Important
TO INVALIDS!
TO INVALIDS!
TO INVALIDS!
It is well known to the medical profession that IRON is the VITAL PRINCIPLE OF LIFE ELEMENT of the blood. This is derived chiefly from the food we eat; but if the food is not properly digested, or if, from any cause whatever, the necessary quantity of Iron is not taken into the circulation, or becomes reduced, the whole system suffers. The bad blood will irritate the heart, will clog up the lungs, will stupefy the brain, will obstruct the liver, and will send its disease-producing elements to all parts of the system, and every one will suffer in whatever organ may be predisposed to disease. It is only since the discovery of that valuable combination known as PERUVIAN SYRUP that the great power of this VITALIZING AGENT over disease has been brought to light.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,
PERUVIAN SYRUP,
PERUVIAN SYRUP,
Is a Protected Solution of the
PROTOXIDE OF IRON,

A new discovery in medicine, which strikes at the root of disease by supplying the blood with its vital principle or life element,
IRON.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing
DYSPEPSIA, FEVER AND AGUE, REMITTENT FEVER, GENERAL DEBILITY, LIVER COMPLAINT, DROPSY, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, BOILS, HUMORS, NEURALGIA, PARALYSIS, FEMALE COMPLAINTS and all
DISEASES
Originating in a
BAD STATE OF THE BLOOD, or accompanied by
DEBILITY,
or
A LOW STATE OF THE SYSTEM.

Being free from alcohol in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing STRENGTH, VIGOR AND NEW LIFE into all parts of the system, and building up
AN IRON CONSTITUTION.

It is an excellent substitute for wine or brandy where a stimulant is needed.

One element of the restorative power of Iron as a medicine is its magnetic action and the electricity developed thereby; for female weaknesses it is a specific.

To take medicines to cure diseases occasioned by a deficiency of
without restoring it to the system is like trying to repair a building when the foundation is gone.

A 32-page pamphlet, containing a history of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, a valuable paper on the progress of medical science, a treatise on Iron as a medical agent, testimonials from distinguished pysicians, clergymen and others, will be sent postage paid to any one sending their address on a postal card to SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass.

We select a few of the names to show the character of the testimonials:

Rev. John Pierpont,	Lewis Johnston, M. D.,
Rev. Warren Burton,	Roswell Kinney, M. D.
Rev. Arthur B. Fuller,	S. H. Kendall, M. D.,

Rev. J. W. Olmstead,	Hon. Peter Harvey,
Rev. Oalvin Damon,	Hon. William Jackson,
Rev. Albert Case,	Prof. E. Vitalis Scherb.

There can be but one stronger proof than the testimony of such men as these, and this is a PERSONAL TRIAL. It has cured thousands where other remedies have failed to give relief, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Proprietors, 86 Harrison avenue, Boston.

Hear the Testimony.
CLOVER BLOSSOM. HAY FEVER.
BALTIMORE, July 13, 1877.
Having been a great sufferer from Hay-Fever and Asthma during the past twelve years, and after buying many of the so called cures and remedies for the same without any benefit, I was induced by a friend who had experienced relief (although much against my will) to try WALCOTT'S REMEDIES.
I am satisfied there is no cure for chronic Hay Fever, but after using Walcott's External Clover Preparation as directed I found much relief in a few hours. My throat as well as nostrils were almost entirely closed. I could not use my nose for breathing purposes at all during the Hay Fever period, some forty days in the year.
By daily rubbing my nose and back of my ears I found, to my great relief, I could breathe through my nostrils as easily as any, one that they were entirely free, and have since continued so.
Therefore I cheerfully recommend to all persons afflicted with Hay Fever or diseases of like nature the use of CLOVER BLOSSOM AND CLOVER TONIC, and believe if they are freely used a few weeks prior to the usual term the disease will be much lighter and perhaps prevented.

THE SUN.

THE WEATHER TO-DAY.—War Department, Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Washington, D. C., Tuesday, July 17, 1 A. M.—Indications.—For the Middle Atlantic States and the lower lake region falling barometer, warm southerly, veering to colder west winds, partly cloudy weather and rain, followed by rising barometer.

BEN WADE NOT RECONCILED.—The Hon. B F. Wade writes to the Washington Republican to deny the statement made in its columns that he had become reconciled to the Southern policy of President Hayes. He declares that so far from that being the case he is sturdily against it. He regards it as "an ignominious surrender of the principles of nationality for which our soldiers fought," and declares that very few persons in that part of Ohio in which he lives think otherwise. It must have been a surprise to many republicans—those of the thoughtful kind at least—to learn that Mr. Wade had recanted his opinions, and had become a convert to the policy of conciliation, knowing what an extremist he was, and remembering that at one time, supported by the late Henry Winter Davis, he set himself in opposition to Mr. Lincoln, and at another voted for the impeachment of President Johnson. Mr. Wade never was a statesman. He has always been a strong partisan, a sectionalist in feeling and an ingrained radical. He was one of the few leading republicans who would have held the South after the war as conquered provinces, converted them into military satrapies for a generation or more, and thus perpetuated indefinitely the domination of the republican party and paved the way for a strong centralized government. The times have changed since he was in the Senate, but he has not changed in any respect. He has taken the trouble to let the country know that he does not believe in conceding local self-government to the South, and that he does believe that the policy of President Hayes will ruin his party. Happily Mr. Wade is out of public life, and, whatever his ambition in his old age may be, is not likely to get into it again.

EX-GOV. JOHN C. BROWN, of Tennessee, one of the commissioners sent by President Hayes to Louisiana, in a dispatch to a friend denies the rumored statement attributed to him that the returning board were indicted by the "Bourbon" democrats. He states also that he made no statements whatever concerning the indictments.

CHARGED WITH RIOTING ON AN EXCURSION.—Samuel Brooks, John E. Lampson, Geo. Asker, Wm. Marshall, George Berry and Frederick Taylor, colored, were arrested yesterday on the arrival of the steamer George Law at Chestertown, on an excursion of the Rising Sun Commandery (colored) Knights Templar, charged with rioting on the boat. There were 500 excursionists on board. It was stated that a fight occurred on the deck of the steamer in Chester river, during which several men were knocked down. Policemen Hellman and Moore, of Baltimore, who were on board, arrested the principals in the disturbance, aided by the officers of the boat and others. A large horse pistol was taken from one of the prisoners, and a club from another. At Chestertown the six men were taken before a justice of the peace, who committed them to jail for the action of the Kent County Court to answer a charge of rioting. Lampson escaped from custody, but was rearrested on the boat while returning to Baltimore, and was locked up in the middle station to be sent back to Chestertown as a fugitive from justice. The Baltimore police were telegraphed to meet the steamer on her arrival at Light street, so that if the rioting was recommenced the participants could be captured here, but the return trip was not marked by any disturbance.

THE NEW YORK CUSTOM-HOUSE REDUCTIONS. There was a long conference at the Treasury Department yesterday between the New York custom-house committee, consisting of Richard Grant White, Wm. H. McMahon and Samuel G. Ogdon, to consider what reduction ought to be made in the force now employed in the collector's office, and the committee of the Treasury Department appointed to consider the same. The last committee consists of Assistant Secretary French, Assistant Solicitor Robinson and Chief Clerk Upton. The custom-house committee went over the list of names in detail, and explained as they went along their reasons for recommending that the particular person be dropped from the rolls. Collector Arthur and Assistant Secretary McCormick were present during the conference, which lasted several hours. On Wednesday General Sharpe, the surveyor, and his commission will be there to explain their report and confer with the committee of the department proper.

DEATH OF BENJAMIN HOMANS, SR.—Benjamin Homans died Sunday evening at his residence, in Brooklyn, N. Y., of an attack of paralysis, after an illness of five weeks. He was born in the year 1799, in Bordeaux, France, where his father was consul. He was for some time connected with the Naval Department at Washington, and this led to his establishing in 1835 the Army and Navy Chronicle. In 1843 he went to Cincinnati, where he was in charge of the redemption agency of the State banks. He was also manager of the Ohio Life and Trust Company for a time. About ten years ago he accepted a position in the management of the Bankers' Magazine, which he held up to the time of his death.

The present scale is 40 cents per 1,000 ems for night work, and 37½ cents for day work. The opinion prevails among printers that the union will not submit to the reduction. The matter will probably end in a compromise similar to that of one year ago.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

From Our Wall Street Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 16.—There was a strong but quiet opening to gold to-day, all the sales being at 105 5-16a105⅜. A sharp borrowing rate was also observed so soon as the "ring" (around which sales are made) was cleared, but there was extreme reluctance to pay the bonus demanded—1-64th—though it was finally paid with loans at 4 and 3 per cent. immediately afterward. The stiffness in gold and its scarcity, as denoted by the high loaning rate, is due more than anything else to the demand to pay for the 4 per cents., and the consequent locking up of the gold in the United States treasury. Of course this gold will come out again one of these days for the payment of called bonds, but until it is liberated the premium is likely to remain strong, and the loaning rate on the borrowing side.

The rise in the 4½ per cents in London to-day to 106½ and the active inquiry for the same is in consequence of the heavy subscriptions in this country to the 4s, advices of which were cabled to London on Saturday evening.

Sterling opens the week as flat as it closed. Indeed at 11 A. M. the Brown's put their direct rate down to 4.86½a4.88½, but it would not be hard to purchase any amount at another ½ cent below the reduced rates.

Cotton shows fresh strength owing to the better tone to the Liverpool market.

Mr. G. D. Cragin, of Louisiana, who arrived here on Saturday, reports the crop as decidedly backward, and predicts that a 5,000,000 bale crop will not be raised, though this is getting to be a favorite figure with many on the New York Exchange.

Silver is cabled to the bankers at 54¼d. as the London price. In this market there are buyers to-day at $1.18¼.

The Dutch are again buying Erie to-day, and it is reported that John Bull has gone in as a buyer also. As a result the foreign markets for the shares are higher than our own.

In bonds there were sales $2,000 new Tennessees 43½; $4,000 Virginia consols 67¼ x; $5,000 Districts 79⅝; $20,000 Ohio and Mississippi consols 86; $8,000 Wabash firsts, (St. Louis division.) 75½; $1,000 Central New Jersey firsts 113¼; $3,000 do. convertibles 61; $2,000 Lehighs 24a25, and $2,000 Western Union coupons 102. Louisianas were 78⅝a79¼; Alabamas 40 bid.

A small lot of Canton was taken at 20.

The first bale of the new cotton crop was put up at auction to-day, and was purchased by Mr. Jas. F. Wenman for one of his Eastern spinners at 20½ cents per pound. The cotton was from Texas, and classed "fully middling."

The treasury printing bureau this afternoon delivered to the loan division $25,000,000 of the new 4 per cent. bonds of the registered issue and $2,000,000 coupons.

There is an impression to-day that the heavy subscriptions to the 4 per cents. have been swelled by parties on speculation, the idea being that the price will be raised by the syndicate after to-day.

LABOR TROUBLES AND DISTURBANCES.

Strike on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad — Temporary Delay of Trains—Interposition of the Police—A Riot at Martinsburg—Canmakers' and Boxmakers' Strikes in Baltimore, &c.

[Reported for the Baltimore Sun.]

The prostration of industrial interests and the consequent reduction of wages culminated yesterday in what promises to be a serious strike on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. For some time past discharges of mechanics and laborers in the company's shops here and on the line of the road, united with reductions of wages and limitation of working time, have been going on. One by one the shops have become wholly or partly silent, and very many men, especially in South Baltimore, are without work or the means of providing for their families. This state of affairs is confined not alone to railroad shops, but to other workshops, and a great deal of distress exists among workingmen of all kinds. Fortunately the summer has been more active with large works, including gas-pipe laying, street repaving, &c., than for a long while, so that many laborers have found work at reduced wages. But there is a large element of skilled labor which can find no employment, and is reduced to seek various and precarious means of support. Added to this have been the troubles of the tin packing canmakers for higher wages and a strike of the boxmakers of the city to secure uniformity in rates.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Strike.

The reduction of ten per cent. in the pay of all officers and employees of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad who received over $1 a day, which was determined upon by the board of directors and announced in a circular by Mr. John W. Garrett, president, on Wednesday last, went into effect yesterday. The reduction was accepted quietly by the officers and employees with the exception of the firemen and one or two of the engineers at Baltimore and the firemen at Martinsburg, West Virginia. About twenty-five firemen left their trains at Riverside, Mount Clare and Camden Station, Baltimore, but their places were supplied by others.

At Martinsburg from twenty-five to thirty firemen left work, and no freight trains were able to pass that point, the new men employed by the company being intimidated by the strikers.

The difficulty in Baltimore commenced at Camden Junction, about three miles from Baltimore, where trains from Locust Point, Camden Station and Mount Clare all take the same track to the Relay House. At this point the firemen of the freight train which left Locust Point at 10 o'clock A. M. quit the train, and subsequently those from other freight trains, until some thirty or forty strikers and their friends were assembled. The news was at once sent to Camden Station and new men were sent to supply their places.

