Sir. Captain Teams informs us you have a large quantity of coarse woollens fit for Soldiers. If so and it is not too high priced, as we have bought such from ten to fifteen, we will take it of you. Should the price and quality be as above described you will let Capt. Teams have enough for his company and send us some samples for the rest. We are, &c.

[Council to Hollingsworth.]

In Council of Safety Jan^y 5th 1777.

Sir. M^r Steward is of opinion that the Cable made by Messrs. Lux and Bowley for one of our Gallies is much too large for Captain Hammond's Vessel and that the Brig's stream Cable would suit the Jenifer better; should this be the case, apply to the Honourable Board of War and if it is of the same opinion, we shall be obliged by the exchange as the Galley in M^r Steward's yard is nigh ready. We are &c.
To Mr. Jesse Holingsworth.
