

Q. How many chairs, do you know?

A. About half a dozen, something like that, I think there were. It has been some time and I never knew I would be called on to testify to anything like that.

Q. You said something about some bedclothes. Could you give the Court an idea?

A. About what they would use on a farm.

Q. Were there three or four sheets, three or four spreads, or a couple pillows?

A. There was a bunch of that kind of stuff; I don't know just what they were. Ada, I guess, could tell you all about that.

Q. You have been acting as agent for Mrs. Harbaugh?

A. Yes.

Q. And she is Executrix?

A. Yes.

To the General Interrogatory:

A. Nothing further.

ADA MAY HARBAUGH, recalled for further examination, deposes and says as follows:-

A. About ten years ago.

Q. Did you give her your note for that?

A. It got lost, I don't know what ever became of it. I gave her a note and it became lost.

Q. Did you pay her interest?

A. No, I didn't pay her anything.

Q. Ever pay her any interest?

A. No, sir.

Q. You say that was about ten years ago?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How do you fix that time?

A. I don't know exactly.

Q. Do you remember what you used the $500 for?

A. I don't know any more.

Q. Did you borrow any other money from Mrs. O'Keefe?

A. No, sir.

CROSS EXAMINATION

(By Mr. Storm)

Q. You tell the Examiner that is the only money you borrowed from your mother, that $500?

A. That is all.

Q. Haven't you borrowed from her on other occasions, $50.00 or $75.00 at a time? You have gotten money from your mother at other times, haven't you?

A. If, I did, I forgot it.

Q. Who would know; your mother is gone?

A. Nobody.

Q. Haven't you borrowed money from your mother on three different occasions, one of which was the occasion you just spoke of, and two other occasions? Didn't you get $300.00 from your mother about the time of your husband's death?

A. Yes, but I gave that back while I was working.

Q. When did you give it back to her?

A. I worked out one summer.

Q. You didn't make $300.00 that summer.
