No. 31.

[Council to Dugan.]

To Mr. Cumberland Dugan

Sir.

Inclosed you have an order for one hundred Barrels of Flour now in possession of Mess^{rs} Lux and Bowley, which we have already paid them for, and was to have gone by the Pilot Boat Chatam. You will be pleased to fill up the vessell with some of the superfine flour most likely to keep and answer the market, and where flour cannot be stowed away, then kegs of bread—and if there be not flour sufficient that is good and likely to keep then put on board bread to make up the cargoe, no time is to be lost, that this vessel may be got away with all imaginable speed.

[Council to Dugan.]

To Mr. Cumberland Dugan

Sir. Since writeing the inclosed letter we have some expectation of loading another vessel of about 650 Barrels and should be glad to know when the bread will be baked, we shall probably want it next week, as also all the flour the Three Sisters cannot take.