First Vice-President John King, Jr., was at the depot during the day and expressed no uneasiness in regard to the matter, as information of the intention of the firemen to strike had been previously received and others engaged to supply their places. A large number of applicants were also on hand asking positions as soon as the facts were known, and the company had no difficulty in obtaining men, generally of experience in the work, from those who have for some time past been out of employment. Firemen on several trains at Mount Clare left their places, and some on trains from Locust Point left at Riverside Station, a short distance from that place. The men leaving the trains attempted to persuade and intimidate the new men from going on the trains, but no actual violence was resorted to so far as reported.

The police authorities were notified of the position of affairs, and Deputy Marshal Jacob Frey, with forty men, left Camden Station on a special train, in company with General Agent A. J. Fairbanks, Mr. Clement, agent at Locust Point, Mr. Jas. A. Buchanan, counsel for the railroad company, and others, and proceeded to Camden Junction. They found two trains delayed and about thirty men gathered there, some of whom had struck and others were ready to work. Mr. Fairbanks asked if the men were ready to go to work. One of the strikers agreed to do so, and was put on his engine and sent off. The others, about twelve in number, refused to work, and were ordered to leave, but did not do so. Mr. Fairbanks then said, "This is your business, marshal," and Marshal Frey at once had the men dispersed by the police. The trains were then manned and sent on.

The strikers there were all in good humor, and no bad feeling was exhibited. Police Sergeant Hause was left with a squad of men to keep order. The party then proceeded to Mount Clare Station, where a train had been stopped, but it had been manned and left before their arrival. Police Sergeant Handy and a squad of men were left at this point. The sergeants were given strict orders to allow no person to pass on any freight train except those in the employ of the company.

The station at Riverside was next visited.—Quite a large number of people were assembled there, including strikers. An officer of the road called on Mr. Clements and pointed out E. M. Munford, George Hudson and Colum Mead, firemen, whom he charged with boarding engines with the purpose of intimidating and preventing men from discharging their duty.—The accused were arrested and taken to the southern police station, where they were released in $1,000 bail each for a hearing on the charge of rioting at 2 o'clock P. M. to-day. Police Sergeant Bruchey and a force of men were left in charge. Police Captain Delanty was ordered to call out the night force of the southern district, and pickets were placed along the line of the road from Locust Point to Camden Junction. At 3.45 the party returned to Camden Station, and no further disturbances occurred during the day. The trains generally were delayed about two hours. At that time it was reported that trains were running regularly on all portions of the line between Baltimore and Chicago.

The pay of the first-class firemen has been $1 75 and is now $1 58 per day, and second-class fireman has been $1 50, and is under the reduction $1 35 per day. Last night train No. 38 was started from Locust Point in nine sections. On three of the sections the engineers jumped off at Riverside, refusing to do duty. Their places were supplied, and all the sections were gotten off. Mr. Robert Stewart, superintendent of the company's telegraph office, was actively engaged with his whole force during the day and all last night in collecting reports from all points on the line. Officers of the company claim that the strikers cannot possibly effect anything permanent, as they can procure ten men for every one that leaves. A large police force has been requested at Riverside and other points today to prevent disorder. No freight trains were started last night after about nine o'clock. At that time all trains were supplied with new firemen and brakemen, and conductors were at their posts. The passenger trains all ran on time during the day and night.

The most serious disturbance occurred at Martinsburg, W. Va., where no freight trains were allowed to pass last evening. The following telegram received at Camden Station gives a summary of affairs at that point:

"Martinsburg, West Va., July 16.—The firemen of all the freight trains at this place, twenty-five or thirty in number, struck this evening and left their trains. The company put new men on their engines at once, but the strikers interfered to prevent them from starting the trains. A large mob assembled at the depot, and a raid at one time was imminent. Col. A. P. Shutt, mayor of the town, with all the police at his command, arrested the ringleaders of the strike, and attempted to protect the new men in the discharge of their duties, but the strikers were reinforced by a large body of citizens, swelling the crowd till it reached the proportions of a large mob. With the assistance of this mob the strikers succeeded in rescuing their comrades.

"The new firemen are now completely intimidated, and there is no prospect at present of any freight trains being able to pass this point to-night. The strikers have done no damage to property and passenger trains are permitted to pass uninterrupted."

Late last night First Vice-President King telegraphed to Governor H. M. Matthews, of West Virginia, at Wheeling, that the trains of the company had been stopped at Martinsburg by the firemen on a strike for wages, who had driven from the engines those who were willing to work on the company's terms. That firemen had been taken from trains by the rioters, and that the trains in both directions were held by a mob and the town authorities powerless to suppress the riot. Mr. King therefore appealed for such aid as would enable the company to transact its business with regularity and safety.

The answer of Governor Matthews was as follows:

Wheeling, 12.10 A. M.—There are two military companies at Martinsburg armed and supplied with ammunition. I have telegraphed my aid-de-camp, Col. C. J. Faulkner, Jr., to aid the authorities, with the companies, to execute the law and suppress the riot. I will do all I can to preserve the peace and secure safety to your trains and railroad operations. Col. Faulkner is directed to look also to Opequan.
HENRY M. MATTHEWS.

Up to 2 o'clock this morning there was no movement for a strike at any other point along the lines except at Baltimore and Martinsburg. The strikers in Baltimore were paid off by the company yesterday at Camden Station.

Boxmakers and Sawyers.

The members of the Baltimore Boxmakers' and Sawyers' Union also went on a strike yesterday for a uniform scale of prices, which it was stated the majority of the employers were willing to give, provided all came into the arrangement. The union has 180 members. About 140 quit work. Meetings were held at Metamora Hall, West Lombard street, during the day, and committees were appointed to confer with the employers. In the evening the committees reported, and it was announced that two of the shops will pay the prices to-day. All the shops were represented at the meetings. The men claimed that if all the employers agree to the scale of prices both parties will be equally benefitted, as the bosses could get uniform rates for their contracts, but three firms in the business had so far declined to join the Employers' Union, which is said to be friendly to the objects of the journeymen. The journeymen said the scale will enable them to earn $10 to $12 a week during the busy season, which lasts until November. Other meetings will be held by the strikers. H. Ellenhausen is president of the journeymen's union.

The Tin Canmakers.

The tin packing canmakers, who have been on a strike for over a week, continued their meetings in favor of increased rates for work at Rechabite Hall, where the unemployed workmen were present from time to time during yesterday in large numbers. They claim an increase of the number of strikers to 800 men, and state that not more than 75 or 100 canmakers in Baltimore are now at work. One of the employees stated that the journeymen had struck at the wrong time, for the industry was somewhat dull at present, and would continue so till the peach packing season began, about August 1. He thought the employers would not make the journeymen any advanced offers before that date. It is stated by both journeymen and bosses that the "contract shops," as they are called, (those that make cans only and do no packing business,) will reap profit from the strike, as many of them have stocks on hand which will be sold at an advanced figure when the demand comes.

The canmakers claim that had they all been regularly employed during the past week they would have made a million cans. They struck for higher wages last fall before the oyster season, and after three weeks of waiting received a fixed scale of higher prices. One of the canmakers stated that the increased prices for the rest of the season did not compensate him for the loss of all wages for three weeks. It is to be hoped that an amicable settlement of the difficulty will soon be agreed upon, as the lack of work for 800 men, most of whom have families dependent upon them for support, cannot fail to produce great distress.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

The President's Policy and the Ohio Campaign—What Will the Convention Do About It?—Ben Wade on a Mission of Wickedness.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE OHIO POLITICIANS.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—To an old personal friend from Ohio, who called upon him to-day, the President evinced great interest in the approaching republican State convention which is to meet at Cleveland on the 1st of August. The President inquired particularly in regard to the feeling as to his Southern policy, and whether the convention would pass a resolution approving of it, or have nothing to say on the subject. The gentleman told the President that in his judgment the convention would indorse his Southern policy, but it would only be after a hard and exciting contest. The feeling against the policy was still very strong in some sections of the State, and the best informed judges of the political outlook are not by any means hopeful of securing a republican victory in October. The President was told further that his recent order forbidding federal officials from participating in the political campaign would have a disastrous effect upon the republican party. Unless the better class of citizens come forward and take a hand in the political contests and direct the campaign the control of party machinery will pass into the hands of political bummers, who will manipulate the elections in their own interest. It was the opinion of this gentleman that the President would see the necessity of rescinding his order regarding federal officials after the very first election held.

BEN WADE'S GRIEVANCE.

The denial by ex-Senator Ben Wade of the statement that he has become reconciled to the President's southern policy gives great satisfaction to the class of radical republicans who thus far refuse to be comforted. It is said here by some of Wade's friends that he will attend the State convention at Cleveland, and it is intimated that he will go there on a mission not dissimilar to that of Packard's at Des Moines, Iowa. It is understood that Mr. Wade's friends will bring him forward as the president of the convention. If so it is believed there will be trouble in the Ohio camp of republicans.

STORM AND FLOOD SIGNALS BY TELEGRAPH AND CANNON.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Gen. Le Due, the new commissioner of agriculture, has strongly indorsed, and will give all possible aid for a fair test of the plan of storm and flood signals by means of the telegraph and cannon, to give certain, instant and general warning of coming storms, mainly for the benefit of agriculture during haying and harvest, and also of commerce, and to give warning of sudden, destructive floods on rapid rivers. This system is said to have been heretofore indorsed by five Governors of States, ten mayors of principal cities, thirteen State agricultural societies, five commodores in charge of navy-yards and by Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph. Hon. Wm. Orton, president Western Union Telegraph Company, some years ago offered to furnish free telegrams of coming storms and floods to all towns establishing the signals to test the system. The case will now be laid before the Secretary of War with the above recommendations, and any others which may be sent by county and State agricultural societies, and he will be requested to order a test to be made at all forts, arsenals, barracks and navy-yards in the populous States, and if successful the system may then be extended by the local authorities at a trifling cost to every city, county seat and principal town in the United States.

MEXICO IN FIGHTING MOOD.

Official reports from General Ord state that the Mexican General Trevino, by direction of his government, has withdrawn from the agreement entered into between them in regard to co-operative movements against Mexican cattle raiders. The effect of this withdrawal will be to give force to the previous instructions to Trevino to resist any attempts on the part of the American commander to pursue raiders across the border by force. The subject will be a matter for immediate consideration. There will be no change in the policy of the government, however. The Mexicans will either have to see that these raiders are prevented from crossing the border, or take the responsibility of any attempt to oppose the United States forces in carrying out the instructions given to Gen. Ord.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT ITEMS.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Brady returned to Washington this morning from a brief visit to the North. An order was issued to-day increasing the mail service on the James River and Kanawha canal between Richmond and Columbia—an advance of sixty miles, from tri-weekly to daily. The demands upon the department for postal cards during the last three days has been unprecedented. The requisitions received by the Third Assistant Postmaster General during that time having aggregated over seven millions. The new contractors are now filling requisitions with cards of the prescribed quality and finish, the difficulty in regard to rough edges, &c., having been surmounted by improved methods of cutting.

THE HOWGATE EXPEDITION.

The Secretary of the Navy's declining to allow Captain Tyson to accompany Captain Howgate's polar expedition with salary as a naval officer, will not prevent Capt. Tyson's going, as he will be paid his usual salary by Capt. Howgate, and leave without pay will be granted him. The refusal to loan instruments from the Naval Department will not interfere with the expedition either, as Capt. Howgate is already provided with a full set of instruments, and only desired the additional ones as duplicates. All necessary preparations are being made with a view of guarding against failure.

The Lewis Will Case in New York—A Strange Case.

NEW YORK, July 16.—John D. Lewis, head of the dry goods firm of Lewis, Haviland & Co., Church and Chambers streets, while out riding in Central Park about a year ago, was thrown from his carriage and killed. He left a will bequeathing $15,000 to different parties, and directed that the income of his estate, about $250,000 in unencumbered real estate, be paid to Miss Lizzie Barton Taylor until she was lawfully married. If she had any children the estate was to go to them, and if not married or without children she died, she was to be buried in the same grave with the testator, and that the estate be expended in decorating the grave. It was suspected that Mr. Lewis had negro blood in his veins, and the will was contested by Henry Lewis and Mary Smith, brother and sister, and both with full negro blood in their veins, and claiming to be half brother and half sister of the deceased. On trial it was proved that Lewis was a son of a Virginia slave woman and a Canadian, the mother having fled to Canada during the existence of slavery in the United States. Judge Barrett to-day, in special term of the Supreme Court, gave his decision in the case. He sweeps away all the provisions of the will except that giving Miss Taylor the income of the estate until she is lawfully married, and whether she has children or not the estate then goes to Lewis and his sister.

The Rifle Shooters.

Davison, Providence, R. I., and Frank Hyde, J. L. Allen and W. M. Farren, of this city. To-morrow at ten o'clock the competition begins, and entries must be completed at that hour.

THE CROSSING OF THE BALKANS.

