marks Pheypo aged 58 yeares or thereabouts sworne & examined 22th of Septemb^r 1658 Sayth That about Two yeares agoe hee being att Rob^t Smiths howse, John Bisco being allso there amongst other company, he heard the s^d Bisco demand of Nicholas Keytin (who was allso there) why he killed his hogge, & logged it up? Of whom the s^d Keytin demanded, If hee could proue any such matter? The s^d Bisco replied againe, hee would proue it & further Sayth not

Jurat Cora^r Will^m Bretton

Will^m Osberstone deposed in open Court sayth, That hee was p^ent in the howse att the same time, & Of the Company there, some were merry drinking & dancing & on a sodaine there was naming of hoggs & loggs. But remembers not th^t he heard Bisco say, That Keytin killed his hog, But he heard Keytin call Bisco Theife, ffor th^t hee had stollen his the sayd Keytins potthangers, as he alleaged then.

Rose Smith deposeth the same.

The Court find noe cause of accōn, & therfore a Nonsuite is graunted agst the pff, on behalfe of the dēft, wth Court charges.

The pff by Petⁿ complayneth agst the dēft, for that the dēft (the pff being from home) carryed away the pffs yowng Bull in company of oth^r being from home) carryed away the pffs yowng Bull in company of oth^r cattle, whereby he susteyned much losse & dammage, both in his breed, & milke.

Gyther v.
Osberston

M^r John Metcalfe sayth uppon Oath th^t the dēft comming to the pffs howse, in company wth other Cattle, carryed away the pffs yowng Bull, w^{ch} Bull was neuer brought home to this day.

The dēft alleageth th^t carrying away certaine cattle, The Bull runne after them, Neyther could he force him back.

The Court see noe Cause of accōn, & therefore a Nonsuite is Graunted in the s^d suite agst the pff on the behalfe of the Dēft wth Court charges.
