

A Not as I know.

CROSS EXAMINATION BY MR. EDWIN C. BROWN, SR.:

Q Mrs. Proctor, on what do you base your statement that nobody - that the testator had not marked off the property or located it?

A Well, nobody never marked it off. Uncle Bill never marked it off. He was going to do it - he was sick and he was going to do it, and when he got well of course he just forgot. He was an old man and he forgot, I reckon. It never was marked off.

Q And do you remember when the last time was you were on the property?

A Oh, it ain't been so awful long ago.

Q I mean in years?

A Last year.

Q Was the property improved?

A It is improved! You just go down there and see it, you would think it is improved. It is improved for the worst.

Q You mean there is a lot of timber?

A It has grown up terrible.

Q With timber?

A Well, if it would be left for a long time there would be timber. Of course there's a lot of timber on it.

Q Lot of timber on it?

A Yes.

Q But no house on it or anything of that sort?

A No.

Q Or barn?

A No, sir.