LONDON, July 16.—A Reuter telegram from Constantinople confirms the report that the Russians (who number fifteen, not eighteen battalions,) have crossed the mountains through to Tvarditzka Pass. This passage is supposed to be a feint to withdraw the Turks from the Schipka Pass.

An Adrianople telegram, while denying that the Russians have occupied Eski Saghra or Kasanlik, say they are waiting for reinforcements before advancing further. Some skirmishes have occurred.

Reuter's St. Petersburg dispatch says a large contingent of the Russian army is marching on the Balkans.

The news of the crossing of the Balkans has evidently caused great excitement in Constantinople. A Reuter telegram from that city says the Turkish newspapers urge the inhabitants to form a volunteer corps, as the enemy is at their gates. Work on fortifications is being carried on with great activity in the Turkish quarter. There is a general impression that the foreign powers will intervene.

Reuter's telegram from Adrianople is as follows: "The first secretary of the German embassy has arrived here en route to Jamboli. It is believed he is intrusted with a mission.—Troops and war material continue to arrive by railway."

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 16.—It is officially announced that the advance guard of the Russian army passed the Balkans on the evening of the 13th instant without firing a shot. Gen. Gourko, on the afternoon of the 14th instant, surprised 300 Nizams, who fled toward the village of Kanari. The Russians lost one killed and five wounded.

[Note.—This is the expedition referred to by the Daily News's correspondent in a dispatch previously telegraphed to the United States. Kanari is fifteen miles northwest of Yeni Saghra, at the southern debouchment of a difficult and unfrequented road known as the Tvarditzka Pass.]

THE PROBABILITIES.

LONDON, July 16.—The Shipka pass is held by Raouf Pasha with a strong force. It is probable the Russians, perhaps chiefly Cossacks, made their way across the mountains in the manner indicated in a Bucharest letter of June 24, published in the London Times July 2. This letter stated that the Balkan range abounds in elevated plateaus, inhabited by the Heyducs, (Bulgarian refugees), who have held these fortresses for generations.

These Heyducs are the only people on the face of the earth who know the Balkans thoroughly, and who are competent to point out every defile and pass through which troops are able to march. Several Heyduc chiefs who were in Belgrade last year said there were passes utterly unknown to the Turks or to any one else but themselves and their followers through which they could lead, infantry, cavalry and mountain guns. These Heyducs are in accord with the Russians.

The Times in its leading article says: "It would not be surprising if the main body of the army should not attempt to cross the Balkans until Rustchuk be brought at least to the verge of submission. With that great fortress and the railway to Varna in their hands the invaders might venture to do much which it would be worse than rash to attempt now, nor is it any answer to these calculations that the Cossacks have already penetrated far into the country. Our telegraphic intelligence from Pera contains the surprising report that a body of those swift horsemen have crossed the Balkans, and gone as far south as the railway station between Yamboli and Adrianople, but such an expedition can only have been made for the purpose of ascertaining the practical difficulties of crossing the Balkans, and the Cossacks may withdraw as quickly as they came. It will be impossible to measure the progressive power of the Russians until they have laid siege to Rustchuck, and fought a great battle for the possession of the line to Varna."

A Reuter dispatch from Constantinople dated to-day says: "All available troops are being dispatched to Adrianople.

"One hundred Bulgarians have been brought here. They will be tried by a military tribunal for high treason.

"The first detachment of Suleiman Pasha's army is expected at Nos on Thursday."

REPORTED GREAT BATTLE IN BULGARIA.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 16.—An official dispatch announces that Eyoub Pasha has attacked the Russians under the Grand Duke Nicholas north of Tirnova, and defeated them with a loss of 12,000, and the Grand Duke is surrounded. Two Turkish monitors have destroyed the bridge at Sistova. One monitor was subsequently sunk by torpedoes. The Porte officially declares that the Russians have burned alive the inhabitants of Jonis, near Tirnova, who had taken refuge in a mosque.

NOT CONFIRMED.

LONDON, July 16.—Reuter's telegram from Constantinople says the report of the defeat of the Grand Duke Nicholas is not confirmed by dispatches from Redif Pasha. It was probably based on false reports made to the local authorities. Radif Pasha sends a dispatch formally confirming a report that the Russians had been beaten in the Tivarditzka Pass. The advance of the Russians was exaggerated by the station master at Yeni Saghra, who was influenced by the general panic.

THE SITUATION IN ASIA MINOR.

LONDON, July 16.—The Times's correspondent with the Turks telegraphs under date of Kars, July 12, as follows: "Mukhtar Pasha, with the main army, is in a strong entrenched position on a ridge 8 miles south. The Russians have completely withdrawn from the siege. I have visited their batteries which are constructed with much skill, but show traces of the accuracy of the Turkish fire. The Turks have a very fine force here now; the men are in excellent spirits and very confident. I doubt the possibility of Russia gaining any more successes on this side this year unless she has very strong reinforcements. At Akoltsik and Tiflis Turkish supplies are steadily flowing in. The Russians, despite their strength, have sustained a heavy reverse."

The Times's correspondent with the Russian army telegraphs from Zaim, July 12: "To-morrow we shall fall back some distance towards Alexandropol from sanitary considerations."

The Daily News's correspondent with the Russians telegraphs from Zaim July 12 as follows: "Eighteen thousand bombs have been fired at Kars. The expense is 1,500,000 roubles. Three Russian officers and one hundred and sixty soldiers were killed in the batteries. The siege guns go to Alexandropol. The army is slowly retiring. There is a slight advance by Mukhtar Pasha. His camp moves three versts to-day in the direction of Alexandropol. Reinforcements are expected."

THE TURKISH STORY ABOUT BAYAZID.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 16.—Ismail Pasha telegraphs from Bayazid Saturday as follows: On Tuesday twelve battalions of Russians endeavored to relieve Bayazid. We defeated them and drove them to Kana Boulak with the loss of 600 killed, a quantity of provisions, 20 baggage wagons and their entire ambulance train.

A HALF-STARVED GARRISON.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 16.—An official dispatch from the army of the Caucasus announces that the Russian garrison at Bayazid consisted on June 18 of four staff officers, 26 officers and 1,587 men. Of these two staff officers and 114 men were killed, and seven officers and 359 men were wounded during the siege. The remainder were much weakened by privations, and will require great care before they can recover. The garrison lived on horse flesh toward the end of the siege.

SEIZURE OF A PERSIAN CARAVAN—SCARCITY OF PROVISIONS.

LONDON, July 16.—An Erzeroum telegram announces that the Turks have seized a Persian caravan conveying provisions to the Russians. Ismail Pasha has requested supplies from Erzeroum, the resources of the district of Bayazid being exhausted.

A special dispatch from Erzeroum to the Daily Telegraph says: "Provisions for Ismail Pasha's corps left here yesterday. Armenia is ruined by the ravages of war. Famine is expected in the districts of Alashgherd, Kara Kelisa and Bayazid."

THE CIRCASSIAN REBELLION.

BERLIN, July 16.—A special correspondent of the National Zeitung, writing from Tiflis July 4, says: "The Abchasians, Circassians and Leschians are in full rebellion and have killed many thousand Russians. Only the middle part of the mountains, with an important road from Vladi Kavkar to Tiflis is still faithful and to be relied upon."

MORE HORRORS.

The Daily Telegraph's Shumla dispatch says: "Five thousand wagon loads of Turks (old men, women and children,) are on the road from Eskijuma and Osman Bazar to Shumla. Horrible massacres have been committed by the Russians and Bulgarians at Tirnova, Granova and Ilyara."

A Times dispatch from Shumla says: "From all directions fugitives in large numbers are coming in who agree in stating that in the districts occupied by the Russians the most horrible cruelties are perpetrated upon the Mohammedan population by the Cossacks and Bulgarians. Mohammedan children and old men are slaughtered and women violated and carried off. Official dispatches substantially corroborate these statements. The greatest panic exists among the Mohammedan civil population, who are fleeing as fast as they can."

The Times's Therapia dispatch says official telegrams report that the Russians have established a military tribunal at Selvi to try Mussulmen's accused of complicity in the Bulgarian massacres, and are executing men convicted on Bulgarian testimony.

AUSTRIA AND THE SITUATION.

LONDON, July 17.—The Standard's correspondent at Vienna telegraphs that in consequence of the crossing of the Balkans it is announced that after the return of the Emperor of Austria to that city, which will be in a few days, the present position of affairs will be earnestly considered.

The Latest.

THE FATE OF NIKOPOLIS—CAPTURE OF SIX THOUSAND TURKS, ETC.

LONDON, June 17.—The correspondent of the Times at Bucharest says the Russian troops commanded by the Czarewitch are reported to have occupied Vetova, on the railroad between Rasgrad and Rustchuk, thus completely intercepting communications on that line. It is reported from Simnitza that the Czar left yesterday for Tirnova.

The Times's Berlin correspondent states that the Porte has intimated that while the war lasts it will open the Dardanelles to vessels of no power which has not promised to support it against Russia.

The Times's correspondent at Turnu Magurelli, who professes to have been an eye witness of a portion of the operations by which the Russians surrounded Nikopolis and cut off the retreat of the garrison, says the garrison of six thousand men and forty guns surrendered to the Russians, who also took prisoners Hassan and Achmet Pashas, commanding the garrison, and took two monitors. All other accounts represent that the Turks evacuated Nikopolis before the Russians entered the town.

The Daily News's Simnitza special particularly reports that they managed with no little skill to carry off forty guns, which constituted the armament of the fortress.

The News has a special from Obentenik stating that another bridge of very substantial construction has been commenced between Simnitza and Vishora, higher up the stream than the present one.

Another dispatch to the News, dated Obentenik, July 13, says Gen. Gourko's command will operate as a detached force in the Roumelian valley until it is joined there by the main body of the Russian invading column, marching by a more practicable but circuitous route through the Balkans by way of Drenova, Gabrova, Kasanlik and Eski Saghra.

This main force will consist of the eighth, eleventh and part of the ninth corps, in all five divisions of 80,000 men, not including General Gourtko's advance contingent, of some 15,000 more. Two divisions of the eighth corps are already in Tirnova. I believe it is intended that the Empress shall join the Czar in Tirnova.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Yeni Sagra gives a long and somewhat sensational account of a battle on Sunday evening at Felditch, twelve miles from Yeni Sagra, which is represented to have been obstinately contested, and to have resulted in the Russians being driven back through the pass.

The Daily Telegraph's Bucharest correspondent states that the Russians will construct a substantial bridge at Nikopolis.

The Times, referring to the reported death of Yakoob Kahn, says: "He was the chief rival of Russia in Central Asia."

The Times's Berlin dispatch says some more vessels have imported Colorado beetles in German harbors. Ships arriving from America will henceforth be carefully inspected. Placards containing life-size portraits of the insect will be distributed throughout the country.

The Orangemen's Funeral Display.

BURIAL OF THE MURDERED MAN—FORMIDABLE MILITARY PRECAUTIONS—A POISONED SPRING—ROWDYISM AND VIOLENCE—AN OLD WOMAN CRUSHED—A BOY SHOT, ETC.

MONTREAL, July 16.—The funeral of Thomas L. Hackett, the murdered Orangeman, took place to-day. During the past few days great crowds have viewed the body, which has been lying at the city hall. Over thirty thousand persons have visited the hall since Saturday. To-day six regiments and a troop of cavalry were on duty, stationed at various points on the route of procession. Large numbers of Orangemen arrived from Ottawa and other points and took part in the procession. St. James street was crowded, but the rough element was generally absent. The St. George's and St. Andrew's Societies at meetings this morning resolved to join the procession, and passed resolutions denouncing the actions of the mayor and chief of police on Thursday last.

The procession formed about 3 P. M., a detachment of police heading it, in James street. The silver cornet band of the Victoria Rifles followed, playing the dead march. The hearse, drawn by four horses decorated with orange colors, followed. The Orange Young Britons and the Montreal Engineers were loudly cheered as they passed, the Union Jack waving over them. Henshaw, one of the wounded men of Thursday, appeared in the procession. The St. George's, St. Andrews and other protective organizations were well represented.

At this time one man had been arrested and another was heard threatening murder. Next came cries of murder, causing the crowd to scatter and the police to run to the spot, the Prince of Wales Rifles marching to quick time to the scene. The alarm was caused by a woman poking an Orange lily in an Irish woman's face. The latter grabbed the other's bonnet, which made the people rush, and in the midst of it a woman named Mary Doherty, aged 62, was knocked down and had her collar bone broken. Her daughter was also badly injured. Shortly after this two pistol shots were heard, which caused another stampede. Colonel Stevenson's battery moved to the scene, and nothing further happened.

The procession moved to the Cathedral. The service was performed by Canon Baldwin, dean of Montreal, Rev. James Carmichael, and other clergymen. After it was over the large congregation reformed and proceeded to the cemetery outside of the city. The military were bivouacked along the road.

The following letter was received by County Master Grant, of the Orange society, to-day, which added somewhat to the excitement of the day: "Sir—I have reason to inform you that the water at the cemetery for drinking will be poisoned to-day. I could not rest in peace till I had informed you of it, and now I have done my duty. It was a plot overheard yesterday at St. Jean Baptiste village, mile end.
(Signed) "A FRIEND, G. L."

