

compleat full riged, and is as fine a ship as ever I saw. I have sent down George Dafney express to now if I may take her for you. I think her a bargain if any ship of her size is a bargain. Pleas let me now by M^r Dafney and as soon as possible.

The Honorable Council of Safety at Anopolis

from your humble Servant.
Jesse Hollingsworth.

[Frederick Deams to Council.]

Honerable Gendlemen. Baltimore Town Jan^y 10th 1777.

With these few lines I let you know that I could not buy any cloth from M^r Igelberger, for he asked me 18/ shillings p^r yard. I bought some in another store for 17/6, and it was allowed by several store keepers that that cloth for 17/6 was 5 shillings better as that for 18/. Now Gentlemen I would know of you if I shall send the bill of cost to you or give it to M^r Chace. I would know if you would allow my men lether britches, for they are agreed to pay the ballance of the britches out of their wages, if you are agreed, and I let you know that the first Leftennent, as you desired me to let you know, he is a wool card maker, my Leftennent Stelz is since I left you come to me again, and is well, and is will to go with me again. I would be obliged to you if you would send me the Peoples shirts and shoes, and send me stead of one shirt and one pair of shoes, two pair, for I am ready to march at every minute I have not any blankets yet, but M^r Chase promised me to give me an order for them this day.

Your humble Servant.

Frederick Deams.
