundred dollars, the residus to be applied to the payment of debts and costs of administration, and then if any to be left I give and bequeath the same to my said wife, All my books I give and bequeath to my three children or the survivor of them equally after my said wifes decease.

All of the foregoing devises to my daughter Florence R. Shriner for life only. I mean are to be for my said wife in trust, if my said wife shall survive her, if not then I mean it all in trust to my daughter mary E. Norris to be applied to the decent support and comfort of my said daughter Florence R. and if their be a surplus of income arising from said life estate, then said trustee shall invest the same from time to time in safe securities, and if said daughter shall die leaving a child or children then said trust shall cease and said child or children shall receive said surplus and accumulation with the other interests hereindefore devised. The rest of my estate, undevised. I hereby authorize my Executors hereinafter named to sell either at public or private sale, and the proceeds arising therefrom to be equally divided among my said three children namely Francis J. Shriner, Mary E. Norris and Florence R. Shriner