The funeral procession was not molested en route from the church to the cemetery. Rev. C. A. Daudiet, chaplain of the Orange society, made a stirring address at the grave. The procession returned home in quick marching order and arrived at Orange Hall at 7.20 without a single incident. The military brought up in the rear. Crowds of people lustily cheered the processionists in St. James street on its return.

Messrs. David Lemoy and Duchesne were attacked this evening while coming down Bleury street by a drunken man who presented a revolver, fired three times at Lemoy and emptied the remaining chambers at Duchesne, but missed them. He was arrested and locked up.

The visiting Orangemen will remain in town all night and be entertained at the rink by their Montreal brethren.

As the Orangemen were on their way to their homes in the western suburbs about 8 P. M. they were met at Wellington bridge by an immense crowd of the opposite party. The latter acted in a menacing manner, but did not attack. When some youths who lagged somewhat behind the Orangemen came along the crowd of roughs made an onslaught on them with revolvers. The boys ran, but one was shot down, one ball striking his neck and another his back. He was taken to the hospital. The dastardly ruffians had a jubilee over the affair. The police soon arrived but made no arrests.

The name of the young man shot at Point St. Charles was Wm. Elliott, from Lennoxville, Quebec. He came to attend the funeral. He is not expected to live till morning. The party who fired the shots on Bleury street is named Dwyer, a stevedore. He was excited from drink.

11 P. M.—The visiting Orangemen have taken their departure for the West. They were escorted to the depot by the military. There was no trouble.

The Financial Situation in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 16.—Contrary to expectation the flurry of Saturday regarding the condition of the banks did not subside yesterday, but continued to day, and was materially strengthened towards noon by the closing of North St. Louis Savings Association and the Bank of St. Louis. As on Saturday, however, the persons engaged in the run were almost wholly confined to small depositors of savings institutions and small shopkeepers, no merchants or business men of any pretensions taking part in it.

The closing of the North St. Louis Savings Bank is attributed to shortage of ten thousand dollars at the clearing-house this morning.—The Bank of St. Louis did its clearing through the North St. Louis Savings Bank, and when the latter closed it had $27,000 of paper belonging to the Bank of St. Louis. This forced the latter to suspend.

The action of the North St. Louis Savings Bank has given rise to considerable severe comments. The banks run on the most to-day were the Fourth National, the Provident Savings, the Franklin Aveue, German Savings and Boatman's Saving. All current accounts were promptly met, however, and there was at no time any noticeable excitement. Other savings institutions were more or less besieged, but they all asserted their ability to meet all just demands.

There is a strong disposition manifested on the part of small depositors in most of banks, especially in savings institutions, to obtain their money, but the substantial merchants and business men of the city generally do not apprehend any serious disasters to follow the present state of affairs.

PERSONS LEAVING THE CITY for the various watering-places, country residences or resorts, or those going abroad, can have THE SUN mailed to any address by ordering the same at this office, at thirteen cents for one week, twenty-five cents for two weeks, thirty-eight cents for three weeks, fifty cents for one month, one dollar for two months, one dollar and a-half for three months, three dollars for six months, and six dollars for one year, payable in advance at this office. United States postage prepaid.

AN ABUSE OF LEGISLATION—The Harman's Bridge Matter.—THE SUN has already furnished the public with the main facts connected with the mandamus proceeding against the city for the purpose of compelling the city to purchase the toll-bridge over Gwynn's falls known as Harman's bridge. It is nearly forty-two years since the construction of this bridge was authorized, and the franchise of taking tolls for the use of the same granted by the Legislature to certain private parties named in the act. Prior to that time there had been a free bridge at the same place belonging to the mayor and city council of Baltimore, for which the new bridge was intended to be a substitute. In granting the franchise of taking tolls to Messrs. Krebs and Linthicum, the original parties named in the act of 1835, the right was expressly reserved to this city at any time to assume and take charge of the bridge as a free bridge, and to acquire the legal title to the same, upon reimbursing the owners for their first outlay in building and constructing the bridge, "which amount alone and nothing for repairs" the act provided should be all that the mayor and city council should be required to pay. The receipt of the tolls was regarded as sufficient to compensate the owners for any repairs made by them during their period of ownership. The act further provided that before it should become operative the assent of the mayor and city council thereto should first be obtained. Upon these terms and conditions the mayor and city council gave their assent by resolution, approved February 11, 1836, and the bridge was built. At the next session of the Legislature an amendatory act was passed providing that the amount to be paid by the mayor and city council to the owners of the bridge in case the city should exercise its privilege of taking charge of the bridge and making it again a free bridge, should not be less than the first cost of the bridge, to be ascertained, as the original act provided, by arbitration. Thus the matter stood for thirty years. The city having an option at any time to become the owner of the bridge simply upon refunding to the owners the amount of their first outlay, but being under no obligation to do so, took no action in the matter.

In 1867 the act of 1835 was again amended by the Legislature so as to require that the mayor and city council, if they should at any time elect to take charge of the bridge, should pay to the owners the full amount of the value "of said bridge, to be assessed at the time the said mayor and city council shall assume the control thereof," said value to be ascertained as previously provided, by arbitration. As already stated in THE SUN, in 1870 the mayor and city council resolved to take charge of the bridge with a view to making it a free bridge, which resolution was rescinded, however, the following year and nothing done. Under this resolution arbitrators had been named on both sides, but no conclusion was or could be reached in consequence of the radical disagreement between the arbitrators, not simply as to the amount of compensation to be awarded to the owners, but as to the principle which was to govern the award. By the original act of 1835, under which the bridge was built, the owners were to be reimbursed for their original outlay. In 1836 it was provided that this amount should not be less than the first cost of the bridge. In 1867 it was provided that it should be the value of the bridge at the time that the city might acquire it. There is not a word in any of these statutes about paying the owners for the franchise, which cost the owners nothing, which was the gift of the Legislature with the consent of the city, and the right to extinguish which at any time without paying anything therefor was expressly reserved to the city in the original act. The idea that over and above the value of the bridge structure, their only outlay, the owners were entitled to demand from the city a sum equal to the capitalized tolls or income derived from the franchise, the result of the city's growth and increased travel to and from the county, was expressly excluded in the acts of 1835 and 1836, and finds no express recognition in the act of 1867. The franchise was given not for the private benefit and profit of the owners alone, but for the public convenience, the obligation being assured by the owners of the bridge to keep and maintain it at all times in repair for the use of the public. The right to take tolls from the public was given in return to enable them to discharge this burden.

It is impossible to see how, under any of the acts, compensation can be claimed by the owners for the franchise, as separate and distinct from the bridge structure, which is all that the city stipulated to pay for, when the city's consent was given, as made necessary by the act of Assembly to the building of the bridge. Yet the refusal of the city to take charge of the bridge (a matter from 1835 until 1876 entirely optional and discretionary on the city's part,) in the face of a claim for such a sum as would pay for the franchise as well as the bridge, has led both to the passage of the act of 1876 making it obligatory upon the city to take the bridge, and to the present mandamus proceeding, in the name of parties residing in Anne Arundel county—not the owners of the bridge—who, as may be presumed, in their desire to have a free bridge are indifferent as to its cost to the city.

We do not understand that in upholding the constitutionality of the legislation of 1876, and in sustaining the right of individual citizens of Anne Arundel county to the writ of mandamus to compel compliance by the city, the Court of Appeals has passed at all upon the question above suggested, i. e., the extent and measure of the compensation to which the owners of the bridge are entitled. That question was not before the court. Neither can the court be understood as affirming or approving the wisdom or the justice of the action of the Legislature in passing the act of 1876. Each equally is a question beyond the province of the court. The court simply decides that the passage of the act was within the discretion of the Legislature, and is, therefore, obligatory upon the courts and the city. The press and the public, however, may freely indulge the right of criticism upon the action of the Legislature, which would have been unbecoming and out of place on the part of the court. The act of the Legislature has taken away from the city the option to purchase or not as the interests of its own citizens might dictate, conferred by the original act and existing for forty years. In lieu of any such option it makes it obligatory upon the city to purchase, willy nilly, the property of private parties, property which the city may not want at any price—before the city can have the privilege of building a free bridge at its own cost for the benefit of all. That private individuals, no matter who they may be, should thus be able to go to the Legislature and obtain the passage of a law compelling the city to buy any man's property is a dangerous precedent.

That such a law should have passed the last session without exciting more opposition on the part of the city's representatives may be attributed, perhaps, in part to the fact that it does not appear as a separate act by itself, under its own proper title, as the Constitution requires, but in the form of a section tacked on at the end of another act relating to a similar, but at the same time a different subject, viz, the joint acquisition by the mayor and city council and the county commissioners of Anne Arundel of the drawbridge known as the Long bridge, or Light-street bridge, over the Patapsco, between Ferry Bar and Brooklyn. The purchase by the city of Harman's bridge, over Gwynn's falls, is made compulsory by section 7 of this act, being the only allusion to the subject contained in the act. In this way the legislation in question may have escaped attention. That it is desirable and should be the policy of the city to secure free access to its limits over all bridges and other approaches will be generally conceded, and for this purpose tollgates as well as toll bridges, on or near our borders, should be abolished as speedily as possible; but that the Legislature would have been guilty of such an abuse of legislative authority as to deliberately compel the city to purchase a private property which is not necessary to the effecting of this great public object, if the facts of the case had been fully and properly represented, is extremely unlikely.

EXPORTS OF BEEF, MUTTON AND LIVE STOCK.—According to a tabular statement in the New York Herald the total valuation of the exports of meat from the United States—that is, beef in quarters and mutton in carcasses—during 1876 was $1,855,191, against $4,062,085 for the same class of exports in 1877. But to this year's consignments must be added 5,050 head of live sheep, valued at $25,000, and 6,210 head of cattle, valued at $497,600, shipped to London, Liverpool, Glasgow, Hull and Bristol. This brings the export valuation for 1877 up to $5,585,675. SOUTHERN MAILS—Postal Convention.—We called attention on Saturday to the need of an improved mail service from Baltimore southward—better hours of departure and quicker running time. Between the Eastern cities and Washington there is no reasonable cause for complaint; but from Baltimore to the South there is much that might be amended. The only point we touched upon on Saturday was the mail service between Baltimore and Richmond. We showed that one train left Baltimore for that city and the South at about midnight, which was several hours before the morning papers went to press. The next train does not leave Baltimore until 6.40 in the morning, although the papers could be mailed and sent to their destination much earlier. We showed, further, that the midnight mail train went through from Baltimore to Richmond in seven hours and five minutes, and that under the former schedule the running time of the 4.20 A. M. train was only eight hours. On the other hand, the present arrangements are so imperfect, and the delay in transit so great, that the 6.40 morning train from Baltimore occupies nearly eleven hours in getting to Richmond. This is nearly four hours more than is taken up by the midnight train, and three hours more than the running time of the morning train under the old schedule.

In the mail service between Baltimore and Norfolk there has also been a similar change for the worse. As at present arranged the mail leaves Baltimore at half-past seven in the evening, reaching Norfolk at twenty minutes past eight the following morning. If the old schedule were resumed over the Fredericksburg and Richmond route to Norfolk the mails would leave Baltimore at 4.20 in the morning, arrive in Richmond at noon and in Norfolk on the evening of the same day. The distribution of the mails from Baltimore southward via Richmond and Norfolk would thus be advanced some ten hours over the present arrangement. It follows, necessarily, that all the other Southern cities are subject to the same troubles in regard to the receipt of their mails, and in some cases, at least, business men are seriously hampered by these delays.

It is not without good reason therefore that a call has been made and responded to for a Southern postal convention, to be held on the 25th of this month, at Fortress Monroe. The Southern cities generally propose to send delegates to the convention, and Baltimore, as the principal commercial city on the Southern border, and having close and extensive business relations with all the States of the South, ought to be fully represented. The resolutions adopted by the convention on the subject it has been convened to consider ought to have great weight in those quarters most concerned in the matter. With the known desire of the Post-office Department to establish the mail service on a better footing there is no reason to doubt that when the Postmaster General fully understands the needs of the merchants and the press of the South he will endeavor to make such arrangements with the railroad companies as will obviate the principal causes of complaint.

REPUDIATION REPUDIATED IN VIRGINIA.—At a large meeting held at Fredericksburg, Va., on Friday evening, for the purpose of electing delegates to the democratic State convention, a resolution was adopted deprecating the revival of popular discussion and agitation as to the binding obligations of the funding bill, and condemning all such movements as tending to demoralize public sentiment in regard to the sacredness of the public faith and destructive of the best interests of the people of Virginia.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION to be held at Jackson, Miss., on the first of August, will nominate candidates for the offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, secretary of state, auditor of public accounts, treasurer, attorney general, and State superintendent of public instruction. For the governorship those most prominently mentioned are Gov. Stone, the present incumbent, Gens. Humphreys, Featherstone and Walthall, and Col. Lowry.

