RUSSELL OLIVER JOHNSON, a witness produced in behalf of the Defendants, being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

By Mr. Edwin C. Brown, Sr.:

Q Will you state your name, please?

A Richard Oliver Johnson, Jr.

Q What is your address?

A 4100 Grant Street, N. E., Washington, D. C.

Q What is your relation to William Joseph Proctor?

A He was my great-grandfather.

Q Are you familiar with the 50 acres in question?

A I am.

Q Is that 50 acres improved by a house or barn or anything of that sort?

A I know of only two houses that are there now.

Q Anyone living in the house?

A There was a party lived in one of the houses?

Q Is it rent-producing?

A I understood it was.

Q Do you know whether or not it is?

A I don't know.

Q Do you who who is living in the house?

A It is a relative.

Q Of the family? A. Of the family.

Q In your opinion could this property be divided in kind among the heirs?

A I think so.

Q On what do you base your reason it could be divided?

A I understand in the will that there are descriptions given of the pieces of land - ten acres to be exact - from one
