

Yes sir. I realize it, he did.

When you and your wife separated you agreed about your personal property, did you not?

No sir.

At the trial of the divorce case did you agree to a division of the personal property?

No sir, I only wanted what was mine, that was all. She got everything.

You know where your wife has been living since your separation?

I know about where.

You have been up to see her?

Yes sir.

If these repairs were necessary why didn't you speak to your wife about making them?

You couldn't talk to her on any subject like that.

Did you try to talk to your wife about making these repairs?

I didn't see where it was necessary.

You never consulted your wife before you made any of these repairs, but you did them on your own responsibility?

I had to do it or the tenants would move out.

You did not consult your wife about making no repairs?

no sir.

You knew your wife was a half owner of the property, why didn't you consult your wife before you made your repairs?

You think I should run to Hagerstown every time I wanted to do something on the house.

Why didn't you speak to her about it?

I didn't see where it was necessary.

You say this house is worth about $1,500.00?

Yes sir.

Will you give $1,500.00 for the house?

I don't know how I would give $1,500 for the house.

Objected to.

Would you, answer yes or no?

No sir.

Under the present conditions in Brunswick, do you know anybody that would give $1,500.00 for this property?

I can't say that I do.

Under present conditions, do you believe anybody would buy this property at any price if put up for sale?

I couldn't say. Somebody would buy, I know.

Don't you know as a matter of fact that there hasn't been a piece of property sold in Brunswick within a year?

Excepted to.

Yes, there has.

Name the property?

A lady, Mr. Mort House's widow, they sold two or three houses.

TO THE GENERAL INTERROGATORY.

Answer.

Nothing further.

Signature waived.

GEORGE E. MILES, a witness of lawful age, produced on behalf of the Plaintiff, having first been duly sworn, deposes and says:-