A commission now in session at Indianapolis is considering plans for the erection of a $2,000,000 State House in that city.

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM MORRAN—DIED MAY 12.

With feelings of intense grief and profound sorrow I have heard of the untimely and melancholy death of my most cherished friend, with whom, from boyhood, I had been on the most intimate terms of friendship and brotherly affection. In youth he was universally esteemed for his dutiful submission and love for his parents, his religious habits, and amiable loving kindness to all. In manhood the true nobility of these traits could not fail to be appreciated by those favored with his acquaintance, for through all his intercourse with the world he was guided by a high sense of honor and integrity, and not a stain has ever dimmed his spotless character. Devotedly attached to his beloved wife and family, his industry and zeal for their comfort was untiring; distress in any form would find in him a generous comforter and the confiding a trusty friend. To his bereaved wife and helpless orphaned children I tender my heartfelt sympathies; and that Almighty God may give them consolation, grace and protection, is the prayer of a sorrowing though absent friend. M. L.*

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.]

WASHINGTON, July 16, 1877.

The Street Railway Curbstone Case—The Capital Newspaper Suit—Divorces—Marriage Under Feigned Names—Germania Schuetzen, &c.

The case of the Washington and Georgetown Railroad Company vs. the District of Columbia was set for a return to-day before Judge Wylie, holding the Special Term. The bill in which the railroad company sought to enjoin the District from issuing certificates against the railroad for $19,886 69, in which a special charge for blue-stone curb was included, but offered to pay $12,207 27, has been already reported. The District commissioners to-day filed two answers, the first a short general one on the part of the District, and the second a long special one on the part of the commissioners.

They answer "that the curb is necessary for the protection of the carriage-way from the action of the car wheels, and that such a protection was an essential necessity to such carriage-way, protecting it from gradual destruction at its line of connection with the exterior line of the iron track of the railroad company, and that undressed stone would not have been suitable as the finish of a carriage-way intended to be perfectly smooth." They say that "under the law the portion of pavement assessed against the railroad company and lying outside of the exterior line of its outer tracks is two feet in width, which two feet are composed of five inches of blue-stone and nineteen inches of concrete, including its base, and that the cost of the stone curb is only $9,476 59, and that the cost of the rest of the pavement assessable to the company is $10,410 10."

The case was heard by Judge Wylie, who, after consideration, enjoined the issue of paving certificates against the company, upon condition that the company shall first pay to the District of Columbia $12,207 27. The case will be further adjudicated in reference to the excess of the assessment over this sum.

Another injunction case of the Capital Newspaper Company against Geo. Hill, paper manufacturer, was heard before Judge Wylie to-day. The Capital company sought to restrain Mr. Hill from further prosecuting his suit to put that company into bankruptcy. After hearing the case the court discharged the temporary injunction and dismissed the bill, leaving Mr. Hill again free to prosecute his suit.

Henry Burk and Abraham Washington were to-day sentenced to the penitentiary for three years by Judge MacArthur under a former conviction.

The bill filed by Wm. H. Clark, seeking divorce from Julia Clark on the ground of intoxication, was heard to-day by Judge Wylie, and a divorce granted. Harrison Murray was divorced from Alice Murray. Catharine Sonnenschmit was granted a divorce from Chas. W. Sonnenschmit.

A singular case was brought before the clerk of the District Supreme Court this afternoon. Two persons who had been married in January, 1876, under feigned names, and had lived together since in Prince George's county, Md., as man and wife, and had had children born of the marriage, made application to have the marriage license altered to their true names, but as this was impossible it was agreed that an affidavit be filed stating the facts.

A number of Pennsylvania avenue property-holders have signed an agreement to test in the courts the legality of the assessment of private property for the new pavement on that avenue, and to settle finally the question whether the property-holders on the avenue are bound to keep it in repair.

The Germania Schuetzen Club began to-day their schuetzenfest at Gale's Woods. The Germania met a large delegation of the West Baltimore Schuetzen at the Baltimore and Ohio depot this morning, and the whole party proceeded, under the lead of Marshal Goebel, to the park in procession, making quite a handsome appearance.

A. W. Layton has been placed in charge of the inspection of timber at Washington navy-yard.

B. T. Crabbs has been appointed flour inspector, to take effect on the first proximo, vice Florian Hits, resigned.

The contract for the pavement, &c., on New Hampshire avenue, between F and U streets, was to-day awarded to Andrew Gleason at $283 91.

The postoffice at Overalls, Warren county, Va., is discontinued for want of a candidate; the papers go to Bentonville. The site of the postoffice at Nestorville, Barbour county, Va., is changed to its original location, and John S. Nestor is appointed postmaster, vice Lewis Anvil, superseded by change of site.

Appointments by the Governor—Intermediate Term of the Court.

The Governor has appointed Harry W. Snowden auctioneer in the city of Baltimore, vice W. B. Lewis, failed to qualify; also, Richard Vansant justice of the peace for the eighth district of Frederick county, vice F. S. Clary, failed to qualify; also, James A. Lowndes, same for the first district of St. Mary's county, vice O. A. Evans, removed from the county; also, William Platt judge of the Orphans' Court for Allegany County, vice Cornelius Slack, deceased; also, Edw. G. Starr justice of the peace for the second legislative district, twelfth ward, Baltimore, vice Harry W. Snowden, resigned.

The intermediate term of the Anne Arundel County Court began here to-day, Judge Oliver Miller on the bench. The trial docket contains 203 cases, the appearance 108, and the appeal 19. The dockets were called over to-day. It is thought that the term will close on Tuesday. There will be no jury trials nor criminal cases adjudicated.

The board of public works held a meeting here to-day, but transacted only routine business.

Fire in Baltimore County.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.]

TOWSONTOWN, MD., July 16, 1877.

It is reported here to-day by a gentleman living in the eighth district of Baltimore county that some seventeen or eighteen hundred bushels of wheat and about fifty tons of hay in ricks, on the Oregon farm, the property of the Ashland Iron Company, were destroyed by fire on Saturday night last. It is thought to have been the work of an incendiary.

RICHMOND, VA., July 14, 1877.

The Board of Health Report—Legislative Aspirants—The Moffett Liquor Bill.

The annual report of the board of health of this city for 1876 has just been printed. There were 2,122 births during the year, including 184 still-births, being an increase of 116 over the births of the previous year. There were 545 marriages, or 86 more than for 1875. The total deaths amounted to 1,649, or 52 more than for the year before. Estimating the average population during the year at 75,000, and the whites at 42,830, the colored at 32,170, the death rate per 1,000 of the total population was 21.98; of whites 17.36, and of colored 28.13.

Candidates to represent this city in the next House of Delegates are springing up in great number. Only one, so far, is running on the repudiation platform, and even he has another name for it.

It will not be many days before the so-called Moffett-punch liquor bill will be put to a decisive test here. The auditor will then be supplied with the machines by the manufacturer, and it is said that our liquor associations will at once apply to a Federal judge for an injunction against their use as an infringement of a patent of which the association is now owner. It is held that if an injunction issue the association must give bond sufficient to reimburse the State all damage ensuing to the treasury by the suspension of the tax, and that the State can also prevent the injunction by agreeing to pay any damages, &c., that may be adjudged under the patent.

Colonel T. H. Carter, State railroad commissioner, and Mr. B. C. Gray, president of the city Tobacco Exchange, go to Washington on Tuesday to invite President Hayes, &c., to attend the postal convention at Old Point.

Fatal Accident to a Young Lady.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.]

PARIS, Fauquier county, Va., July 15.

An accident which occurred in this vicinity on Saturday evening last, resulting in the death of an amiable and popular young lady, has thrown this community in mourning. On the occasion named Miss Bertie Ferguson, sister of Rev. S. G. Ferguson, of the Baltimore Conference M. E. Church South, and stationed at Charlestown, W. Va., was taking a horseback ride, accompanied by Mr. W. Green. The horse which Miss Ferguson was riding was frightened and became unmanageable. She was an excellent rider and kept her seat in the saddle for more than a mile over a mountainous road, but in attempting to clear a gully in the road she was thrown and instantly killed.

Letter from California.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8, 1877.

Great Overstocks in Trade—Iron Buying and Manufacture—Artesian Irrigation—Prospective Change of Land Values, &c.

Overproduction is the sin of the times. San Francisco on the whole gains something by it. Never was there so great a glut of merchandise—notably, silks and fancy goods, and particularly ready-made clothing. New York has a fashion, when oppressed with overstocks, to seek relief by packing them on us, to be sold for what they will bring. Flaming bills posted all over town announce goods from bankrupt sales in New York—full suits for gentlemen $6 50, &c. Coals pour in two tons to one that we want—from England, from Philadelphia, British Colombia, Australia, Oregon and Washington Territory, till this market is gorged with two years' supply ahead of its wants. Meanwhile we are paying half a million a month taxation on European dry goods, expressive of two or three millions worth of further overstock every month, to be sold without limitation.

One of the greatest objections to making this a manufacturing centre is the liability of any branch to have its goods thus undersold. Many shoe factories have been started, and from this cause they are always embarrassed, and usually are compelled to close. This is an evil likely to be permanent. It is this that prevents the establishment of iron works here. We have in vain appealed to iron men in Pennsylvania, showing that iron can be made in California as cheap as in Lehigh. Ironstone abounds and [...]nite coals and lime and hearth-stones, and [...] is worth from $3 to $10 more because of [...]sive transit. Yet we cannot induce the [...] of even one furnace. Lehigh men say [...] and iron men have been and ever will be crazy to make a show of big tonnage and certain bankruptcy rather than of profits and prosperity. This is true. No stocks are so ruinous east as coal and iron. But in favor of California it may be said with assurance that iron manufacturing here would not be oppressed with overstocks for twenty years to come. Besides the unusual consumption by machinists, where one hundred millions of precious metals are produced yearly, there is an outside market along 4,000 miles of coast. We are persuaded that Pennsylvania iron masters would view the matter differently if they would consider intelligently the great wants of this coast. Never yet was so ample and so sure a market for anything without assured success to the first enterprisers. We present it to the consideration of iron men in Maryland and Virginia. Here is a clear field unoccupied yet by even a single iron blast furnace, with a wide market at prices much in advance of rates on the Atlantic side, and protected from eastern competition by 12,000 miles of ship freight.

We suggested through the Baltimore Sun that if any expert hydrologist would spend time in studying the law of the water courses in California he would be confident that there is a vast underground channel on this peninsula from which San Francisco can, at a tithe of contemplated cost, draw an overflowing stream equal to the requirement of a million of inhabitants. The suggestion has attracted the attention of all our artesian well-borers, who, having among them successfully obtained flowing water at more than 200 places, feel assured that we are correct. Other experts from Los Angeles and from the great deserts now traversed some hundreds of miles by the Southern Pacific railway, add their approving experience. Wherever they bore they do not fail to strike artesian water, coming from the multitudinous lakes of the snowy Nevadas, superficial and subterranean. There is not an explored mountain in the States of Nevada and California that is not full of water reservoirs. The rivers that give outlet to these vast reservoirs are not adequate to carry off one-fourth. Therefore three-fourth parts find their way to ocean in subterranean channels.

A company offers, as competitor of many others, to find abundant water and quick realization, at a cost that tempts acceptance. Instead of over 150 miles off, this company proposes to find ample water, not exceeding an hour's ride away. The proposition is before the board.

The grangers are excited by the artesian reports. They begin to see that the area of sure production, independent of drouth, will probably be quadruple, and that there will come very soon a radical change in land valuations. Lands now desert will become most valued, because of being assured of two crops a year and independent of weather contingencies, while our richest bottom lands are often swamped in wet seasons and make no harvest. Artesian wells being beyond the means of ordinary immigrants, will be made by land monopolists, who will be well paid by the increased price of the land. On such lands, come at whatever time of year, the farmer can plant something at once, and in sixty days he is sure of food for his cow, his pigs, his poultry and his family, while in such climate the merest apology for shelter suffices to protect him from suffering. Water plenty, would make farming in California the most attractive agriculture in the world. S.

Militia Court-Martial—Findings and Review by the General Commanding.—Gen. Jas. R. Herbert having received the findings of the recent court-martial of officers and men of the Fifth Regiment for disobedience of orders in not appearing for parade June 14, has ordered the court dissolved and the accused released from arrest. The court was called at the instance of Capt. Zollinger, commanding the Fifth Regiment, and it was composed of Col. Peters, Sixth Regiment, president; Capts. R. P. Brown, John D. Lipscomb, Willis Gardner, J. M. Jamison, Thomas Hillen and Geo. W. Wood; Lieuts. George T. Beall, Jr., judge advocate, and John H. Ehlen.

