

Jennie Donsife Eichelberger, who died many years before Mary S. Donsife, but I have always understood that Albert Eichelberger was the only child of Jennie Donsife Eichelberger and a grandson of Mary S. Donsife. Albert Eichelberger's wife's name is Josephine Eichelberger. All of the parties I have named reside in Woodsboro District. I also know a daughter, Catherine Donsife Keeney, whose husband is Thomas Keeney, who I understand resides in Richmond, Virginia. All of these parties are more than twenty-one years old, and are all the parties interested in the real estate of Mary S. Donsife.

The lot or lots owned by Mary S. Donsife are improved with a log house covered with weatherboarding, one and a half story high, containing about six rooms. There is also a good stable twelve feet by eighteen feet, on the lot. I do not see how all the parties interested in the house. I don't see how it can be divided at all. It is undoubtedly in the interest to sell this property because it is the only way I think it should be divided. The property is depreciating and ought to be sold. I should say the property is worth One Thousand Dollars.

Interrogatory: "Nothing further."
