

out earely in the morning to Chorne. That when shee had Chorned shee came into the Chamber againe, att what time shee the s^d Clocker gaue the Childs fowle Linnen to this Exam^d who opening the Trunk to lay up the s^d fowle Linnen, missed some of the Linnen, that was there the night before by the Bulk. But did not then Examine the p^rticulars. A little while after this Exam^d enquiryed for the s^d Clockers Daughter, who replyed shee was gone home wth hers the s^d Clockers fowle Linnen. That on the Saturday night before shee the s^d Clocker went to her owne howse wth the Child, this Exam^d tooke her the s^d Clocker powring of powder out of a Bottle in M^{rs} Ouerzees Closett, & uppon the Sunday morning tooke her rowling a peice of Pould auies about her under her Cloathes next to her smock, w^{ch} shee the s^d Clocker carryed away wth her. That this Exam^d tould Clocker th^t these things could not be used here but they would be knowne, & th^t Clocker answered Hang him (as shee conceaues M^r Ouerzee) rather then euer hee shall haue them, I will burne them, & further sayd shee would bury them in a Case in the Grownd. That the Salt was deliuered to Courtney by her hauing the Key of the Dairy in her Ordinary Keeping

Liber
P. C. R.

p. 168

Philip Caluert
Richard Willan.

Mary Williams the Wife of John Williams desyres to declare her mind in writing this first of Nouemb^r 1658.

Sayth th^t the goods th^t Mary Clocker carryed away of M^r Ouersees was taken wth the s^d Mary Clocker. Shee often urging Mary Williams to deliuer them to her. And th^t Mary Williams could not be in quiett for fowre or fiue dayes for her: but was still urging her to itt Saying hang him, If we doe not doe it wee shall neuer haue any thing for our paynes. & I Mary Williams made answere how can I doe it? I haue not the Keyes. And Mary Clocker replyed you are to make a pudding goe fetch the Keyes of M^r Chandler to take Spices, and then you may doe itt, & th^t there had nothing bene medled wth but by Mary Clockers often urging & p^esuation

Teste This Paper was deliuered by Mary 3 Williams
Philip Land. Mary Williams to Vs
Philip Caluert Rich: Willan

The further Examinaōn of Mary Williams taken uppon the Second day of Nouemb^r by Philip Caluert Esq^r & Rich: Willan Gentⁿ Two of his L^{ps} Justices &c:

This Exam^d Sayth th^t as to a new Blankett th^t is missing shee knoweth not what is become of itt, But th^t shee often heard Mary Clocker wish shee had such a Blankett, Saying there were enough about the howse, & doth uerily beleieue shee hath it. Being demanded whither shee knew an Apron of holland taken att Mary Clockers, shee sayth th^t shee doth know the Apron hauing bownd it wth tape