When the court met Col. Peters raised the question of jurisdiction, in that the commanding officer of the Fifth Regiment had not held a court of review, in compliance with general orders No. 3, 1870, which were still in force. The court determined that it had no jurisdiction and adjourned sine die. The findings were forwarded to Gen. Herbert, whose indorsement has been returned as follows:

Headquarters First Brigade, M. N. G., City Hall, Baltimore, Md., July 16, 1877.—First. The proceedings and finding of the court-martial convened in obedience to special orders No. 3, of which Col. Peters, Sixth Regiment Light Artillery, was president, are disapproved. The court adjourned July 9; the papers reached me this day, July 14. Such delay in military judicial procedure in the absence of proper explanation is unheard of and inexcusable. Nor do the papers even offer any explanation of it. The president, by his own showing, violated one of the most common rules known to the soldier, viz., addressing an official communication to the adjutant general without sending through the proper channel, thereby making himself liable to arrest and trial by court-martial.

Second. The court, in my opinion, had no right to consider any paper appertaining to the matter that did not come down to them through the proper channels, and indorsed as such.

Third. It was the province of the prisoner to put in the plea of jurisdiction. It would have been better for the court to have tried the prisoner, brought in their verdict, let the papers with all the evidence be forwarded through the proper channels to the commander in chief, who could and would approve or disapprove.

Now as to the facts. Capt. W. P. Zollinger, commanding Fifth Regiment Infantry, asked for a general court-martial. By virtue of my authority as commander of the first district M. N. G., the court is ordered and convened. The law governing the military of this State in every section (for the benefit of the service) throughout enjoins as far as possible conformity to the rules and regulations governing the United States service. The idea that sections 51, 52 and 53 of general orders No. 3, issued by the adjutant general of the State in 1870 are intended to prevent a district commander from convening a general court, when in his opinion the same is necessary or proper, is I think erroneous, to say the least.

If the government of the Maryland militia is confined to the letter of the regulations contained in general order No. 3, and has no reference to the regulations and articles of war governing the United States army, the 94th section of general order No. 3 is the only one under which a general court-martial can be convened, and as that section limits such courts to the trial of "capital charges," and section 117 of the same order forbids the death sentence, except in time of war, it follows that in time of peace a general court-martial cannot be convened at all; a result so subversive of proper military discipline as not to have been contemplated by the framers of the militia law of this State.

The section referred to merely intends to show that a court of review shall consist of a colonel, or commander of a regiment, but in his absence by a field officer. In this case Capt. Zollinger preferred the charges. He did not wish to try the cases himself. He had no field officer, and he was right, in my opinion, to ask for a general court-martial. The object of the issuing of sections 51, 52 and 53 was to facilitate the investigation and hear excuses for absence from duty, but certainly never to prevent a court-martial when thought proper by the commander of a regiment and convened by the proper authority. The court, of which Col. Peters is president, is dissolved. The officers and men against whom Capt. Zollinger preferred charges will be released from arrest and restored to duty. JAMES R. HERBERT, Brigadier General Commanding.

Festival and Target Practice.—Company B, Capt. John H. Duffey, Sixth Regiment, M. N. G., held a festival and target practice at Roet's Park, Belair road, yesterday, with an illumination of the park at evening. The company, thirty muskets, formed at the armory in the morning, and, headed by the band and drum corps, marched around the city hall and along Fayette, Charles, Baltimore and Gay streets to the park, presenting a soldierly appearance. Shooting with rifles at a target at 100 yards resulted as follows: Gold medal, private William Almoney, score 8 out of a possible 15; silver medal, Corporal John Scheifenreif, score 6; leather medal for worst shot, Corporal Joseph Schneider, score 2. Corporal Schneider, in shooting off a tie with five others for the leather medal, made the best shot of the day, striking the edge of the bull's eye. Col. Clarence Peters and other officers of the regiment visited the park. Prizes for bowling were awarded as follows: First, Otto Fischer, $8; second, G. H. Ruff, $5; F. Lingelbach, $3 50; most ten strikes, Otto Fischer, $4.

Cutting Case.—Henry Cook and John Tracey were arrested last night by Sergeant League and policeman Stapleton for cutting each other in the saloon of Henry Luzius, Aliceanna street, near Broadway. They were brought to the eastern station bleeding very freely, Cook having a cut on the nose and one on the right hand. Tracey had the lobe of his left ear cut entirely off and a severe gash in his left arm, with several scratches upon his face. It is stated that a grudge existed between them which brought on the fight. It is stated that they threw beer glasses at each other. Cook it is alleged, also used a knife, and it was evident that Tracey's wounds were made by some sharp instrument. Dr. McShane attended them at the station-house, and they were held for a hearing this morning before Justice Farlow. Cook is a huckster in the Broadway market and Tracey is a carter.

Sign Privileges.—It was stated in the local columns a few days ago that Mr. W. H. Read was fined for not having permits to place his soda water signs 22 inches beyond the building line. Mr. Read had the permits among his papers, but could not place his hands upon them just at the moment. The mayor, upon hearing of the case, immediately remitted the penalty. The privilege of extending signs is quite generally practiced through the city, and in this case the signs were not regarded as an obstruction.

Narrow Escape.—Mary Snyder, six years old, No. 17 Cemetery lane, while attempting to cross Gay street, at Eager street, last evening, was knocked down by the horses of car No. 18 of the red line, and made a narrow escape from severe if not fatal injury. As the horses struck her the driver, Isaac Pearsall, jumped from his seat, and seizing the child, saved her from being trampled under foot or run over by the wheels. She received cuts about the head, neck and face, which are not of a serious character.

Appeal.—Albert Rosenbaum was fined $25 yesterday by Justice Morse for pedling notions on the street without a license. He took an appeal from the decision of the justice, claiming that his connection with a Lexington street notion house entitled him to the privilege of selling goods on the street. Justice Morse read the public general law relating to pedlers' licenses and held him for court.

Important Railroad Improvement.—The track shifting of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad on Boston street from Chester street to the eastern city limits has been completed, but there is other work, such as repaving, &c., to be done yet. Several Sundays have been consumed in the transfer of the track, which was removed from the south side of Boston street, where it was in unpleasant proximity to houses, to the centre of the street. The Sunday work was a necessity, when trains were not running, in order to prevent public inconvenience by the stoppage of trains, as would have been required on other days of the week. The Sunday gangs of laborers comprised over 400 men, under Robert McClintock, road superintendent. Repaving, &c., from Chester street to Burke street has been done by the railroad company. From Burke street to the city limits new pavement is being laid by the city authorities, while the railroad company will also pave the street from the city limits to Clinton street, Canton, Louis Hax & Bro., contractors.

The city has built a new bridge over Harris's creek at Boston street, and the track runs over it. The bridge is of wood, on piles, 126 feet long, 50 feet wide, with girders of 8 by 12 inches North Carolina pine and double thickness of three-inch pine. The bridge is protected by railings, and the track, being exactly in the centre, leaves abundant room for the passage of vehicles on both sides, and for foot-passengers at the sides of the carriage ways. The work is certainly a great improvement in many respects. The paving has progressed beyond the bridge and will be completed this fall. About a hundred men are employed upon it. The Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company some months ago made an extensive purchase of land at the water front east of the present ferry to Locust Point. It is stated the company proposes, perhaps as early as next spring, a removal of the present ferry houses to a point further east, with many improvements. In course of time it is proposed to increase the transfer capacities of the present ferry between Canton and Locust Point for both passengers and freight by large barges, and thus perhaps to lessen the use of the string-team transfer by Pratt street. Regular lines of steamers now stop at the Canton ferry for passengers. The terminal railroad facilities at this point will, it is expected, be greatly increased in the next few years.

Prof. Smith's Will.—The will of the late Prof. Nathan R. Smith, who died on the 3d inst., was yesterday admitted to probate in the Orphans' Court. The body of the will is in the handwriting of Dr. Smith, and it was executed October 26, 1875. The testator leaves his professional library, instruments and marble statue of Hero to his son, Dr. Alan P. Smith, and a diamond ring to his grandson, Dr. Saml. Theobald. All the remaining estate, real and personal, is left to his son, Dr. Alan P. Smith, and his daughter, Mrs. Mary H. Lanier, in trust for the benefit of his wife, Mrs. Julietta O. P. Smith, during her life, and at her death to be divided into one hundred equal shares and distributed as follows: To his son, Dr. Alan P. Smith, 14 13-100 shares; to his daughter, Mary H. Lanier, 23 63-100 shares; in trust for the sole use of his daughter, Mrs. Ella Montgomery, 15 33-00 shares, in the event of her death without disposal and without issue to be divided among the other distributees in the ratio of their proportions as indicated; to Dr. Nathan S. Lincoln, of Washington, D. C., in trust for the sole use of his granddaughter, Annie Smith, 2 83-100 shares; to his granddaughters, Alice Theobald, Annie Theobald and Ruth, wife of Geo. V. Longcope, for her sole use, each 9 98-100 shares; to his grandson, Samuel Theobald, 1 89-100 shares; in trust for his grandson, Warfield Theobald, until 28 years old, 2 83-100 shares; in trust for his granddaughters, Julietta and Caroline Hall, until 21 years old, each 4 71-100 shares. The testator declares that $11,500 loaned to Dr. Alan P. Smith, or so much as may be due with interest, shall be considered as advanced on his shares above mentioned. Dr. Alan P. Smith and Mr. Mary H. Lanier are named as trustees and executors; in the event of the death of either his friend Charles E. Phelps to fill the vacancy. The witnesses are Maria D. Brown, Theresa B. Ott and Charles E. Phelps. The bond given by the executors was $60,000, indicating $30,000 as the value of the personal estate devised.

Breadstuffs, Produce and Truck Markets.—A large fleet of bay vessels was at Bowly's wharf. Pratt street and elsewhere in the harbor yesterday, freighted with grain, potatoes and other Virginia and Maryland produce. The receipts of Southern wheat aggregated 58,000 bushels, the largest of the season, and there was a large attendance and active business in it on the floor of the Baltimore Corn and Flour Exchange. All was sold and the market closed strong at full prices. About 3,000 barrels of potatoes arrived and were sold on the wharves at low prices. A lot of 2,200 canteloupes, the first of the season from Anne Arundel, were sent to market by Mr. Jeff. M. Cook, from Magothy river, and were sold at $10 a hundred. The Anne Arundel watermelon and canteloupe crops will begin to come to market in a few days. A few boxes of peaches from the Eastern Shore of Maryland are arriving by the steamboats, and the dealers are making ready to handle the crop, which will soon be on. Several Western peach buyers were in Baltimore yesterday. Berries, apples, pears, tomatoes, &c., promise a good yield.

Samuel J. Soper & Co., auctioneers, sold for Henry C. Wentz, trustee, a three-story brick store and dwelling, southeast corner of Lombard and Washington streets, lot 16 by 100 feet, ground rent $48, to Mary Gwyun for $1,085.

Republican Politics.—The pressure of applicants for place in the custom house of Baltimore continued yesterday as great as ever, and the collector had to protect himself by restrictive orders. Mr. Thomas has also issued an order enforcing the politico-civil-service code of President Hayes. Custom house officers and aspirants are prohibited from figuring as active political partisans in conventions, party committees, ward associations, &c. All persons who are to be elected at the republican primaries to-morrow for ward officers or members of the city convention must come from voters outside of the custom house.

Arrest of a Letter-Carrier.—Samuel Cooper, a letter carrier of the Baltimore postoffice, was arrested yesterday by Special Agent Wm. T. Henderson, charged with robbing the mails. It is stated that for a year past there had been complaints of missing letters. A number of the carriers in the postoffice had been tried at different times and found innocent. On Sunday Special Agents Henderson and Tidball went to Washington and mailed three decoy letters, each containing money, to different addresses in Baltimore city. It is alleged that Cooper took one of the decoys with $8, addressed to No. 318 Hamburg street, and another with $5, directed to No. 92 South Eutaw street, but returned the third decoy after handling it at the postoffice. He was arrested at his home on Williamson street, near Light street. He drew a pistol and threatened to shoot Mr. Henderson, but was disarmed, and Assistant Special Agent Troy seized him and with a pistol brought Cooper to terms. Nine dollars of the $13 taken from the decoys, it is stated, was found on his person and was identified by the special agent. Cooper was committed by Commissioner Rogers for a hearing to morrow. He is thirty-five years old, has a family and has been a letter-carrier eight years. The complaints of missing letters have not been on Cooper's district, and it is charged that he managed to secure letters at the postoffice which were addressed to persons on the districts of other carriers, which rendered his detection difficult.

Tax Bills.—The clerks of the tax department completed the transcribing of the new assessment ledgers last evening, and are now engaged in "calling off" the work as a test of accuracy. On Monday next they will commence making out the tax bills, and Collector Thomas states he will be ready to receive payments August 1. Col. Thomas promised the council that he would be ready to receive taxes August 10, but owing to the application and energy of the clerks the work will be finished ten days in advance of that time. From the 1st to the 20th of August ten per cent. will be discounted on personal property, and eighth per cent. on real estate. This is a large rate of discount. It is likely that there will be very large receipts of taxes in the first twenty days as large holders are generally anxious to avail themselves of the maximum rates of discount.

