

England he feared that after his departure he should be forgotten by the English, and therefore prayed some care to be taken of him now which may stand him instead in his Lordships absence. Lib. R. R.
p. 72

And upon Serious consideration had of the whole matter Ordered by the Councell his L^{opp} being present, that since it was agreed betweene his said L^{opp} and the said King and the other Kings that neither he nor any Other should entertaine any Indians that should at any time come from Virginia, The said Pamunckye Indian prisoner shall be delivered up to the Virginians, as a person violently suspected to have had his hand in blood on that side potomack River and the Other three Indian prisonners be likewise delivered up to the Govern^t of Virginia, by them to be examined and that the said Govern^t be given to understand that wee doe not deliver up those Indians (amongst which the King of Youcomacko is One) as persons that have had their hand in blood or any-ways deserve death, but to lett them see wee will not give the least encouragement to any Indians to come over into Our Government, by that meanes to take away all cause of Suspition that wee endeavor to conceale any thing that may turne either to their good or Our owne disquiet.

And as Wee have no reason to Suspect the King of Youcomako or his ffather or the Pascattoway Indian so this Govern^t shall desire the Government of Virginia to returne us the said King of Yoacomoco and his ffather and the Pascattoway Indian after they have examined them

And forasmuch as the Govern^t is very sensible of the danger the said King is in and the advantage in point of Security his preservation will be to us in Maryland It was further Ordered that twenty men well maintained at the charge of the province under the Comānd of Cap^t Henry Aspinall and (if the said King can find a house within the ffort,) to remaine in the ffort, otherwise to remaine at Cap^t Henry Aspinalls ready to assist the said King upon all Occasions, according to such Orders & directions as shall from time to time be sent to the said Aspinall from his Lordshipp or his Governour and Councell for the time being.

And hereupon as a marke of his L^{opps} Kindnesse and a pledge of ffreindshipp his said L^{opp} gave unto the King of Mattawoman a medall with the effigies of the R^t Hon^{ble} Cecilius his L^{opps} ffather lately deceased on the one side and the Mapp of Maryland on the other side with a blacke and yellow Ribbon.

Ordered likewise that Collonel Jesse Wharton deliver p. 73 twenty armes and amūnition convenient to such twenty men as shall be raised for the assistance of the said King of Mattawoman.
