

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well haven't you any idea as to what that furniture would be worth if sold at public sale?

(Mr. DeLauter) How many rooms are in the house?

A. Six rooms.

Q. Are all six rooms furnished?

A. I couldn't say.

Q. Haven't you been there since your father's death?

A. Well I believe I have been as far as the kitchen I will say maybe a couple times.

Q. (The Court) Mr. Schnauffer I suppose has been in the house, hasn't he?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. What is the sister's name there at home?

A. Myrtle.

Q. What was the amount of the funeral expense?

A. I couldn't tell you. I would have to look at the receipt.

Q. Have you any idea as to the amount?

A. Must have been around $300 I guess.

Q. (Mr. DeLauter) Would the furniture that belonged to your father at the time of his death bring $300?

A. I can say nothing only what I know; no guess work with me.

IRVING HALLER, a witness produced on the part of the plaintiff, being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

By Mr. DeLauter:

Q. What is your name? A. Irving Haller.

Q. Where do you live? A. I live in Brunswick.

Q. Who was your wife? A. Ruth Selby.

Q. Was she a daughter of Joseph A. Selby? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew Joseph A. Selby in his lifetime, did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know where he died and when?

A. Well he died at the home place, but I just don't know what year. 1934 I think it was, in October. I am not sure.

Q. Do you know whether or not Mr. Selby owned any personal property at the time of his death? That is, household furniture, automobile or money in bank?

A. No, he didn't own nothing but the property. The daughter was staying in the house keeping house for him. The first daughter, the one that died, she was keeping house, her and her husband, and when she died the one that lived in Frederick moved in there and kept house for him then. He didn't own nothing but the place.

Q. Who owned the furniture?

A. He didn't own no furniture. The daughter moved her furniture in.

Q. She was keeping house in Frederick?

A. No, she moved in there with him when the other daughter died, and her husband moved his furniture out so she could come in.

Q. Then there was no personal estate that you know of?

A. No, sir.
