

Dorothy L. Stroup, a witness of lawful age, after having been duly sworn, deposes and says:

Mrs. Stroup, will you state your name, age and address?

Dorothy L. Stroup, age forty-two, Jefferson, Maryland.

What is your husband's name?

Harry M. Stroup. I had married Mr. Heffner and he died.

Mrs. Stroup, in the deed marked Exhibit No. 1, described in the Bill of Complaint, the property in question was conveyed to Dorothy Heffner, that is you?

Yes.

And Betty May Heffner?

That is my oldest daughter and she is married now to Louis William Geisbert.

And Charles E. Heffner?

He is my son, aged eighteen and unmarried.

And there was also an interest conveyed to George F. Heffner, who is he?

He is another son, and almost twenty-one.

When will he be twenty-one?

13th of September.

The real estate that this deed conveys is located where?

Along the Jefferson Pike.

Consists of what?

Nine and three-quarters acres, and six-room house.

What is the condition of the property?

Just fair.

By virtue of the contract of sale filed in this cause, marked Exhibit No. 2, you sold the property to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shoemaker?

Yes.

Is that property susceptible of division? Could you divide it into four parts?

No.

What have you to say as to the consideration of $3000.00?

I think it is a good price.

Do you think it would be to the best interest and advantage