Petroleum Exports, &c.—The petroleum exports from Baltimore for foreign ports yesterday were again large, aggregating 31,078 barrels, with 1,478,037 gallons. There were five cargoes, of which four were for Bremen and the other for Pillau, Germany. Other foreign exports were 31,784 bushels corn for England; 936 hogsheads tobacco and 20,000 staves for Marseilles. Total value of all foreign exports $289,537. Foreign imports were 1,000,000 spruce laths, from New Brunswick; 1,393 bags coffee, from Rio; 3,500 dozen pineapples, from the Bahamas; 1,416 casks soda ash, and 400 barrels Venetian red, from Newcastle, England.

The Weather in Baltimore was oppressively warm yesterday. The prevailing light south and southeast winds had no influence in tempering the rays of the sun, which were scorching hot. The highest temperature recorded at the signal station was 91 degrees, against 87 on Sunday. At other points the temperature at 4.30 P. M. was as follows: Cape Henry 90, Long Branch 82, Cape May 79, Boston 80, Philadelphia 89, Pittsburg 93, New York 81, Chicago 76, Cincinnati 77, Nashville 80, Louisville 76. Rains were reported in the West and Southwest, with hail at Cincinnati.

The Debris of the wooden bridge which recently fell into Gwynn's falls on the Windsor Mill road has been removed. It is expected the Baltimore county commissioners, who meet at Towsontown to-day, will determine the matter of replacing the structure. It is expected they will conclude to put up an iron structure. The abutments are good, and it would not require a long time to construct and erect the superstructure.

The St. George's Society held its quarterly meeting at the Rennert House last evening. Mr. Stewart Farrell, president, and Mr. E. G. Lind, secretary. The principal business expected to come up was the report of a committee in regard to the erection of a hall, a project long entertained by the society. A full meeting not being present the report and its consideration was postponed.

Drowned from a Pungy.—Henry Pritchard, aged 19 years, son of John Pritchard, of Dorchester county, fell overboard from the pungy Melissa J. Tyler, Capt. Dean, last Saturday afternoon and was drowned. The accident occurred between James and Travers' Points, in the Chesapeake bay, while the young man was endeavoring to get into the yawlboat at the davits.

The Four Per Cents.—The subscriptions to the new government four per cent. gold loan, the books for which closed yesterday, amounted to $116,000 at the Baltimore sub-treasury. It is stated some Baltimore investors subscribed directly from the syndicate at New York.

Farber to John H. Farber, and of administration on the estate of Nathan R. Smith to Alan P. Smith and Mary H. Lanier.

FOUR SOUTH CAROLINA WIDOWS.—At Prosperity, a station on the Greenville and Columbus railroad, says the Newberry (S. C.) Herald, there dwell in reach of the sound of the whistle four widows whose names and deeds should be printed in letters of gold. We shall tell of them—to spare blushes—first as

No. 1. This lady—as, in fact, all the others—lost her husband during the war, and was left in straitened circumstances. Did she sit down and grieve at her fate? By no means. She has raised four children, besides fine crops, and to-day she has much of last year's cotton and flour on hand, is free from debt, and is able to pay cash down for what she wants.

No. 2 looks complacently on all of her last crop of cotton, and with a sense of perfect rest and absolute fullness of 3,000 pounds of flour, neither of which she has sold because she had no use for the money—here's a widow for you. The only thing which disturbs her rest now is what to do with her new fodder, every place being occupied with the old. She, too, like a true woman, has raised children and set them up under their own vine and fig tree.

No. 3 struggled through the years which have rolled on since the late unpleasantness, raised six children; given each at majority $500 in cash. Last year she bought a tract of land for which $1,400 in good money was paid. Has corn, fodder and other things in abundance.

No. 4, like unto the others, has made a splendid fight and brought up a large family in the way they should go, has of last year's crop abundance, pays cash in trade and loans her earnings out on interest.

MR. R. M. HOE ROBBED.—The New York police on Sunday arrested Victor Schottenberg, of Morrisania, and in his possession found a quantity of wearing apparel and some harness. The officers then went to Morrisania and concealed at his residence discovered property valued at $1,200, which was stolen a few days ago from the residence of Mr. R. M. Hoe, the printing press maker, at Brightside, Westchester county.

The Silent Captain.

HOW STONEWALL JACKSON SLEPT—HIS SINGULAR RETICENCE.

The following is an extract from reminiscences of Gen. Stonewall Jackson furnished the Philadelphia Weekly Times by Major H. Kyd Douglas, of Hagerstown, Md.:

General Jackson's troops and his enemy's believed he never slept; the fact is, he slept a great deal. Whenever he had nothing else to do he went to sleep, especially in church. I remember during the invasion of Maryland, on Sunday night he rode three miles in an ambulance to attend church in Frederick, and then fell asleep as soon as the minister began to preach: his head fell upon his breast, and he never awoke until aroused by the organ and choir. He could sleep anywhere and in any position, sitting in his chair, under fire, or on horseback. On a night march toward Richmond, after the battles with McClellan, he was riding along with his drowsy staff, nodding and sleeping as he went. We passed by groups of men sitting along the roadside and engaged in roasting new corn by fires made of fence-rails. One group took us for cavalrymen with an inebriated captain, and one of the party, delighted at the sight of a man who had found whisky enough to be drunk, sprang up from the fire and brandishing a roasting-ear in his hand, leaped down into the road, and seizing the general's horse, cried out, "I say, old fellow, where the devil did you get your liquor?" In an instant, as the general awoke, the fellow saw his mistake, and then bounding from the road he took the fence at a single leap, exclaiming "Good God! its old Jack!" and disappeared in the darkness.

Yes, General Jackson slept a great deal, but he was never caught napping. He gave to sleep many moments which other men would have given to conversation. He was essentially a silent man; not morose, but quiet. He smiled often, rarely laughed. He never told a joke, but did not discourage them in others, and if one struck his peculiar fancy he would smile in mild approval. He did not live apart from his staff, but liked to have them about him, and they were nearly all very young men. Universally polite in manner, he encouraged the liveliest conversation among them, although he took little part in it. He was not a man of words; they seemed to embarrass him. When he had ideas he put them in action, not into language. His military dispatches were as brief as if studied, like the one he sent after the defeat of Milroy: "God blessed our arms with victory at McDowell yesterday." He never discussed his plans; indeed, he never told them. The next officer under him never knew his intention nor object. He never volunteered his opinion to his superior nor asked advice of his subordinates. He was as self-reliant as he was silent, and believed "he walks with speed who walks alone." He was reticent to a fault. "If my coat knew what I intended to do I'd take it off and throw it away," was one of his sayings. This reticence often led to embarrassment and complaint from the officer next in command, and might have led to disaster in case of his death; but he evidently thought it better to run that risk than the risk of having his plans discovered.

Watering Place Notes.

Political.

Judge Wright, the colored expounder of the law in South Carolina, who has been suspended from the bench because of his fondness for stimulating drink, has discovered an original way for escaping a temperance pledge. They got him into a temperance meeting recently, and tried to induce him to sign, but he refused on the high ground that if he signed everybody would say it was a confession that he drank, whereas the truth was he never took anything stronger than "thartharparilla," and that would not hurt anybody.

Gen. Thomas C. Dunn, who was formerly comptroller of South Carolina, unites with Patterson in condemning ex-Gov. Chamberlain's speech. Gen. Dunn says he has a poor enough opinion of Gen. Hampton and of the Southern policy, but he thinks the present evils would only be exaggerated by a disruption of the national republican party.

The Washington Star says: "A New York lawyer named Norton, at present a guest at the Ebbitt House, stated last night that he had the authority for the statement, under the Senator's own signature, that Mr. Conkling would refuse to indorse the Southern policy of President Hayes."

In response to a letter of inquiry from a friend Gen. Thomas Ewing says he does not want, has not sought, and shall in no way seek to be nominated for Governor of Ohio; but if the democracy of the State should call him to lead the fight this fall he would not feel at liberty to decline.

SITTING BULL AND THE CANADIANS.—The Indian office has received information to the effect that Sitting Bull and his adherents were visited daily by Canadian officials. Sitting Bull said he came to Canada because he was tired of fighting, and if he could not make a living in Canada he would return to the United States. Spotted Eagle, Rain-in-the-Face, Medicine Bear and a number of other hostile chiefs were present. They were told that they would be allowed ammunition only for hunting purposes, and that should any of their people cross to the United States side and commit any depredation the chiefs would be held responsible and punished. The Canadian Indians, however, are all opposed to having these hostile Sioux on their side of the boundary, as they are at war with them. In the event of the United States demanding the hostiles the Canadian mounted police (only 300 men) would be an insufficient force to drive them out of the country. The hostiles have a good supply of arms and horses, but little or no ammunition. No Indian can obtain ammunition from the traders in British territory without an order from the military commander, which is not given except for a strictly limited quantity, sufficient to supply immediate needs of hunting in case the Indian is actually suffering for food. The Canadian authorities regard the United States horses and arms the Sioux have as the spoils of war, and have given no orders regarding them. There are now 2,000 lodges of Sioux north of the boundary.

THE DROWNING CASE AT ATLANTIC CITY—Particulars of the Affair.—It has already been announced that Mr. Moore Beatty, of Philadelphia, was drowned at Atlantic City on Saturday morning while attempting to rescue a lady, Mrs. Phillips, of New York city, who while bathing had got beyond her depth. Mr. Beatty and his wife were standing on the beach watching the bathers, when it was observed that Mrs. Phillips was making signs of distress. Throwing off his coat and boots Mr. Beatty plunged into the water and swam to her assistance. He reached her, but the drowning woman seized him by the legs and dragged him under. A large crowd collected on the beach and boats put out to their aid. They did not sink, but when hauled on board of one of the boats life appeared to be extinct, but when they had reached the shore both began to gasp. A physician was sent for and efforts were made to resuscitate them, but, though the gasping continued for nearly an hour, through ignorance and bungling both finally died. Mr. Beatty and his family had only reached Atlantic City on the day before, and were staying at the Columbia House. His body reached Philadelphia on Saturday evening.—Mrs. Phillips, who was the widow of a retired French merchant, was also a guest at the Columbia House. She was well known at Atlantic City, having spent her summers there for several years. She was known as a very bold bather, so much so that many ladies refused to accompany her to the water, being afraid to witness her daring exploits in the water. She was reputed wealthy, and is said to have lived on Sixty-ninth street, New York. Mr. Beatty by occupation was a carpenter and builder. He was president of a number of building associations. Deceased, who was about forty-six years of age, leaves a wife and married daughter. The victims, though both guests at the Columbia House, were entirely unacquainted with each other.

J. Simpson Carey, a wealthy citizen of Worcester county, Md., committed suicide last Friday in his barn.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

The gold premium made a decided advance in New York yesterday from 105⅜ to 105¾, and closed firm with the latter bid. The loaning rates were 1-64 per diem and 4 per cent per annum for use, opening and closing at the former. These figures indicate a scarcity for delivery. At the local Board there were sales of $8,000 coin and $10,000 New York at 105¾, the latter seller 30 flat. Gold is selling freely for future delivery against expected shipments of produce.—The gold value of the greenback dollar is 94 79-100 cents.

On Corn 'Change business was unusually active yesterday, more particularly in the article of wheat, which is coming forward freely, but in other branches of trade there is nothing of special interest to note. Money is in abundant supply, and rates remain at 4a6 per cent for loans and 4½a5 for discounts. At the Stock Board there was only a moderate business. Virginia Consols were active and advanced to 66 from 65¼, but closed a trifle easier at 65¾a65⅞; Consol coupons sold at 80¼ and closed 80¼a80⅜, firm; deferred Certificates sold at 5. Missouri 6s were firm at 106¼a106½, with a sale at 106⅝, and North Carolina old 6s sold at 17¾. City 6s were strong. Quarterly 5s advanced to 99½ bid, a good indication for the success of the new 5 per cent loan now offering, which is clear of State tax.

Baltimore and Ohio stock is steady and quiet, closing 91½a93, without sales. Bonds are generally quiet, the only material change being in Pittsburg and Connellsville, which sold at 94 and 94½, closing 94a94¼ against 93a93¾ on Saturday. Marietta firsts and seconds were neglected, and the thirds a shade firmer. People's Gas stock was easier, and sold at 13⅜ against 13¾. Santa Clara stock was dull, sold at 9⅜ and 9¼ and closed 9¼a10.

The Secretary of the Treasury issued a call yesterday for $10,000,000 5-20 bonds of 1865, January and July, payable with accrued interest on 16th October next, after which date interest will cease. The following are the numbers and class of the bonds called: Coupon bonds—$50, Nos. 17,001 to 24,000; $100, Nos. 29,001 to 40,000; $500, Nos. 27,001 to 34,000, and $1,000, Nos. 52,001 to 64,000—total, $7,000,000. Registered bonds—$50, Nos. 701 to 900; $100, Nos. 6,401 to 8,550; $500, Nos. 5,701 to 6,150; $1,000, Nos. 16,501 to 19,850; $5,000, Nos. 5,051 to 5,900, and $10,000, Nos. 4,473 to 5,854—total, $3,000,000, aggregating $10,000,000, both numbers inclusive. This call is the fifty-first in regular order, and absorbs $55,000,000 of the 5-20s of 1865 new, leaving about $147,000,000 outstanding. It is stated that an additional call for a larger amount will probably be made within the present week.

