

P. R. O. Colonial Papers. false scandalous mutinous and seditious english words following, of and concerning the said Lord Prop<sup>ry</sup> did say, speak, utter publish and rehearse (to is to say) that you (you the said Josias Fendall meaning) did beleive in your conscience the Paptists and Indians joyned together and that his Lordship the Lord Prop<sup>ry</sup> nor the Chancelor would beleive any thing as the Indians did do but that my Lord (the said Lord Prop<sup>ry</sup> meaning) and they (meaning the said Indians) together had a mind to destroy all the Protestants and that you the said Josias the 10th day of Aprill in the year of our Lord 1681. aforesaid at Pickajawaxen aforesaid in Charles County aforesaid of your own further malice being instigated as aforesaid did practice and attempt with one John Dent of S<sup>t</sup> Maries County Gent: with force and armes to attempt the securing making sure and imprisonment of the persons of the said Lord Prop<sup>ry</sup> and severall of his hon<sup>ble</sup> Councill (that is to say) the hon<sup>ble</sup> Philip Calvert Esq<sup>re</sup> Chancelor of this Province William Calvert Esq<sup>re</sup> principal secretary of this Province and Coll: Darnall to the great contempt scandall and derogation of the person and honour of the said Lord Prop<sup>ry</sup> and to the subversion of the Government and state of this Province against the form of the Act of Assembly in this case made and provided

What sayst thou? art thou guilty of these false, scandalous mutinous seditious speches practices and attempts whereof thou standst indicted or not guilty?

Fendall—Not guilty

Ct—How wilt thou be tryed?

Fendall—By my Country

Cler.—God send thee a good Deliverance.

Chancelor<sup>t</sup>—It is only matter of form Cap<sup>t</sup> Fendall, you had as good say, by God and your Country.

Fendall—Then, by God and my Country.

Chanc—Give the Clark leave so to enter it

Fendall—Yes he may

Clerk.—Cryer make Proclamation

Cryer.—You good men that be empanelled to enquire between the R<sup>t</sup> hon<sup>ble</sup> the Lord Prop<sup>ry</sup> and the Prisoner at the Barr answer to your names, everyman at the first call upon pain and perill that shall fall thereon.

Clerk.—Call the Jury.

Cryer.—Cap<sup>t</sup> Peter Sayer, Philip Lynes, Anthony Dawson John Richardson, William Hill, John Hungerford John Salisbury John Evans, James Peterkin William Stevens and William Mishen.

Clerk.—These good men that were last called and have appeared are those that shall pass between the R<sup>t</sup> hon<sup>ble</sup> the Lord Prop<sup>ry</sup> and you—If therefore you will challenge them or