

Washington County, the mortgage referred to in the Bill of Complaint, owned the same at the time of the appointment of this respondent as Receiver of said Central Trust Company and the indebtedness secured thereby is now due and owing to this respondent as such Receiver; that the Central Trust Company of Maryland is the rightful owner of the promissory note secured by said mortgage, and this respondent as Receiver aforesaid is entitled to receive payment for the same.

Fourth: This respondent neither admits nor denies the allegations of the seventh paragraph of said Bill.

Fifth: Further answering, this respondent says that he does not object to a sale of the real estate described in the Bill of Complaint, part of which is included in the mortgage now held by this respondent, under a decree in this cause, free, clear and discharged of his mortgage lien, provided proper provision be made for the payment of said mortgage out of the proceeds of sale.