The time allowed for subscription to the 4 per cent. loan at par expired yesterday, and at the close of business the amount taken aggregated $68,000,000, of which $63,000,000 were through the syndicate, and the remainder through the treasurer and assistant treasurers of the United States. The success of the experiment of offering the loan to popular subscription is very gratifying, as indicating the high credit of the government. It may also be taken as marking the departure of the time of high rates of interest, and it is more than probable that funding operations looking solely to a reduction of interest charges will be undertaken by all States and cities as well as corporate bodies enjoying a credit sufficiently substantial to promise success. The amount of the subscriptions largely exceeds the estimates put upon the amount by the Treasury Department and all others interested in the project, and much the larger proportion was received in the last few days, after the success was assured. On yesterday the demand for subscription was active, and at Washington a number of applicants were unable to subscribe, owing to their inability to obtain gold coin with which to make the required two per cent. deposit. The syndicate will hereafter market the loan according to the terms made with the Treasury Department, and will no doubt find it will be rapidly taken. Already the bonds are offered in London, but with what result has not yet been made known.

The New York stock market yesterday opened firm, with some advance, but soon became weak, and though fluctuating to some extent, made a marked decline, which was led by the Coals. Morris and Essex lost 1¾, Lackawanna 1⅝, and Delaware and Hudson 1⅜. In the general list Illinois Central declined 1⅝, Lake Shore, Northwestern common and pretd, and Rock Island each 1. N. York Central and Michigan Central each ¼, St. Paul ⅜ on common and ⅜ on pretd, Western Union ⅜, and Ohio and Mississippi ⅜ per cent. Pacific Mail and Erie were steady. The amount of sales was 120,000 shares, and the market closed weak and depressed. Gold was firmer but dull, closing at 105¾. Sterling exchange was lower, the nominal rates being 4.86½ and 4.88½, with business ½al per cent lower. Governments were strong and active. Money was easy at 1½a2 per cent for call loans.

Mr. Franklin B. Gowen, president of the Reading Railroad Company, who has been absent in Europe for the past two months on important business for the company, arrived in Philadelphia yesterday. It is understood that Mr. Gowen has accomplished all the purposes of his visit abroad in reference to the Reading's financial situation.

Mr. Justice Barrett, of New York, has decided that the 10 per cent dividends, unpaid from 1857 to 1863, on the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana preferred stock are a liability of the present Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad Company, but holders who took their stock after the first consolidation in 1863 are estopped from claiming them.

The foreign markets for the funds were quiet yesterday, without any special change. On the London Exchange British Consols were steady at 94¾a94 11-16. United States bonds were ⅛ lower for 1881s and ¼ higher for 4½ per cents, closing as follows: 5-20s of 1867 at 106¾; 10-40s 110; new 5s 107¼ ex coupon, and 4½ per cents 106¼. Erie Railroad 7⅝a8; do. preferred 18, and Illinois Central 56¾. At Paris 5 per cent Rentes rose to 107f. 47½c. and closed at 107f. 42½c., against 107f. 40c. on Saturday, and Exchange on London closed at 25f. 14½c. for short sight, 2c. decline. The Bank of England gained £63,000 specie on balance yesterday.

BALTIMORE MARKET, MONDAY, July 16, 1877.

[Prices given below refer to wholesale operations only, unless otherwise expressed.]

COTTON.—Receipts to-day 378 bales, against 1259 bales for corresponding day last year. Exports 2305 bales. Stock at all the ports 2,5,948 bales. The market is firm, but not particularly active, owing to the limited stock offering. Sales reported of 130 bales at 11⅜a12 cents, latter for low middling, to an out-of-town spinner. We quote prices as follows: Middling at 12⅜ cents, low middling 11⅜a12 cents, strict good ordinary 11⅜a11⅜ cents, and good ordinary 1 a11⅛ cts. At New York spots advanced 1-16c, and closed steady at 12 5-16 cts, and futures, after advancing 8 to 10 points fell back, and closed barely steady, as follows:

	Saturday.	To-day.
July....................	12.28	12.27
August..................	12.29	12.29
September............	12.08	12.09
October..............	11.67	11.65
November............	11.45	11.43
December............	11.46	11.44

COFFEE.—The market is quiet, the advices per Cable from Rio, though generally expected to show a decline, having rather a depressing influence. The deliveries the past week were 6600 bags, and the stock is 91,270 bags, including 31,872 bags in first hands. The Mary Rice arrived to-day with only 1392 bags. We learn of no sales, and quote prices nominally as follows: Rio cargoes, ordinary at 17a17¼ cts, fair 19½a19⅞ cents, good 20 cents, and prime 20¼a20½ cents per lb—all gold, 60 days.

Rio Janeiro, July 14.—Phipps Bros. & Co. report purchases of Coffee for the United States since the 4th instant 16,000 bags; stock at date 35,000 bags; receipts 55,000 bags; price 10f700. Baltimore Flour 24 500—stock 24,000 bbls. Exchange 24⅛d.

FLOUR.—There is a good demand from the local trade, and all the new stock arriving is taken, mostly in small lots, at very steady figures. The inquiry from exporters is limited, shippers holding off for a better supply to offer. Receipts to day per rail 842 bbls. The sales reported on 'Change were 100 bbls Western old super at $4 50; 100 Western Family at $8, and 100 bbls City Mills new do. at $8 25 per bbl.

GRAIN.—Receipts to-day 58,000 bushels of Southern Wheat, 2400 bus Pennsylvania do., — bushs Western do.; 4500 bus Southern Corn, 20,000 bus Western do.; 5300 bushs Oats, and 600 bushs Rye. Stocks in Elevators — bushs Wheat, and 357,053 bus Corn. There were very large offerings of Southern Wheat to-day, but the demand was fully equal, and the market was active and strong, closing with the advantage in favor of sellers, particularly for the medium grades. The demand was both from shippers and millers, the former discriminating less closely in their later dealings. The sales included 2400 bushs fair to fancy red Pennsylvania at 1 55a$1 64, bulk at $1 60; 10,000 bushs amber Southern at 1 61a$1 62; 28,000 bushs Fultz and very prime red at $1 60; 12,000 bushs good to prime red at 1 57a$1 58; 5000 bushs fair to good red at 1 50a$1 55; 1000 bushs very common to inferior at 1 25a$1 45, and 2000 bushs fair to prime white Southern at 1 45a$1 68. For Western the market was stronger at an advance of 2a2¼ cts, and closed quiet after sales of 5000 bushs No. 2 Winter red Western at $1 45, and 10,000 bush August each at $1 44 and $1 44½, opening and closing at the former. There was a further advance after 'Change, with sales of 15,000 bushs July at $1 50, and 20,000 August at $1 45. September was held at $1 48, with $1 42½ bid. Demand for Southern Corn limited, and even the small increase in the offerings to-day caused a more quiet feeling. The sales were 3000 bushs good to prime white at 68a70 cents, and 225 bushs prime yellow at 66 cents. For Western the demand was more active, and the market firm at an advance of ⅛a⅜c, the limited offerings and the extreme views of sellers checking business. The transactions were 800 bushs white on track at 68 cts; 5000 bushs mixed July each at 62½ and 63 cts, and 10,000 bushs September at 62½ cents. In the afternoon there were sales reported of 10,000 bushs July at 63 cents; 50,000 bushs August at 62 cents, and 20,000 bushs September at 62½ cents, the market closing firm. Oats are dull and heavy, with freer arrivals. Sales of 1000 bushs new Southern at 40a41 cents, and 400 bushs mixed Western at 44 cents. Rye is quiet, with some inquiry for export, but at easier figures; sales about 600 bushs, mostly at 73 cts per bushel.

PETROLEUM.—The market is firm, and we hear of sales of 4000 to 5000 bbls refined, for export, said at 13¼ cents, and note the stock offering now held at 13⅜ cents. Crude is quoted at 7a7⅛ cents per gallon in bulk.

PROVISIONS.—There is a firm feeling in the market, and all the stock within reach is held with indifference. Bulk Meat in car lots is quoted at 5⅞ cts for Shoulders, and 8 cents for clear rib Sides, with only a small quantity offering. The order trade is moderately active, and we quote packed lots from store as follows: Bulk Shoulders at 6¼ cents, clear rib Sides 8¾ cents. Bacon Shoulders 6⅞ cents, clear rib Sides 8⅞a9 cents, Hams 12a13 cents. Refined Lard in tierces 10a10¼ cts. Mess Pork 15a$15 25, and Rump do. $13 50 per bbl.

SUGARS.—The market for raw is in an unsettled condition, and is difficult to report. There is some inquiry from refiners, but their views are two low to admit of business, though importers are disposed to shade previous figures. The only sale reported is 55 hhds Porto Rico grocery at 10¾ cts. We quote nominally as follows: For fair to good refining 9⅛a9⅞ cents; Cuba boxes, Nos. 10 to 12, 9⅜a10 cts; do. Centrifugal 10⅜a10⅞ cents; Porto Rico grocery 9⅜a10⅛ cents; vacuum pan Demerara 10⅛a11 cts, and French Island refining 8⅜a9⅛ cts per lb.

Refined Sugars.—The demand has slackened, and the market is dull and lower. We quote Hards at 12⅞ cents for cut loaf, 12⅜ cents for crushed, 11⅞a12 cents for granulated, and 11⅛ cents for powdered; and Softs at 11 . cents for standard A, 11 . cents for off A, and 9⅜a10⅛ cents for Yellows. Canton CC 10 cents per lb.

WHISKY.—Market for High Wines nominally $1 12 per gallon; no sales reported.

T[illegible]E SUN.

BALTIMORE, [illegible]ESDAY, JULY 17, 1877.

TRUE WAY [illegible] ADVERTISING.—Millions of dollars are ann[illegible] thrown away in this country by business [illegible] in useless and illegitimate advertising. A member of our city council, in a recent argument in protecting the city against such advertising schemes, said he was once a merchant, and he advertised largely, finding it paid better than anything else to advertise in a newspaper everybody reads. The best business men know the value of advertising in such a paper—and such a paper is THE SUN.

PENNSYLVANIA COAL TRADE—Consumers Advised to Purchase Now—Bottom Prices Probably Reached.—The Philadelphia Ledger of yesterday publishes the following article on the Pennsylvania coal trade, from which it will be seen consumers are advised to make their purchases of coal now, on the supposition that bottom prices have been reached:

"Notwithstanding the very large auction sales announced, it is a fact that the coal tonnage is slacking up a little. The Reading railroad carried for the week ending on the 14th instant only some 150,000 tons. The movement at Port Richmond, however, is nearly steady, the receipts and shipments amounting to about the same figures. Whether the receipts are falling off for the want of orders, or because of interruption by reason of the celebration of the Fourth, or because individual operators are stopping their mines, we cannot say. The last named cause is probably the main reason of the lessened supply. Operators cannot afford to sell coal at less than cost, as some of the carrying companies which are also coal producers are said to be doing, the latter so blending the two charges on coal and on transportation as to lighten the loss that would otherwise entail on production alone. But, whatever the cause of a lessening supply of coal now coming forward, one thing is patent to the commonest observer, namely, that coal is now at its lowest point; necessarily, there can be no better time to lay in the next winter's supply. The coal operators and coal companies do not follow the business with the view of all the time selling it at or below cost. There are occasions when the necessities of the situation make it temporarily bearable, but when such seasons come around they are made as short by producers as possible, and are usually followed by such an advance in prices as will recover back previous losses. Every man who buys his coal at present prices has a portion of the actual cost of supplying and housing it borne by the producer.—This is a kind of traffic that cannot last. Hence those who delay their purchases do it at the risk of not only paying the entire cost of their coal, but with the probable chance of an additional charge to make up the operator's previous losses. To carry on any of the legitimate business pursuits of life there must be a fair and equitable compensation all round. Coal, an article of prime necessity, is no exception to the rule. Prudent people, therefore, will see the wisdom of laying in their coal promptly.—All the contingencies of the season and of the trade, such as suspensions, combinations, strikes and accidents are on the side of higher prices as the year advances. The Reading Coal and Iron Company have not stopped any of their mines, but a number of individual operators in the Schuylkill region have stopped theirs, and we are informed that the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company have temporarily stopped their Wilkesbarre mines; it is also stated that the Susquehanna Coal Company have adopted a similar course of action."

CATHOLIC COLONISTS FOR NORTH CAROLINA.—Mr. T. F. Hannon, of Philadelphia, as the agent of the Catholic Colonization Society, has purchased 30,000 acres of land in Transylvania and Henderson counties, North Carolina, to be settled by emigrants. He states that he has made arrangements for the removal to these lands of sixty-five families of people, who expect to come to them about the 1st of September, settle on them and there make their homes. These families are from eight different States of the Union, including Maine in the East and Wisconsin in the Northwest, and locating there they will turn their attention to farming, stock raising, &c.
