

Q. Did you know her husband, Luther Flook?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did he die?

A. This Spring.

Q. Did you ever have any conversation with Mrs. Mary M. Flook and her husband, Luther Flook, or either of them, as to the ownership of the five acres of land mentioned in Exhibit "D"?

A. I talked with Mr. Flook and he told me -- I tried to buy it and he told me he couldn't sell it, that it belonged to his wife, that he didn't have a thing in it. He said it belonged to his wife.

Q. Do you know the lot of ground that is mentioned and described in this deed?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you been farming it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The parties that are interested in this property consist of twelve or more persons. Will you state whether that property can be divided so that they can all receive their portion of the land without loss and injury.

A. No, sir, it couldn't be.

Q. Can you state about what the property is worth?

A. About Four Hundred and Fifty Dollars.

To the General Interrogatory.

Nothing further.
